How to use this book

Welcome to grade 8 English!

Hello and welcome to English Grade 8! We hope you have a fantastic year and have as much fun teaching the materials as we did writing it!

The idea of the book

This book is designed to be fun! Students learn better when they are having fun, and teachers teach better too! The idea isn't to have students copying things off the board and being bored (and getting naughty!), it is about students using the language to play games, solve puzzles, express themselves, communicate and have fun!

What do students learn?

This book is designed to be the main text book for Grade 8 Cambodian students. By the end of the book, students will be well on their way to being A2 level English learners! Students learn the four skills, grammar and 21st century skills. There is more speaking and listening than reading and writing.

Skills – Listening, Speaking, Reading and Writing

This book is all about students always doing and always being interested! The readings and listenings are a great mix of engaging, interesting and funny storylines. The speaking and writing encourages students to use their fantastic imaginations! You will probably notice there is very little grammar in this book the way you learnt it as a kid (Hurray!). That's because kids at this age learn grammar much better by actually using it! By listening to it, reading it, writing it and speaking it.

There are lots of great listenings with actors from all around the world so students get to hear lots of different accents and be able to talk from people from all around the ASEAN community and the world! If you don't have the recordings yet, just go to the Ministry of Education Youth and Sport and download them for free!

Grammar

This book does teach grammar, but don't worry! It's not boring! Teachers don't talk forever and students don't copy off the board! As I'm sure you remember from your school days, young learners find grammar and copying boring, and if they are bored they won't learn. There is almost never a point in explaining grammar to children in the same way you would an adult. Don't worry! They will still learn grammar! But they will be able to read it, listen to it, write it and say it!

More than just English – 21st century skills

We don't know what skills and knowledge people are going to need in the jobs of the future, so teachers today need to be helping kids to be independent learners, great communicators, creative, flexible, and ready for anything life throws at them.

As teachers we have to help students to learn to think, cooperate, communicate and work well, fairly and supportively with their fellow students. This book is designed to encourage a classroom environment to support this where students feel well supported in making mistakes and playing with the language. Students learn group work, how to be supportive of other students, and how to think for themselves and be creative.

They also start to look at the world beyond Cambodia's borders and explore how different countries and culture live. This way, students learn and appreciate different cultures (and hear different accents!).

The idea of teachers teaching knowledge is dying. Teachers teach students to think and learn!

So, how do students learn all this?

This book has been written with the latest research about how kids learn in mind. This book is all about students always doing and always being interested and enjoying themselves, but that doesn't mean they are screaming round the classroom all lesson!

Stirrers and settlers

Any good young learner's teacher knows about this golden rule of teaching! The idea is that a lesson will switch from stirrer to settler to stirrer to settler throughout the lesson. "Stirrers" get the kids excited and "settlers" calm them down. This way, kids can concentrate and learn and behave!

/moeyscambodia /krou.moeys.gov.kh http://oer.moeys.gov.kh #OERCambodia

That's why our lessons are written as a good balance of both. If you look at a lesson plan in the book, you'll see that the activities change from exciting activities that wake the students up, to quiet activities that calm the students down and then back to an exciting activity again.

Learning in context

Students learn new grammar and words as well as the 4 skills through games, stories, songs, tongue twisters and being interested! The book has been written with 13 year olds in mind using themes and contexts that they will find funny, sad, interesting, and fun! Our aim is that students will be interested in the context of every lesson.

You will notice that new words and grammar are hardly ever explained. That's because young learners are really good at learning new grammar and words just by seeing them in context. Long explanations and talking about nouns and adjectives only make students bored, they don't make them learn, so instead we just skip them and try to keep students having fun and interested, and engaged with the language!

Through creativity

Often there is no "correct" answer to some questions and many different grammatical forms are possible. By not giving a "correct answer" and by focusing on effective modeling, students are encouraged to explore the language and play with it as they go.

Why the book is great for teachers too!

Easy to use lesson plans

We have written 'grab and go' lesson plans so all you need to do is to read them before class and think about the reason for each stage – no other preparation needed! We have even written the answers in and provided tapescripts just in case! And, everything is in English so you can remember to be all in English as well! But just because everything is done for you, don't think that you can't try out your own games and activities. We hope this book helps you get the confidence to play around with your own ideas as well! As long as they're fun and in English, your students will love them!

Reflection

We have written some things to help you reflect on your teaching at the end of each lesson and help you get better and better every day – just like your students!

Glossary

Teaching English Dictionary: Words, ideas and fabulous teaching tips!

Ask and answer questions as a class: This is when students find out if they were right or wrong. Students need to know they have understood correctly. There's lots of different ways of doing this. If you have a busy lesson, it's often enough to just yell out the question, and have students yell back the answer. Another way is to ask students to answer one by one. Be careful! Some teachers only ask "good students". This makes other students wonder why you didn't ask them. They might think things like "Does the teacher think I'm stupid?" Another thing to watch out for is some teachers waste a lot of time copying the answers on the board and then allowing students 5-10 minutes to copy the correct answers in their notebooks. Students aren't really learning while they are doing this, and this is valuable time that could be used to actually practise the language, which students will learn a lot more from!
Boarding useful target language: This is great for reminding students of the structure/ pronunciation they should be using.
e.g. Just say students are talking about what their friends like, but are forgetting the 's' sound. Why not write "She likes …" in a speech bubble on the board? That way you are not interrupting students, but you're reminding them of the grammar without using grammatical terms.
Brainstorming: This is a great habit to try and get your students into and will help them in university and beyond! Students brainstorm before they write (and sometimes speak depending on the activity). There's lots of ways to try and do this. You can have students draw, talk, draw pictures or even close their eyes and listen to music!
e.g. You want students to write about their best friend, but worried that students will say that they don't have any ideas. You could have students draw a picture of their best friend and write as many adjectives as they can in a few minutes. This helps students to get ideas without worrying about sentence structure or being neat.
Copying from the board: This has been very popular in Cambodian classrooms for a long time. The problem with English class is though, that it only goes for 50 minutes! A rule of no more than 3- 5 minutes copying a lesson is probably a good idea!
Class discussion: This is when you talk about a subject as a class. These can be useful, but make sure that you are not talking too much and students know to listen and be respectful about other people's opinions!
Concept checking questions: These are questions you can use instead of "Do you understand?" Students don't want to look dumb in front of their friends so they always say "yes"! Concept checking questions are usually about vocabulary or grammar. They can be very easy!

e.g. You have just taught the words “pen” and “pencil”. Point to a pen and ask “Is this a pencil?”
Connected speech: Native English speakers don’t say one word at a time. They say things quickly and all together and they don’t say some words clearly.
e.g. Native speakers won’t say: Where. Are. You. From? /weər/ɑ:r/ju:/frɒm/. They’ll probably say Wheraya from? /weərə/jə/frɒm/.
Make sure students listen to and practise the way words are said naturally.
Controlled practise: This is when students answer grammar questions when there is really only one right answer. These exercises are supposed to be quick and are just so that students check that they understand a grammar rule.
Encourage: Tell students what they are doing well a lot! It’s much easier to encourage good behavior than to punish “bad” behavior. Kids need a lot of this, even (or sometimes particularly) ‘naughty kids’! The best English classrooms are fun and supportive!
End sounds (terminal consonant sounds): In Khmer, we don’t really make the last sound of a word, but in English it’s really important! Remembering to make the last sound in English can be really hard for students! Words ending in ‘s’ or ‘ed’ are extra hard because the noises change! Helping students make the end sound means that people will be able to understand them a lot better, especially native speakers!

English only classroom: An English only (or almost English only!) classroom is the best way for anyone to learn English! Let’s look at some of the reasons why.

- If students don’t speak English, they won’t learn English. If everything is in English, students spend more time practicing English!
- The more practise students have, the more confident and comfortable with English they’ll be!
- Students will learn meaningful English. e.g. “May I go to the bathroom?” “What do you think?”
- If students are switching from Khmer to English, they are probably using Khmer grammar and pronunciation which is very different to English grammar and pronunciation. Students can form bad habits this way.
- If students are speaking in Khmer, they aren’t thinking in English.
- The more students speak in English, the more students are thinking in English. When students are able to think in English, they learn so much faster!

But if you want to make your kids speak only in English, you have to do it, too! In an A1 classroom you’re going to have to use a lot of body language, but you can do it!
Give yourself a daily challenge. See how much of your lesson (from you and your students) can be in English!
Error correction: Telling kids when they’re wrong is tricky and much less useful than when you tell an adult they are wrong. You have to make sure kids still feel great about taking risks and making mistakes. It’s better to look for correct usage and then tell the class how good it is (and the student who did it obviously!) There is no point being fussy and jumping on every little mistake!

e.g. You have been talking about what students’ friends like and you have noticed that some students are forgetting the ‘s’. You hear that one student is remembering the ‘s’.

Teacher: OK let’s come back together. Tevy, what does your friend like?
Tevy: She like icecream.
Teacher: Great. Bopha, what does your friend like?
Bopha: He likes cats.
Teacher: Great! I like that! Can everyone hear the “s” in likes? Say it again, Bopha.
Bopha: He likes cats.
Teacher: Let’s all try saying it like Bopha.
Class: He likes cats.

You haven’t told Tevy she’s wrong. She’s been brave, spoken in front of the class and used the language in a way everyone can understand. It’s not the end of the world that her pronunciation is wrong.

Follow up questions: These are great! If you have 2 students in a question/answer session, making students ask follow up questions means that they have to listen to their partner speak and that they are using English in a natural way.
Free practise: We usually use this word when we’re talking about grammar. This is when students get to try out and play around with the language in a way that is meaningful to them. We don’t worry too much about students using “perfect” grammar. This is really when students gain confidence and fluency. This is the main point of lesson. If students don’t practise it, there is no point in teaching it! There is zero reason to teach new words and grammar if students don’t get to use them in meaningful ways. Often this is speaking and writing where students use the grammar in a natural way through role plays, creative writing and personalisation.
e.g. You have been studying the present simple. Students have seen the grammar in context in a listening, and looked at the rules. They then talk about their daily routine.
Getting kids to move around: Some classes in Cambodia are very crowded and it would take too long to get everyone in and out of their seats. Because of this, we mostly we have kids sitting down in our lesson plans. If you have enough room, don’t be shy to get kids up and jumping up and down!
Give a time limit: Students need to know how long they have to do things. It helps them understand what you want (making notes, or detailed writing). It also means students are more likely to stay on task (do what you tell them to)! If students don’t have time limits, they might feel like you’re being unfair when you tell them time’s up, or if they have too much time, they will start doing other things.
Grammar: Grammar means the set of rules about how a language works. All language learners need to become familiar with grammatical rules to be understood. But adult learners and young learners are different. Adults often find it useful to break things down into nouns, adjectives, clauses and phrases, but spending lessons copying out the rules of the present perfect doesn’t benefit younger students! They find it too hard to connect the grammar with the language and get bored and naughty. Younger learners learn grammar in context through reading, listening writing and speaking – in other words practicing the structure.

Grammar is another reason to enforce an English only classroom rule. Khmer grammar and English grammar are very very very different! Students find it hard to switch between to 2, and can form bad habits this way which can be very hard to break later.

Homework: Do you remember homework as a kid? Did you love it? Hate it? What did you miss out on doing because you were doing homework? How much homework do you think kids have from all their other subjects? What do you think would happen if you didn't give homework for a week?
A lot of people give homework because – well just because! If all a student's teachers give homework, they can end up with a lot! People think that if students have lots of homework they'll do better, but there is very little real evidence for this. Let's think about a grammar worksheet. Students who already understand the grammar are wasting their time, and students who don't understand will feel sad that they can't do it at school or at home!
In fact, having lots of homework can be very bad for kids! Let's look at some of the reasons.
Students have less time to spend with family and friends.

- Students will have no time to do what they want.
- It can make students feel like they don't like learning.
- It can make students tired in class the next day so they can't learn very well.
- It can cause fights at home – especially with weak students.

Can you think of any others?
If homework is given, it should help students to think and engage. It should be given only when it's important, not just because – well just because!
Instruction Checking Questions – These are great! They help you to see if students understand what you want them to do and they can help you speak Khmer less in class. It's easy! You tell students to do something and then ask questions about what you want students to do, and how you want them to do it. So, your instruction checking questions might look a bit like this:

Teacher: Close your books, and talk with your partner about the questions on the board. Books open or closed?
Class: Closed!
Teacher: Talking or writing?
Class: Talking!
Teacher: Where are the questions?
Class: On the board!

Can you see the instruction checking questions? They are Books open or closed? Talking or writing? and Where are the questions?
You can also use instruction checking questions to make sure students remember to behave well. So, your behavior instruction checking questions might look a bit like this:

Teacher: I want you to talk to your partner about their weekend. I want you to listen. How can we be good listeners? Do we play with our things or look at our partner?
Class: Look at your partner!
Teacher: And what can you ask after?
Class: Extra questions!

Look at the lesson plans. We have written in where you can ask your own instruction checking questions.
Lead in: This should be quick! This is so that students can start thinking about the content or the themes of the lesson. For instance, if the lesson is about a day at the zoo, you might like to ask students to talk to their friends about animals they expect to see at a zoo.
Listening for the big idea: This is also called the gist listening or listening for the main idea. This is the first listening. Students only need to understand the basic idea of the listening. They don't need to hear every word. Just mainly understand what the purpose of the listening is.
Live listening: A live listening is where you don't use the recording and you use people in the room to do the voices! You can read the listening yourself, or you can get students to read. You can have different students be different characters. This can be great homework for kids!
Model: This is when you show students what you want them to do. You might model a grammar question, a word, a piece of writing – almost anything! For example, if you are doing writing, it is useful for students to see a similar piece to what you want them to write. This doesn't mean that students copy, it means that they have an idea of what you want from them.
Note taking: In this book, note taking is a type of brainstorming. See brainstorming.
Peer correction: This is when students correct each other's work. Let's face it, you don't have time to correct everybody's work! Especially in the middle of class when there are 50 kids in the classroom! But why do we correct anyway? It's so kids think about correct grammar/spelling/structure (whatever!). If students correct each other's work, they are thinking about these things.
Personalisation – The more meaningful, the more memorable. If students can relate a lesson to their own experience of the word, and it means something to them personally, it is much easier for them to understand it. You will often see this as a post task, but could be a lead in as well.
Post task: This is done after the free practise. The idea of a post task is usually that students personalise the lesson and make it meaningful to them in some way. For example, if the reading is about a girl in Russia talking about her grandmother, a post task might be students talking about their own grandmothers.
Pre-teach: This is when you teach a word or idea before a listening or a reading so that students can understand a reading or listening better. This is my best teaching tip about pre-teaching words – Students don't have to understand all the words! Kids are really good at guessing what words mean as well (much better than us old teachers!). Young learners can understand a new word by looking at the words around it and guessing.
Put students in groups: Good grouping can make or break a lesson! I like to vary my groups so students are working with someone new every lesson. This means that students end up feeling safe in front of everyone. I also like grouping students together randomly! If you group students according to their skill level, it's the same as telling some students you think they are bad at English.

Reflection: Reflection means looking back on your lesson so you can think about what went well, and what you can do better next time! Reflecting doesn't mean you're a bad teacher. In fact, teachers who think they are already perfect and don't think they need to improve are probably bad and boring teachers! Reflections help you become a better, more confident, happier teacher. They also help your critical thinking skills and creativity, so it's not just students who get to have fun learning!

Roleplay: Role plays are when students pretend to be someone they are not and then talk to their partner or group. For example, one student pretends to be a parent, and the other student pretends to be the kid. Role plays can be really funny, and they're great because students feel safe to say whatever they like without worrying if their friends think they are cool!

Student-centred classroom: This is what we are aiming for! New ideas about learning language say that students learn by doing. In a student centred classroom, the teacher talks as little as possible and lets the students spend most of the lesson practicing English. This is much better than the teacher talking about grammar for hours on end, and much more interesting for the students and the teacher!

Students listen for the Answers – This is also known as "listening for detail". Students will have already listened once and know basic information about the listening like where it is, who is talking and why. When students listen for the answers, we want them to practise picking out specific information. Usually, students won't be able to do this on the first listening.

Stirrers and settlers: "Stirrers" get the kids excited and "settlers" calm them down. Any good young learner's teacher knows about this golden rule of teaching! The idea is that a lesson will switch from stirrer to settler to stirrer to settler throughout the lesson. This way, kids can concentrate and learn! You should try to never have an activity that goes for more than 15 minutes – and that goes for stirrers or settlers. If a settler goes on for too long, students get bored, off task and find other ways to entertain themselves (like being naughty or annoying fellow students). If stirrers go on for too long, kids get over stimulated, silly and off task (like being naughty or annoying fellow students!).

That's why our lessons are written as a good balance of both! If you look at a lesson plan in the book, you'll see that the activities change from exciting activities that wake the students up, to quiet activities that calm the students down and then back to an exciting activity again. Have a look at one of the lesson plans. Can you spot the stirrers and settlers?

Students guess: This is when students look at clues and try and guess what a listening, reading or lesson is about. It's quick, but this is a really important stage of the lesson! It helps students recall useful words, and things that they already know about the subject as well as let them think about what they guess they are going to hear.

e.g. Students will listen to a student talking about a scary experience. The teacher draws 3 things from the story on the board and students need to try and guess what the story is.

TTT – This stands for teacher talking time. It means the amount of time that you talk at the front of the class. An example of good teacher talking time is asking quick effective questions (but there are lots of different types!). Bad teacher talking time is repeating in Khmer or going into too much detail with explanations. Remember the golden rule! 80% of the lesson – students do, 20% of the lesson - teacher does!

Warmer: This can be a quick game or fun activity to get students to start thinking in English. It may or may not link to the last lesson or today's work. The main things that you need for a successful warmer is that they be fun and in English! Warmers are great, because they get kids ready and focused for the lesson and give kids a great and fun reason to turn up on time (but also give a chance for late students to arrive).

Word stress: In English and Khmer, we say some syllables louder than others. Think about these words in Khmer. They all have 2 syllables. Which sound is louder?

chgoot - ឆ្កួត s'dup - ស្តាប់ chveng - ឆ្វេង sadam - ស្តាំ cyclo - ស៊ីក្លូ

Now think about these words in English. They all have 2 syllables. Where is the stress?

silly partner English bathroom cyclo

Did you guess? In the Khmer words, the stress is on the second syllable. In the English words, the stress is on the first syllable. The stress isn't always on the first syllable in English, but students stressing the wrong part of the word is a common problem for Khmer learners of English.

Review A: Welcome to Grade 8!

This lesson uses recordings which can be downloaded from the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sport website. (50 mins)

(7 mins): Warmer. Play 'Say it differently'

1. Review the colours - Purple, Red, Yellow, Green, Orange, Pink, Blue.
2. Pre-teach the words loud, quiet and whisper.
3. Introduce hand signs to match the words (e.g. loud – cup hands around mouth, quiet – place finger against lips, whisper – put hands behind ears).
4. Use body language to signal whether students should say the colours loudly, quietly, or by whispering.

1 (5 mins): Activity 1. Get to know your students

1. Introduce yourself quickly to your students (e.g. say your name and any other information about you that you might want to share. Be quick!)
2. Write these words on the board: funny, scary, weird.
3. Ask students to remember what these words are. Do not translate. Help students remember by giving examples (e.g. I have a monster friend, I never eat rice). Then ask students if they think this is funny, scary or weird.
4. Ask students to look at the pictures in activity 1. Tell them to guess what the pictures are of.

2 (5 mins): Activity 2. Personalisation

1. Tell students to think of a sentence to describe themselves using one of the words on the board.
2. Tell them to draw a picture for this in their notebooks. Their pictures don't have to be perfect!
3. Ask instruction checking questions and give a time limit of 4 minutes.

(7 mins): Speaking: Play Sentence relay

1. Say a sentence about your picture (e.g. I have a monster friend.).
2. Have another student say your sentence and add his/her sentence (e.g. Teaher has a monster friend. I hate colours.)
3. Call another student to say both sentences and add his/her own sentence.
4. Tell students they are going to play the same game in their groups.
5. Tell them they must not write. They have to remember the sentences without writing.
6. Put students into groups of 5/6.
7. Put them in a circle.
8. Students take it in turns to say a sentence, one sentence building from the other, until the last student has said everybody's sentence.

3 (7 mins): Activity 3. Vocabulary review

1. Write a word on the board. Use words students already know (e.g. Phnom Penh, homework, teacher, friends, Cambodia, goodbye).
2. Tell students that some words can be made from the letters in the word Phnom Penh (e.g. pen, hen, home, none, men, no)
3. Write pen on the board as an example. Ask students if they can make some more words.
4. Write the words on the board as students call them out.
5. Put students into pairs.
6. Tell students that you are going to play the same game.
7. Tell students to write the words in their notebooks.
8. Give a time limit of 6 minutes.
9. Write the words students make on the board. Give points for each correct word.

Some examples:
homework – he, me, we, home, work, room, hook, more teacher – tea, he, cheat, reach, ear, her, cat, chat, rat, hat, heat, teach, tree

5 T.0.1.1 Sing a song!

Red and yellow and pink and green
Purple and orange and blue
I can sing a rainbow, sing a rainbow,
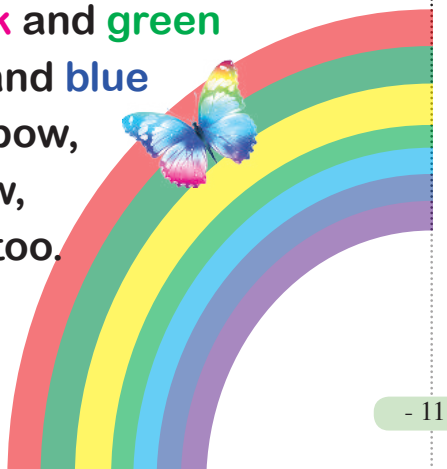
sing a rainbow too.



4 (2 mins): Activity 4. Review the names of the colours

1. Tell students to cover the words and see if they remember what colours the fruits are.
2. Tell students to test their partner.

(8 mins): Game! Magic Finger - Colour Race

1. Tell all students to stand up.
2. Tell students they have a magic finger
3. Show them your magic finger.
4. Ask students to hold up their magic fingers.
5. Tell students that you will say a colour and they will need to touch something that is that colour with their magic finger.

RULES:

If you touch the wrong colour, you are out. If you are the last one to touch a colour, you are out.

6. Say a colour (e.g. Green!) Students touch something that is green with their "magic finger" (e.g. a bag or a pen or a lunch box).
7. Tell students that are touching the wrong colour to sit down.
8. Tell the last person to sit down.
9. Repeat until there is a winner. Everyone clap!

5 (7 mins): Activity 5. Song! (T.0.1.1)

1. Write the words of the song on the board.
2. Tell the students that they are going to learn the song. Tell the students to listen and join in when they know the words.

TAPESCRIPT 0.1.1

5. Have students sing the song again.
6. Erase words until all the words are gone.
7. Who can remember the whole song without the words?

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask some questions from today's lesson. (e.g. What's your name? How old are you?).
2. Listen to students' answers. Are students confident? Are all students, or only students who already knew today's lesson? Who might need extra support/encouragement?

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Welcome to grade 8! How did you feel about your first lesson? Did everything go according to plan? If not, don't worry! You have plenty of time to sort things out!
2. What are your learning goals this year for yourself and your students? Make a list! It doesn't have to be long! Refer to your list throughout the year and see how much progress you're making!
3. Your own question(s). _____?

Review B: What do you remember?

This lesson uses recordings which can be downloaded from the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sport website. (50 mins)

(3 mins): Warmer. Sing the rainbow song (T.0.1.1)

1. Play the rainbow song. Encourage students to sing along.
2. Who can sing the song without looking at the words?

1 (7 mins): Activity 1. Writing

1. Tell students to look at the pictures. Can they remember who they are?
2. Tell students to work in pairs.
3. Tell students that some of the sentences about them are wrong and some are correct. Students should remember which ones are correct.
4. Tell them to correct the wrong sentences in their notebooks. Do number 1 together as a class.
5. Ask instruction checking questions (e.g. Are you writing in your notebook or book?)
6. Give a time limit of 5 minutes.
7. Students compare their answers. Give a time limit of 1 minute.
8. Check answers as a class.

Answers: 1. yes 2. yes 3. no 4. no 5. no

2 (5 mins): Activity 2. Reading and writing

1. Ask students which of the sentences are about Dara.
2. Tell students to read the sentences about Dara.
3. In each sentence, students look for the word with the extra letter. (e.g. shodwer -> shower)
4. Students write the extra letters they find in the boxes below the pictures (e.g. D)
5. Check they understand, and give a time limit of 4 minutes.
6. If they get all the correct letters, they should make the sentence 'Dara is my name.'

TIP: For students who need additional support, have them work in pairs.

3 Look at the pictures of Sophal's favourite things. Do you know what they are?

T.0.1.2 Listen and check.

4 Match the questions with the appropriate answers.

What's your favourite?

3 (3 mins): Activity 3. Students guess

1. Tell students to look at the picture and cover the text.
2. Tell students that Sophal has done a picture of all his favourite things. Tell students to look at the things and try and guess what they are in their groups.
3. Ask instruction checking questions and give a time limit of 2 minutes.
4. Come together as a class, but don't tell students if they are right or wrong.

1. Tell students that they are going to listen and check their guesses.
2. Tell students to point to the pictures as they hear them.
3. Students listen.
4. Students compare.
5. Check answers as a class.

Answers: 1. Ice cream 2. Birds 3. Maths 4. Homework 5. Football 6. School

TAPESCRIPT 0.1.2

It's my favourite!

Sophal: Thank you!
Bopha: What are they?
Sophal: Guess!
Bopha: OK. Ice cream! Number one is ice cream.
Sophal: So what is the question?
Bopha: Oh! Is it ice cream?
Sophal: No!
Bopha: Ummm … Hmmmm … I know! What's your favourite food?
Sophal: Yes, that's right!
Bopha: Cool! Number two is … is it Avorng?
Sophal: Hmmmm
Bopha: It's a bird!
Sophal: Question.
Bopha: What's your favourite animal?
Sophal: Birds are my favourite animal!
Bopha: I know this one! You love maths! What's your favourite subject?
Sophal: Maths is my favourite subject!
Bopha: Hmmmm. Homework. I hate homework, but you love it! What's your favourite thing after school?
Sophal: Yes! Homework is my favourite.
Bopha: Football. I know you like to watch football. What's your favourite sport?
Sophal: Yes that's right! Football is my favourite. Number 6?
Bopha: It's our school! Ummm. Favourite place to sleep?
Sophal: No!
Bopha: I know! What's your favourite place?
Sophal: School's my favourite.

4 (5 mins): Activity 4. Students listen for the answers (T.0.1.2)

1. Tell students to work with a partner.
2. Tell students to try and remember what the answers and pictures are. Ask instruction checking questions. Give a 3 minute limit.
3. Students listen.
4. Students compare.
5. Ask for some answers as a class.

Answers: 1. a 2. f 3. e 4. b 5. d

(10 mins): Students draw

1. Tell students to draw a grid in their notebooks with 6 squares (just like Sophal's)
2. Tell students that they have 9 minutes to draw their own 6 favourite things
3. Ask instruction checking questions. (e.g. Drawing or writing?)

(10 mins): Speaking

1. Tell students to show their paper to their partner. Students have to try and GUESS the questions.
2. Tell students that when they have guessed all the answers, they can swap partners.
3. Ask instruction checking questions and give a time limit of 9 minutes.
4. Compare as a class (e.g. Put your hand up if your favourite is ice cream).

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask some of your brave students to share their favourite things in class.
2. You may share some of your favourite things as well!

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. A good classroom environment is one where students can express their opinions. This is your second lesson so far. How was it? How can you make this kind of environment? Think of some creative ideas to try in your next classes!
2. Are you good at remembering names? Making use of your students' names in class helps them feel they belong. Try to learn your students' names! It will help you sooner or later!
3. Your own question(s). _____?

Review C I can remember everything!

1 These words are all written together! Can you write the sentences with capital letters and full stops? Then guess who the person is?

- heis13yearsoldandheislazyheneverdoeshishomeworkandheisalways lateforclassbutheisfunny

2 Spot the Difference! The pictures 1 and 2 are not the same. They are different! Can you find the differences?

1. There is a cloth basket in picture 1. There isn't a cloth basket in picture 2.

Review C: I can remember everything!

(10 mins): Warmer. Play 'Active true or false'

1. Tell students that they will hear a sentence. Can they be the first to guess if they are true or false?

RULES:

- Students are not allowed to talk!
- If they think the answer is true, students clap their hands.
- If they think it is false, students stamp their feet.

2. Say a few sentences and students do the action and see who does the action correctly! (e.g. Teacher: There is a table in the classroom. Students: Clap Clap! Teacher: There is a Kangaroo in the classroom! Students: stamp stamp!).
3. Have some students "be the teacher" and ask questions of the class.

Option 2: Change the actions! Students could stand in line, and move to either left / right, if they think the sentence is true/false

1 (10 mins): Activity 1. Punctuation review

1. Write these sentences on the board: my name is mom, icanspeakenglish, what's your favourite food
2. Ask students if these sentences are correct. Ask what's wrong in each sentence.
3. Ask some students to correct the sentences on the board (e.g. My name is Mom. / I can speak English. / What's your favourite food?)
4. Tell students they are going to correct some sentences in their notebooks. Point to activity 1. Tell them to write answers in their notebooks.
5. Ask instruction checking questions and give a time limit of 5 minutes.
6. Check answers as a class.

2 (15 mins): Activity 2. Game! Spot the Difference (freer practise)

1. Put students into groups.
2. Tell them to choose a fast writer.
3. Tell students that they will have 8 minutes to write as many sentences as they can about the Spot the difference pictures.

RULES:

You get one point per sentence. The group with the most sentences at the end wins. BUT you lose a point if you forget the capital letter OR the full stop.

4. Ask Instruction checking questions. Give a time limit of 8 minutes. Write the time on the board.
5. When the time is up, clap your hands and say pens down!
6. Have students swap their list with the group next to them. The group has to check for full stops capital letters and if the sentences are true (✓) or false (×).
7. Find out who the winner is.

3 (8 mins): Activity 3. Review numbers

1. Point to activity 3.
2. Ask students to match the numbers with the words in their notebooks.
3. Ask instruction checking questions and give a time limit of 5 minutes.
4. Check answers as a class.

(5 mins): Game! Buzz!

1. This is a counting game. Students need to count up the numbers quickly.
2. In groups, students take turns counting up one number at a time, but for any multiple of 4 (x4), they say 'buzz' (e.g. 1, 2, 3, buzz ...). (Change to multiples of 3 (x3), 5 (X5).

RULES:

If you say the number when you should say buzz, you're out. If you take too long to say a number, you're out.

3. Ask instruction checking questions, and give a time limit of 5 minutes.

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask some students which part of the lesson they found most enjoyable today.
2. Praise students who came in early today. Encourage the others!

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Classroom routines help teachers and students a lot! They give students a good idea of what is expected of them, thus leaving little room for bad behaviour! It makes your life easier too, as students have more time to focus on their learning. Have you established clear routines in your classes yet? If not, now is the best time to start!
2. Your own question(s). _____?

Chapter 1, Unit 1, Lesson A

A new school year: A new classmate: Nice to meet you!

This lesson uses recordings which can be downloaded from the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sport website. (50 mins)

(7 mins): Warmer. Play Hangman!

1. Draw this on the board.

2. Tell the students you are thinking of a word. Draw the same number of lines as letters in the word you want them to guess (e.g. egg = ___ ___ ___) on the board.
3. Ask a few students to guess one letter at a time.
4. If students say a letter right, write it on the board.
5. If wrong letters are given, draw the hanging man one body part at a time (head, neck, arms, etc).
6. Game continues until the word is guessed (win!) or all the parts of the hangman are drawn (lose!)
7. Put students into groups of 4/5.
8. Students take it in turns to let other students guess the words they are thinking.
9. Monitor closely.

1 (5 mins): Activity 1. Students guess

1. Tell students to look at the pictures of the characters in activity 1.
2. Point to Pisey. Ask students what they think about her (e.g. She's pretty. She's got long hair. I think she likes ice-cream). There are no right or wrong answers. Listen to the students' opinions. Accept all of them. Ask some students why they think so.
3. Put students in pairs.
4. Ask them to talk about the characters and what they think of them.
5. Ask instruction checking questions (e.g. writing or speaking?) and give a time limit of 3 minutes.
6. Go through some of the students' ideas in class. Accept all answers.
7. Tell students that they are going to find out more about the characters and find out if they were right or wrong as you go along in the next lessons.

2 (5 mins): Activity 2. Students listen for the big idea (T.1.1.1)

1. Tell students that Lyvann, Vottey and Pisey are all in grade 8. They have got a new classmate.
2. Put students in pairs. Ask them to guess who the new classmate is. Tell them to find clues in the picture in activity 1.
3. Ask instruction checking questions (e.g. Are you working alone or in pairs?) and give a time limit of 2 minutes.
4. Check answers as class. Accept all answers, but do not say who is right / wrong.
5. Tell students to listen and check their guesses. Make sure you have students' attention before playing the recording.
6. Ask: Who guessed right?

TAPESCRIPT 1.1.1

3. Where are you from? I'm from Siem Reap.
4. Can you dance? Yes, I can.
5. Do you like shopping? Yes, I do!
6. Nice to meet you! Nice to meet you too!

(3 mins): Game! Lip Reading

1. Tell students to look at you.
2. Tell them you are going to say a word silently. They will guess the word by looking at the movements of your mouth.
3. Say some words / phrases from this unit (e.g. How old are you? I'm 14).
4. When a student has guessed the word correctly, ask him/her to be the teacher! He / She says a word / phrase from this unit silently and students have to guess the word by looking at the movement of his / her mouth.
5. Praise students for participating well in this activity.

Note: This activity can also be done in small groups. Select a student in each group with relatively good pronunciation to say the words quietly. Ask students to keep track of their scores.

5 (5 mins): Activity 5. Students listen for the big idea (T.1.1.3)

1. Ask: Who is this?
2. Ask: Do you like Arunny as a classmate? Why? Why not?
3. Tell students to talk to their partners quickly. Give a 30 second time limit.
4. Collect ideas from students.
5. Tell students to listen to Arunny. Make sure you have everyone's attention before you play the recording.
6. Ask again: Do you like Arunny as a classmate? Have a class vote. Write the numbers on the board.

TAPESCRIPT 1.1.3

Hi! My name's Arunny! I'm 6 months old. My father is Avorng! I live in a tree. I like flying and singing songs. My dad says I like asking questions too. I ask a lot of questions. Sometimes my dad doesn't know the answer! My dad says I should go to school because I can ask a lot of questions there. My teacher knows the answer! I'm ready for school. I have a beautiful red bag, 12 notebooks and 3 pens! I think my favourite subject is English! I'm like my dad! I love talking! I love talking in English and Khmer! (bell rings). Yes, it's time for class!

6 (5 mins): Activity 6. Students listen for the answers (T.1.1.3)

1. Tell students to listen again.
2. Tell them to number the sentences in their notebook.
3. Ask instruction checking questions (e.g. Are you writing in your book or notebook?)
4. Tell students to compare their answers with a partner.
5. Check answers as a class.

Answers: 1. No 2. Yes 3. Yes 4. No 5. No

7 (3 mins): Activity 7. Speaking

1. Put students in groups of 5/6.
2. In groups ask students to introduce another classmate from another group. They should introduce somebody from another group. They shouldn't say their names.
3. Ask the other students to guess who the classmate being introduced is.
4. The first student to guess correctly wins!

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing students!

1. Ask some students to introduce their friends in class.
2. Praise students who tried speaking in English as best as they could today. Encourage the others!

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

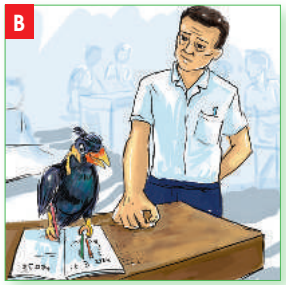
Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Welcome to a new school year! Have you taught Grade 8 English before? How are you going to do things better this year?
2. Are you a new teacher? What do you think of the book so far? What are your personal teaching goals for the school year?
3. Your own question(s). _____?

1b A new classmate - A weird classmate!

1 Who wants Arunny to go to school? Guess. Tell your partner.



2 Read quickly. Match the paragraphs with the pictures in activity 1.

Arunny should go to school. If Arunny goes to school, she'll be very happy. The students will love her. She can talk, and she has pens and notebooks. And she asks a lot of questions. Good students ask questions. I think she's a good student. If Arunny doesn't go to school, she'll cry every day. It's not good when Arunny cries. She cries loud and long so no one can think.

Arunny shouldn't go to school. Birds can't go to school. Students will not be happy. She can talk, but she can't write. She can't write her name on her notebook. She can't write anything. And she can't read. Her father thinks she can read, but she can't. She can't play with her friends, because she can only fly. She can't play football or basketball. She will be sad because she can't play with them.

3 Read again. Answer the questions with Yes or No.

1. Does Arunny have notebooks? Yes.
2. Does she have pens? _____
3. Can she talk? _____
4. Is she a good student? _____
5. Does she cry for a long time? _____
6. Can she write? _____
7. Can she play basketball? _____

1. Tell students to look at the pictures of Avorng and Mr. Sovann in activity 1.
2. Put students in pairs.
3. Tell students to talk about who wants Arunny to go to school and why.
4. Ask instruction checking questions (e.g. speaking or writing?) and give a time limit of 2 minutes.
5. Collect ideas from the class. Accept all answers. There are no right or wrong answers at this point.

2 (5 mins): Activity 2. Students read for the big idea

1. Tell students to read the paragraphs and match them with the pictures. Give a time limit of 3 minutes.
2. Ask: Who wants Arunny to go to school? Avorng or Mr. Sovann? Did you guess right?
3. Collect ideas from students.

3 (7 mins): Activity 3. Students read for the answers

1. Tell students to read again and answer the questions. Tell them to write their answers in their notebooks.
2. Ask instruction checking questions (e.g. Are you working alone or in groups?) and give a time limit of 4 minutes.
3. Check answers as a class.
4. Students in pairs should discuss who they agree with and why.

Answers: 2. Yes 3. Yes 4. Yes 5. Yes 6. No 7. No

4 Do you like Arunny in your class? Write to Mr. Sovann!

Dear Mr. Sovann,

I want Arunny to join my class. I like her because _____

Dear Mr. Sovann,

I don't want Arunny to join my class. I don't like her because _____

5 Choose one weird classmate to join your class!

6 Who did you choose? Tell your classmates! They will ask you questions.

/moeyscambodia /krou.moeys.gov.kh http://oer.moeys.gov.kh #OERCambodia

4 (8 mins): Activity 4. Writing

1. Ask students if they want Arunny to join their class.
2. Tell them to write a letter to Mr. Sovann, explaining why they want / don't want Arunny to join their class. This writing may only be 5 – 6 sentences long.
3. Ask instruction checking questions and give a time limit of 6 minutes.
4. Ask some students to read out their letters.

5 (10 mins): Activity 5. Speaking and writing – poster making

1. Put students into groups of 3/4.
2. Tell students to look at the pictures in activity 5.
3. Ask: Who do they like to join their class? Who don't they like? Why? Why not?
4. Ask them to think of some more characters / people they want to join their class (e.g. Mr. Sovann!)
5. Tell each group to choose one new classmate they want in their class.
6. Each group writes on a piece of paper. Tell them to explain why they chose that classmate. 3-4 sentences should be enough. If there is still some time left, ask them to draw pictures and colour.

6 (8 mins): Activity 6. Speaking

1. Choose one student from each group. You can also ask each group to choose their own speakers.

Note:
For this activity, it might be a good idea to choose the most confident speakers in your class.

2. Have each student from each group report who they picked as a new classmate. Encourage the other groups to listen. You can do this by asking each group to ask one or two questions for the reporting team.
3. Give a time limit of 1 minute for each group to report.
4. Have a class vote. Who did your class pick as a new classmate?

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask some students who they think you (the teacher!) as a new classmate. Pick one and let them know! This should be funny, so try to come up with silly explanations!
2. Praise students who worked hard today. Encourage the others!

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Many teachers have students copy out the date, title of the lesson and other information into their textbooks. How long does this take?
2. What percentage of a 50 minute lesson does this take up?
3. What do students actually learn by doing this?
4. Do you think you waste time doing things like this when students could be learning in your class?
5. Your own question(s). _____?

1c A new classmate - So happy together!

1 Who are they? What can you remember about them? Tell your partner.

2 T.1.1.4 Listen and read about Vottey, Lyvann and Pisey. Were you right? Match the characters with the paragraphs.

A Can you guess who I am? I love computers and I love mobile phones. My favourite subject is physics. I'm good at maths too, but I'm not good at history. I don't like history. I don't have many friends, but I have a really cool best friend. Sometimes I bring my best friend to school! Her name is Arunny. Shhh…Ms. Mom doesn't know. It's a secret!

B Hi! Can you guess who I am? My favourite subject is English. I love talking to people, and I love talking to my friends! I'm good at dancing! I dance really well, but I'm not good at maths. I don't like numbers! My mum was at this school when she was a girl. And my grandpa was at this school too! Huh! I love this school!

C Hello! Can you guess who I am? My favourite subject is P.E. I like it because I love running and doing sports. I can play basketball, football and badminton! I'm good at English too, but I'm not good at geography. I can run really fast! I can run faster than a tiger!

Chapter 1, Unit 1, Lesson C

A new school year: A new classmate: So happy together!

This lesson uses recordings which can be downloaded from the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sport website. (50 mins)

(7 mins): Warmer. Sok Says

1. Tell the students to stand up and look at the teacher (you!).
2. Divide the class in two (e.g. left and right halves of the room). Ask for a team name from each side.
3. Write the team names on the board. Mark 5 points for each team (e.g. 11111).
4. Say that you will tell them to do things. If you say 'Sok says' they have to do them, but they shouldn't do them if you don't say 'Sok says'
5. When someone gets 'out', erase a point from their team.
6. Continue until one team has lost all their points. The other team is the winner!

1 (3 mins): Activity 1. Lead in

1. Put students in pairs.
2. Ask students to look at the pictures of the characters in activity 1. Ask them what they can remember about them.
3. Ask some questions to help the slow learners in class (e.g. Who is he? Is she pretty?)
4. Ask instruction checking questions and give a time limit of 1 minute.
5. Collect ideas from the class.

2 (5 mins): Activity 2. Students listen and read for the big idea (T.1.1.4)

1. Tell students to listen and find out more about Pisey, Vottey and Lyvann.
2. Tell them to match the pictures to the paragraph as they listen and read.
3. Tell them read along and follow the text in the book with their finger.
4. Fingers ready? Make sure everyone is on the right page and pointing to the right paragraph before you play the recording.
5. Ask instruction checking questions (T: Are you writing? Are we talking and listening at the same time? S: No!) and give a time limit of 3 minutes.
6. Tell students to compare their answers.
7. Check answers as a class.

Answers: A. Lyvann B. Pisey C. Vottey

3 (8 mins): Activity 3. Students read and listen for the answers (T.1.1.4)

1. Tell students to listen and read again.
2. Tell them to complete the fact files as they listen and read.
3. Ask instruction checking questions and give a time limit of 6 minutes.
4. Check answers as a class.

Answers: Lyvann: Good at: Maths, Not good at: History
Pisey: Favourite subject: English, Good at: Dancing, Not good at: Maths.
Vottey: Loves: running sports, Fact: can run faster than a tiger'

4 (8 mins): Activity 4. Writing

1. Tell students to make their own fact files. They can use the fact files of the characters as models.
2. You can ask fast finishers to draw pictures and colour in them in their notebooks.
3. Ask instruction checking questions and give a time limit of 7 minutes.

5 (8 mins): Activity 5. Speaking – guessing game!

1. Put students in groups of 6/7.
2. Collect the fact files of the students in each group. Swap their fact files with the other groups.
3. Tell students in each group to take it in turns to read the information written on their classmate's fact files. Tell them NOT to read out the names!
4. Other students in the team guess who the person is.
5. The first student to guess correctly wins!
6. Repeat until the time is up.

6 (6 mins): Activity 6. Sing a song! (T.1.1.5)

1. Ask students what they usually do when they're happy. Tell them they're going to learn a song about being happy.
2. Tell them to stand up. Ask them to clap their hands, stamp their feet, shout 'hoo-ray'/ 'hello'.
3. Play the recording and have the students sing along. Play the recording twice or three times, if you have time.
4. Change some of the action words. Can they sing the song with the new action words?

(5 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask students to look at the "can do" statements.
2. Compare with a partner.
3. Ask students how they feel about the can do statements. Tell students not to worry about the ones they don't tick.

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Students learn far more from talking with their friends than they do listening to the teacher! Comparing answers before coming back together as a class means that students support one another in learning the correct answer (and the reason it's correct!). Did you give enough time for students to self-correct their work?
2. When you do ask and answer questions as a class, this should be a quick confirmation of what students already know. Did you spend too much time talking about the correct answers?
3. Are there groups of kids who are not working well together? What can you do to make sure everybody can work well (e.g. break up groups who are always off task)?
4. Do you encourage an environment where students feel confident to talk with their groups?
5. Your own question(s). _____?

Chapter 1, Unit 2, Lesson A

A new school year: New routines: New jobs

This lesson uses recordings which can be downloaded from the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sport website. (50 mins)

(7 mins): Warmer. Back to the board game

1. Divide the class into four groups. 1, 2, 3, 4.
2. Ask one person from each group to stand in front of the board. Tell them they mustn't look at the board or they will lose a point for their team.
3. Write words / phrases from the unit on the board e.g. do homework, study, work, go to school, watch TV, wake up, run, walk, climb a tree, dance, sell, play basketball, play music / play a musical instrument.
4. The teams must act the word or phrase, and the person in front of the board has to guess the word or phrase.
5. The teams cannot speak, but the person in front of the board can.
6. The first person to guess the word wins a point for their team.
7. The students can take turns at the front of the class.
8. The team with the most points wins.

1 (5 mins): Activity 1. What do you do at these times?

1. Tell the students to look at the times of day. Ask them "What do you do at these times?" Tell your partner is normal."
2. Conduct feedback. Choose a few students and ask them what they do at a few of the times. "What do you do at 5:30 in the morning? What do you do at 8:00 at night?"

2 (5 mins): Activity 2. Listen to the stories and match them to the pictures (T.1.2.1)

1. Ask students to look at the pictures of 1 Vottey, 2 Lyvann, and 3 Pisey.
2. Tell the students that they are going to listen to three students talking about the things they do every day.
3. Ask them to listen and match what they hear to the pictures i.e. stories A – C with pictures 1–3.
4. Ask them to check their answers with their partner.
5. Go through the answers together.

Answers: A. 1 B. 2 C. 3

TAPESCRIPT 1.2.1

Vottey:
I always wake up at sunrise to practise bokator with my grandfather at his bokator club. He is very skilled at bokator, he was once a very good fighter who hardly ever lost a fight. He is very strict, he often tells me to work harder, and he hardly ever says "good job!" At 12:30, I leave for school. I usually run to school, but I sometimes walk when I feel lazy. After school, I often have basketball practise. I'm very good at basketball, I always score lots of points and my team never loses. After basketball practise, I always walk home. I'm sometimes so hungry that I climb a tree to pick some fruit to eat.

Lyvann:
I usually wake up at five o'clock. I sometimes wake up late when I stay up at night reading a book or looking at the stars. But I always get to school early—before 6:30—because, as Class Monitor, it is my job to make sure the students clean the classroom before school starts. I am never late, and the classroom is always clean when Ms. Mom arrives.

After school, I always stay for extra lessons, usually until noon or one o'clock.

I always stop at the photocopy shop on my way home, because as Class Monitor, it is my job to make copies of the exercises for class the next day.

In the afternoon, I go to my family's pharmacy to help out. It isn't usually very busy, so I often practise playing a traditional instrument I play, called a kloy.

Pisey:
I usually wake up at 6 o'clock. I never eat breakfast; instead, I sleep late. I hardly ever walk to school, because I'm too lazy. My brother usually brings me to school on his bicycle.

I often get bored at school because I'm so smart and I know everything already. But I always enjoy dance class. I am an amazing dancer, so the teacher often asks me to help my classmates learn new steps.

When school ends at 11 o'clock, I always go to the market where my family sells clothing and eat lunch with my Mum. After lunch, I stay at the market to sell clothes. I always earn a lot of money, because I know so much about fashion.

After I finish at the market, I often go to learn traditional dance.

Then I go home and eat dinner with my family.

3 (5 mins): Activity 3. Who has the best life? (T.1.2.1)

1. On the board write – Who has the best life?
2. Make sure students understand the question.
3. Ask them to listen to the stories again and answer the question.
4. Go through some of the student's answers together.

Answer: There is no correct answer. Students' answers may be different.

(5 mins): Adverbs of frequency explanation

1. Draw a line on the board going left to right.
2. At the left write 0%: None of the time.
3. At the right, write 100%: All the time.
4. Ask students "Which word do we use to talk about things that happen none of the time?" "Never." Write Never under 0% on the board.
5. Ask students T:"Which word do we use to talk about things that happen all of the time?" S:"Always." Write Always under 100% on the board.
6. Ask students about the other adverbs of frequency, and place them along the line between Never and Always.
7. Talk about some examples with the students. Say T:"In the morning, what do I say to the class? S:"Good morning, class. T:"Do I ever say something different?" S:"'No". T:So, in the morning, I always say "Good morning"'.

4 T.1.2.1 Listen again. Choose the correct word. Write the sentence in your notebook.

1. I never / always wake up at sunrise to do some exercise.
2. I sometimes / usually walk to school when I feel lazy, but I always/never get to school early.
3. I always / usually go to the pharmacy after school.
4. I never / sometimes help sell medicine.
5. I always / sometimes go to the market for lunch.
6. I usually / never eat rice, but I usually/sometimes eat noodles.

T.1.2.2 Listen and check.

5 T.1.2.1 Listen again. Complete the sentences with the correct word. Write the sentence in your notebook.

1. I am never late, and the classroom is _____ clean when Miss Mom arrives.
2. Miss Mom _____ asks me to go to the photocopy shop to make copies for class the next day.
3. I _____ make mistakes with money, and I always say "Thank you!"
4. I _____ practise playing sralai, a traditional Cambodian instrument.
5. I _____ get very bored at the market, but I_____earn a lot of money.
6. I _____ read fashion magazines before I go to bed.

T.1.2.3 Listen and check.

5. I sometimes get very bored at the market, but I usually earn a lot of money.
6. I always read fashion magazines before I go to bed.

6 (7 mins): Activity 6. Use the pictures and the words in the box to ask and answer questions

1. Go through the example in the student's book together.
   • How often do you arrive at school early? I never arrive at school early!
2. Make sure everyone understands the task.
3. In pairs – ask them to ask and answer questions in a similar way.
4. Monitor carefully and correct any errors you hear.
5. In pairs – ask the students to think of some more questions to ask their partner.
6. On the board write – How often do you …
7. Tell the students that their questions must begin with this phrase.
8. On the board write – never, sometimes, usually, always.
9. Explain that their answers must contain at least one of these words.
10. Ask pairs to practise their conversations for the class.
11. Ask the class to correct any errors they hear.

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask some students to say what they always, never and sometimes do in the day..
2. Praise students who tried speaking in English as best as they could today. Encourage the others!

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Welcome to a new school year! Have you taught Grade 8 English before? How are you going to do things better this year?
2. Are you a new teacher? What do you think of the book so far? What are your personal teaching goals for the school year?
3. Your own question(s). _____?

2b New routines - Vottey's new hobby

1 Match the words with the pictures.

a. kick
b. banana tree
c. punch
d. palm tree

2 Read Vottey's answers. Match the questions with the answers.

1. What is your new hobby?
2. Where do you do your hobby?
3. Why do you like it?
4. When do you do it?
5. Who do you do it with?

	Answer
A	We usually practise at the Labokator Club. We sometimes go to my grandfather's banana farm to practise punching and kicking banana trees. We use banana trees because they are soft—we never use palm trees, because they are hard! On hot days, we sometimes practise Labokator in the lake.
B	My name is Vottey. My new hobby is Labokator.
C	I learn Labokator from my grandfather. He teaches anybody who wants to learn. There are many ways of fighting in Labokator, so everybody can find a way they are good at. I am short and small, so I fight like a monkey. My grandfather is big and strong, so he fights like an elephant.
D	I always do Labokator in the morning, before school. I never go after school. After school, I'm usually too tired to do anything!
E	I like it because it's fun. It teaches us to live well. My grandfather always tells us his two rules before we leave: "Never use Labokator to hurt someone. Always learn from your mistakes."

3 First, find these words in the text. Then, find the words that mean the opposite.

Word	Opposite
never	always
soft hot short

Chapter 1, Unit 2, Lesson B

A new school year: New routines: Vottey's new hobby

This lesson uses recordings which can be downloaded from the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sport website. (50 mins)

(10 mins): Warmer. Opposites Board Race

1. Split the class into 2 teams or more.
2. Tell them they are going to do a board race about opposites.
3. Give some examples of opposites, and elicit more from the students (hot and cold)
4. Write "good;" on the board and ask the students "What is the opposite of good?" Elicit "Bad." If you think they need more examples, write "fat" and try to elicit "skinny//slim."
5. Tell the students that everyone will write on the board but their teammates will help them by telling them what to write.
6. The students will stand in line with their teammates. The person in the front of the line will write one pair of opposites, e.g. "Short and tall," and then pass the marker to the person behind them and walk to the back of the line.
7. The next person writes another pair of opposites, like "night and day," and goes to the back of the line.
8. Give the students 2 minutes to write as many opposites as they can, then count and check each teams' opposites. The team with the most wins. Announce the winner and then the whole class claps for them.

8. Ask a few students "Where did your partner go yesterday?"
9. Ask their partner what they did in a few places. E.g. "What did you do at the police station? What did you do at the wat?"

2 (8 mins): Activity 2. Listen to the conversation between Arunny and Lyvann (T.1.2.5)

1. Ask student's why Lyvann and Arunny are comparing their daily routines. What is missing? What are they trying to find?
2. Play the recording as many times as needed
3. Ask students to discuss their ideas with their partners.
4. Go over the students' ideas as a class.

Answer:
They are looking for Lyvann's cell phone. Arunny knows she saw it in a place where she goes, but she doesn't remember where. So they are trying to find out where Lyvann left it by finding out where Lyvann and Arunny both go.

TAPESCRIPT 1.2.5

Lyvann: I never lose it! I usually keep it right here, in the pocket of my trousers!
Arunny: Really? I saw it today.
Lyvann: Where?
Arunny: I forget!
Lyvann: Well, where do you usually go in the morning?
Arunny: I come to your house almost every morning! I come to meet you, because we usually go to school together.
Lyvann: It's not there. Where do you usually go when you don't go to school?
Arunny: Well, when I don't go to school to ask questions, I sometimes fly up to the mountain, to sing. Do you ever fly up to the mountain?
Lyvann: I never do that, because I can't fly! And I never sing. Where do you usually go for a snack?
Arunny: I usually go find some fruit.
Lyvann: At the banana farm? I sometimes go there!
Arunny: I don't like bananas, so I never go there. I usually eat oranges at Mr.Sovann's house. But sometimes, I eat apples for a snack.
Lyvann: Apples never grow in Cambodia!
Arunny: I know! That's why I always get apples at the market. Do you ever go there?
Lyvann: Yes, I-[cell phone rings] Oh, it's in my bag!

3 (7 mins): Activity 3. Number the places in the order Arunny visits them (T.1.2.5)

4 (5 mins): Activity 4. Match the activities Arunny does with the places she does them (T.1.2.5)

1. Tell students to read the list of activities Arunny does.
2. Tell them "You are going to match these activities to the places where Arunny does them."
3. Remind the students "How many places are there?" Elicit "Six!" "And how many activities?""Five!" "Does Arunny go to the banana farm?" Elicit "No, she doesn't!"
4. Students listen to the recording again and match the activities to the place
5. Compare the answers with their partner
6. Go over the answer as a class.

Answers:

5 (11 mins): Activity 5. Where do you usually go?

1. Copy the chart from activity 5 on the board.
2. Ask a student "Where do you usually go in the morning?" Remind the student that we can answer questions using any adverb of frequency (sometimes, never, always), not just usually.
3. Write their answer as a full sentence in the appropriate part of the table. E.g. if the student says "I always go to school in the morning," write the sentence under always. If the student says "I sometimes go to the market in the morning, write the sentence under sometimes in the table.
4. Ask them for another answer. If they answered with always, ask them to answer with never. If they answered with sometimes, ask them to answer with usually.
5. Write their new answer on the board in the appropriate part of the table.
6. Tell the class that for each question, they must write sentences in two of the boxes in the table.
7. Ask the class "What is an example of a national holiday?" Elicit some national holidays.
8. Ask the class "Do we go to school on national holidays?" Elicit "No!"
9. Write "On national holidays, we never go to school" on the board.
10. Ask a student "Where do you usually go on national holidays?"
11. Write their answer on the board.
12. Give his / her a chance to complete the tables.
13. While students are working, write the questions on the board.

    1. Where do you usually go in the morning?
    2. Where do you usually go when you are hungry?
    3. Where do you usually go when you want to be alone?
    4. Where do you usually go when you are bored?
    5. Where do you usually go on national holidays?
    6. Where do you usually go to read a book?

14. When students have finished, ask them to close their books and ask and answer the questions with the people around them.
15. At the very end, conduct feedback with a few students. Ask them what they remember about people they talked to.

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask students to look at the "can do" statements.
2. Compare with a partner.
3. Ask students how they feel about the can do statements. Tell students not to worry about the ones they don't tick.

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. If instructions are all in English, students have much more time practicing their English. How many of your instructions were in English? Is there a way that you could have done all your instructions in English and had the students understand?
2. How could you do this lesson better next time?
3. Your own question(s). _____?

6. Ask some of the students to read out their writing.
7. Encourage the class to correct any mistakes they hear.

Answer: Students' own answers

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing students!

1. Go round the class asking students what they do first, second, third, next and so on, in the day.
2. Praise students who tried speaking in English as best as they could today. Encourage the others!

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. How much of the lesson was in English? How much was in Khmer?
2. How could you have students use English more and Khmer less?
3. Could you use English more and Khmer less?
4. Did you get the whole lesson done, or was too much time given to copying the board, students being late (the teacher being late!); or something else?
5. How could you do this lesson better next time?
6. Your own question(s). _____?

4 (5 mins): Activity 4. Number the sentences (T.1.3.1)

1. Ask the students to guess the order of the sentences.
2. Ask them to compare their answers with a partner.
3. Play (T.1.3.1) again and ask them to check their answers.
4. Go through the students' answers.

Answers: D. 1 E. 2 F. 3 B. 4 A. 5 C. 6

5 (5 mins): Activity 5. Choose 'a' or 'b' (T.1.3.1)

1. Ask students to listen to (T.1.3.1) again and choose the correct sentence 'a' or 'b'.
2. Go through the answers with the students.
3. Encourage the students to correct each other.

Answers: 2. a 3. b 4. b 5. a 6. b 7. a

6 (5 mins): Activity 6. Circle the correct words (T.1.3.2)

1. Ask students to look at the questions Arunny is asking and circle the correct words. (Number 1 is done as an example).
2. Ask students to look at the answers given by Vottey and circle the correct words. (Number 1 is done as an example).
3. Ask them to compare their answers with a partner.
4. Ask them to listen, check and repeat what they hear.

TAPESCRIPT 1.3.2

Arunny	Vottey
What happens first at the morning ceremony?	The teacher rings the bell.
What do you do second?	We stand in line next to the flagpole.
What do you do third?	A boy and girl raise the flag.
What do you do next?	We sing the anthem.
What happens after that?	The principal says some words.
What do you do then?	We go to class.

7 (10 mins) Activity 7: Role play Arunny and Votey's conversation.

1. On the board write:

Arunny	Vottey
First	rings the bell
Second	stand in line
Third	raise the flag
Next	sing the anthem
After that	say some words
Then	go to class

2. Split the class into 2 groups – A & B.
3. Group A is Arunny and group B is Vottey.
4. Put the groups into pairs. One from group A and one from group B.
5. Ask the students to practise the conversation using the examples on the board if they need to.
6. When they finish put them with different partners. One from group A and one from group B.
7. Repeat these stages until the students have had enough practise.
8. Change the roles. Group A is now Vottey and Group B is now Arunny.
9. Erase the words from the board.
10. Repeat the stages from above until the students have had enough practise.

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up
Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask some students to tell you what happened first, second etc.
2. Listen to students' answers. Can they use the language correctly? How is their pronunciation? Do they need more help with language for requests?

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Students learn far more from talking with their friends than they do listening to the teacher! Comparing answers before coming back together as a class means that students support one another in learning the correct answer (and the reason it's correct!). Did you give enough time for students to self-correct their work?
2. When you do ask and answer questions as a class, this should be a quick confirmation of what students already know. Did you spend too much time talking about the correct answers?
3. Are there groups of kids who are not working well together? What can you do to make sure everybody can work well (e.g. break up groups who are always off task)?
4. Do you encourage an environment where students feel confident to talk with their groups?
5. Your own question(s). _____?

3c The morning ceremony - Avorng and Arunny's nest making ceremonies

1 Look at the picture.

- Talk to your partner.
- How do birds make nests?

2 T.1.3.3 Listen to Avorng and Arunny. Whose nest is the best?

3 Match the words to the pictures.

4 Use the words in activity 3 to complete the sentences.

a. Birds live in a ____nest_____.
b. In the rainy season the fields are full of green _____.
c. I have a big red _____ on my bedroom floor.
d. The _____ made our new house.
e. Pigs like to play in the _____.
f. If I lift up my shirt I can see my _____.
g. I like to _____pictures of Preap Sovath on my wall.

Chapter 1, Unit 3, Lesson C

A new school year: The morning ceremony: Avorng and Arunny make a nest

This lesson uses recordings which can be downloaded from the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sport website. (50 mins)

(10 mins): Warmer. Word Game

1. Draw a square on the board.
2. Write a different letter in each square.
3. Put students in pairs.
4. Ask them to write as many words as they can using the letters in the squares.
5. Also ask them to make the longest word they can.
6. When finished ask them to exchange books with another pair to mark.
7. Students are given 1 point for each correct word.
8. The team with the longest word is given 25 points.

Example:

a	s	t	o
i	b	u	p

1 (5 mins): Activity 1. Lead in

1. Put students in pairs.
2. Ask them to look at the picture of the bird sitting in the nest.
3. Ask them to talk about how birds make their nests.
4. Go through some of the students' answers together.

2 (5 mins): Activity 2. Gist task

1. Write 'whose nest is best' on the board.
2. Explain that students are going to listen to Avorng and Arunny talk about building nests.
3. Ask them who they think will build the best nest.
4. Ask them why?
5. Ask them to listen and answer the question.
6. When they finish ask them to tell their partner what they think.
7. Go through some of the students' answers together.

TAPESCRIPT 1.3.3

Pisey: Hi Avorng, can you tell me how to build a nest please?
Avorng: Yes, no problem.
- First, I collect twigs from the jungle.
- Second, I collect mud from the riverside.
- Third, I choose a tree and stick the twigs together with mud.
- Next, I collect leaves and stick them to the outside of the nest.
- After that, I collect soft grass and put it inside the nest.
- Then, my wife lays her eggs.

Pisey: Thank you Avorng.

Pisey: Hi Arunny, can you tell me how to build a nest please?
Arunny: I haven't built one before, so I'll have to guess.
- Mmm! First, I go shopping in the city.
- Second, I choose the best nest I can find in the shop. (Pisey giggles).
- Third, I ask a reumork driver to bring it back home for me.
- Next, I ask the builder to put the nest in the tree.
- After that, I buy a rug for inside of the nest.
- Then, I get an egg from my belly button and put it in the nest (Pisey giggles)

Pisey: Thank you Arunny, that was great.

3 (5 mins): Activity 3. Vocabulary / picture match.

1. Ask students to look at the pictures and tell their partners what they can see.
2. Ask them to match the words to the pictures. Write the answers in their notebooks.
3. Ask them to compare their answers with a partner.
4. Go through the answers together.
5. Encourage them to correct each other's mistakes.

Answers: 1. mud 2. stick 3. leaves 4. grass 5. nest 6. builder 7. rug 8. belly button

4 (5 mins): Activity 4. Vocabulary Sentence completion

1. Ask students to use the words in the box to complete the sentences. Write the answers in their notebooks.
2. Ask them to compare their answers with a partner.
3. Ask one student to read out the first sentence.
4. Ask that student to ask another student to read out the second sentence etc.
5. Encourage the students to correct each other's mistakes as they are speaking.

Answers:

a. Birds live in a nest.
b. In the rainy season the fields are full of green leaves.
c. I have a big red rug on my bedroom floor.

5 (5 mins): Activity 5. Rewrite the sentences (T.1.3.3)

1. Go through the example with the class.
2. Ask them to listen to Avorng in (T.1.3.3) and rewrite the rest of the sentences in their notebooks.
3. When they finish, ask them to compare their sentences with a partner.
4. Ask a student to write the first sentence on the board.
5. Ask them to choose a student to write the second sentence, and so on until all of the sentences are on the board.
6. In pairs – ask students to correct any errors they can see.
7. Go through the answers with the students.

Answers:

- First, I collect twigs from the jungle.
- Second, I collect mud from the riverside.
- Third, I choose a tree and stick the twigs together with mud.
- Next, I collect leaves and stick them to the outside of the nest.
- After that, I collect soft grass and put it inside the nest.
- Then, my wife lays her eggs.

6 (5 mins): Activity 6. Picture and word match

1. In pairs - ask students to look at the pictures and tell their partners what they see.
2. Ask them to listen and match the words to the pictures.
3. Ask them to compare their answers with a partner.
4. Go through the answers together and encourage the students to correct any errors themselves.

Answers: A. third B. then C. second D. after that E. first F. next

7 (10 mins): Activity 7. Circle the correct words

1. Ask students to draw the picture in their notebooks.
2. Tell them they have a $1000 dollars to spend on their bedrooms.
3. Ask them to write about the changes they would make using the correct sequence e.g. first, second, third etc.
4. Ask them to draw the changes in the picture in their notebooks.
5. In pairs – ask them to talk about the changes they have made using the correct sequence e.g. first, second, third etc.
6. Mix up the pairs in order to give them time to practise the language.

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask students to look at the "can do" statements.
2. Compare with a partner.
3. Ask students how they feel about the can do statements. Tell students not to worry about the ones they don't tick.

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. The old idea of the teacher being at the centre of the classroom is dead! How do you help your students feel 'heard' in the classroom?
2. Do you repeat correct answers after your students say them, or just say "Yes, that's right"? Do you think students will listen to the kid giving the answer if they know you are going to say it again anyway?
3. How do you encourage students to respect students speaking in front of the class?
4. Your own question(s). _____?

Chapter 2

A family visit

Unit 4 - The arrival

4a The arrival - This is our first visit

1 Where are Pisey and her family going? Guess. Tell your partner.

2 T.2.4.1 Listen to Pisey's experience arriving in a new country. Check your predictions from activity 1.

3 T.2.4.1 Listen again and number the pictures above 1-5 in the order you hear from the tapscript.

4 Write short answers to these questions in your notebook.

1. Where are Pisey, Thearak and Mrs. Oum?

Chapter 2, Unit 4, Lesson A

A family visit: The arrival: This is our first visit

This lesson uses recordings which can be downloaded from the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sport website. (50 mins)

(5 mins): Warmer. Eye Spy

1. Tell students they are going to play a guessing game called Eye Spy
2. Say I spy with my little eye something beginning with C.
3. Ask students if they can see something beginning with C in the room.
4. Get students to guess "Classroom".
5. Ask students to play the game in their groups.

1 (5 mins) Activity 1. Lead in

1. Write on the board Teacher:"What would you take on an overseas trip?"
   Students: "A suitcase! Passport!"
   Teacher: "Now think of four more things you would take with you on an overseas trip."
2. Tell students to look at the pictures in Activity 1. Ask them Teacher:"What is happening in this picture?
   Where are they going? Who do you think they are going to visit?"
   Students: "On a trip! Family!"

2 (5 mins) Activity 2. Gist task.

1. Tell students to listen to the conversations and check to see if their predictions were correct.
2. You could follow-up by asking if anything they listed in Activity 1 is included in the conversations.

TAPESCRIPT 2.4.1

Narrator: One
Mrs. Oum: Pisey what are all of those bags you have brought?
Pisey: They are gifts for Aunt Sokna, Uncle Panha and Sam.
Thearak: Why did you bring this? (holds up a doll)
Pisey: I can't sleep without her. Why did you bring all of those? (pointing at a stack of books)
Thearak: I need these to help me communicate in English. My vocabulary isn't very good and I don't want to embarrass myself in this country.

Narrator: Two
Mrs. Oum: Can we use any of these lines to show our passports.
Immigration Officer: Visitors must use those last two lines to the right.
Mrs. Oum: Thank you.

Narrator: Three
Pisey: Hello, this is our first visit to the United States, we are here to visit my mom's sister and family; can I give these to you? (holding up passports)
Immigration Officer: Yes, I can take those. Thank you.

Narrator: Four
Immigration Officer: Welcome to America, enjoy your visit with your family. Please walk down this yellow line and exit through that door at the end.

Narrator: Five
Group:(loud shouting and hellos)
Thearak: Hello Uncle Panha and Aunt Sokna.
Mrs. Oum: That was a very long trip!
Uncle Panha: Yes, it takes over 22 hours to fly here from Cambodia. Here Oum let me help you with these bags, it looks like you have a lot to carry.

3 (7 mins) Activity 3. What's happening? (T.2.4.1)

1. Tell students: "We are going to listen to the conversations and match them with the pictures in Activity1."
2. Play the recording for first tapescript
3. Ask students "Which people did we hear talking?" students: "Picture C, teacher! Pisey, Mrs. Oum and Thearak!" Answers should correspond to the questions / names of people in the tapescripts.
4. Play the rest of the tapescripts.
5. Go over answers as a class.

Answers: A. 3 B.2 C.1 D. 5 E.4

4 (7 mins) Activity 4. Comprehension

1. Choose students to read the questions out loud for the class.
2. Tell students "Turn to the tapescript 2.4.1." on page 218.
   Play the recording again if needed.
3. Tell students "Now turn back to the questions for Activity 4 and write the answers in your notebook.
4. Go over answers as a class.

Answers: 1. The United States/Airport
2. to help with his vocabulary
3. The last two lines
4. The line they follow to exit. 5. Her bags

5 Circle the correct word. Practise saying the sentences with your partner.

1. A: What is that / these?
   B: It's the sign for the airport here in Los Angeles.

2. A: Please use that / this door to exit.
   B: Thank you.

3. A: Is these / this our bag?
   B: No, it isn't.

4. A: Why did you bring all those / this books?
   B: I need them to study.

Grammar

5. A: Can you help me carry these / that?
   B: I think I can only carry one of them.

6. A: Are that / those your bags?
   B: Yes, they are!

5 (9 mins) Activity 5. Grammar (T.2.4.2)

1. Tell students to look at the chart. Pick something up off your desk, e.g. a pen.
2. Ask students "What do we call this in English?" Students: "A pen, teacher!"
3. Ask students "And why do we use the word this?"
   - "Is it close to me, or far away?" Students: "Close to you!"
   - "How many pens are there?" Students: "Just one!"
   Give more examples, if necessary. Pick up another pen. "Now do we still say 'This?'" Students: "No, now we say these!"
4. Illustrate the same way with that and those.
5. Tell students "Read these sentences and look at the pictures. Then choose the right word."
6. Do the first one as a class. "Look at the sign. How many are there?" Students: "One!" "And is it close enough to touch, or far away?" Students: "Far away!" "So what is the right word?" Students: "That!"
7. Tell students to do the rest of the exercises on their own. Allow 4 minutes.
8. When students are finished, tell them "Now we are going to listen and check."

Answers: See (T.2.4.2)

TAPESCRIPT 2.4.2

1. A: What is that?
   B: It's the sign for the airport here in Los Angeles.
2. A: Please use that door to exit.
   B: Thank you.
3. A: Is this our bag?
   B: No, it isn't.
4. A: Why did you bring all those books?
   B: I need them to study.
5. A: Can you help me carry these?
   B: I think I can only carry one of them.
6. A: Are those your bags?
   B: Yes, they are!
9. Allow 2 minutes for students to practise saying the conversations.

6 (10 mins) Activity 6. Freer practise

1. Divide students into "Student A" and "Student B." A simple way to do this is by saying "If you are sitting on the right side of the desk, you are Student A. If you are sitting on the left side of the desk, you are Student B."
2. Tell the students "Turn to the picture in Activity 6."
3. Tell them "You are going to the Los Angeles Zoo. Student A, you are standing here." Point to where it says "Student A." "Student B, you are standing over here." Point to where it says "Student B."
4. Tell them "You are going to ask and tell each other about the English names of the things you see in this picture. Student A, you will use this/these to talk about things that are close to you, and that/those for things that are far away."
5. Ask students "Who can see an elephant in the picture? Where is it?" Choose a student.

T: "Are you Student A, or Student B?"
S: Student A
T: "Is the elephant close to you, or far away?"
S: Close to me
T: "Is there one elephant, or more than one elephant?"
S: One elephant.
T: "So, what would you use ask your partner?"
S: What is this?
T: Correct. It's an elephant.

6. Have students talk about the rest of the things in the picture.

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask a few students "what's this/these" questions
2. Point at things far from you and ask a couple of that/those questions

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

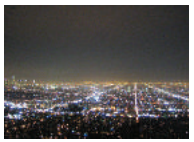
Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Kid's learn new words by practicing them. Did you translate the words for the students? Did you use Khmer to explain the new words when you could have used the pictures and body language?
2. How much of the lesson was about copying? Sometimes it's good for students to copy, but not all the time. Was there any more than 10 minutes copying time in the lesson? Why was there any copying at all? Do you think it's a good use of students' time to copy the board? Why?
3. Your own question(s). _____?

4b The arrival - These are great!

1 Look at the pictures. What did Pisey and her family do on their visit with Aunt Sokna, Uncle Panha and Sam? Discuss your ideas with a partner.



1_____ 2_____ 3_____ 4_____ 5_____

2 Read quickly about Pisey's trip. Were your predictions correct?

Dear Lyvann and Vottey,

A. Our trip to California was amazing. When we flew into Los Angeles, it was dark and Thearak looked out the window, poking me and saying, "Look at all those lights." It was beautiful.

B. Aunt Sokna, Uncle Panha and Sam live in Long Beach just outside of Los Angeles in a neighbourhood where many different types of people live. The next day when we were sitting in front of his house, he said, "See that girl on the corner? She's from Brazil and those other two girls she's talking to are from Kenya. Then he turned to his own house and said, "And of course everyone in this house is from Cambodia."

C. We went to many places around Long Beach and Los Angeles. The first place we visited was Hollywood and Grauman's Chinese Theatre. There was one part that has handprints from many movie stars, like Brad Pitt and Jackie Chan. We also went to the zoo and saw so many animals. Sam and I played a game to see who knew the most animals. I was the winner of asking 'what's that? or what are those?'

D. The food in the United States was really good. They eat so many different types of food. One day Sam gave me a folded soft bread filled with meat, rice and vegetables, and said, "Try this." When I asked what it was, he told me it was a burrito. I had never had one before the outside was soft and the inside was warm and spicy. Thearak ate two of them and said he wants to open a stall when we go home.

E. The weather in California was very pleasant. One day when we were at the beach I asked Uncle Panha if it ever rained or got really hot like Cambodia and he told me that it did sometimes. Then he looked out at the big blue ocean and smiled saying, "Most days, though, it's very nice just like this."

Chapter 2, Unit 4, Lesson B

A family visit: The arrival: These are great!

(5 mins): Warmer. Words from words

1. Put the students in pairs
2. Write Hollywood California United States on the board.
3. Students have to make as many words as possible from the letters in the word. For example, from the word 'grandmother' the following words can be made: red, hot, her, grand, heat, rat, meat, hate, dragon, mate, and etc.
4. The pair with the most correct words wins.

1 (5 mins): Activity 1. Lead in

1. Tell students to look at the pictures. Allow them to discuss what they think Pisey did on her trip with a partner. Ask them, "What did Pisey do on her trip?" Students: "Go to the zoo!" "Visit the beach!"

2 (3 mins): Activity 2. Gist task. Were your predictions correct?

1. Tell students to quickly read the text, no more than 2 minutes, to verify or correct their predictions from the previous activity. Ask students were we correct, did she visit the beach/ zoo? Students: Yes, teacher!

3 Read Pisey's letter again. Match the pictures to the paragraphs.

4 Read again and answer the questions in your notebook.

1. Where did Pisey go?
2. Who did Pisey and her family visit?
3. What was Pisey the champion of?
4. What kind of food did she and Thearak try?
5. How was the weather in California?

5 Answer these questions in your notebook:

1. Who did you visit?
2. Where was it?
3. How did you feel?
4. What did you do that was exciting?
5. What did you try that was new?
6. What was the weather like?

6 Use your notes to write about your trip in your notebook.

7 Read your writing to your partner.

2. Ask individual students to read the sentences that tell them the answer for each picture.
   T: Which paragraph talks about the first picture?
   S: In paragraph C it says we visited Hollywood and Grauman's Chinese Theatre.

Answers: 1. C 2. E 3. D 4. C 5. A

4 (7 mins): Activity 4. Comprehension Details

1. Tell students to read again and answer the questions in their notebooks.

Answers: 1. California/Long Beach 2. Aunt Sokna, Uncle Panha, Cousin Sam 3. Asking what's this/that 4. Burritos 5. Pleasant

5 (4 mins): Activity 5. Brainstorm

1. Ask students to answer the questions about themselves in their notebooks.

6 (10 mins): Activity 6. Writing

1. Tell students to use their notes to write a paragraph about their trip to visit family.

7 (4 mins): Activity 7. Share

1. Pair students and allow them to share their writing with each other.

(2 mins): Learner Assessment and Lesson Wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask students, "What do you use to speak about things near you?"
2. Ask students, "What do you use to speak about things far from you?" Have one or two students share their writing

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

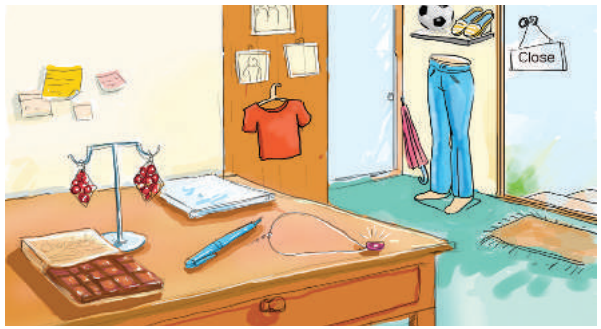
Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. The most important part of the lesson was the writing and speaking. Were students given enough time to do this?
2. Did you talk about grammar a lot and make the class boring, or did you let students practise the grammar?
3. How could you do this lesson better next time?
4. Your own question(s) _____?

4c The arrival - I'll buy those

1 With a partner, look at the things in the shop. What would you like to receive from the United States? Point to the things and talk about what you would like to get. Take turns choosing things.



Example:

A: I want those jeans.
B: All right. I want this soccer ball.
A: OK. What else do you want?

2 T.2.4.3 Pisey wants to buy her friends back in Cambodia some gifts. Look at the words, what does she get them?

chocolates / electronic game		necklace / hat	statue / pens vitamins / watch	bell / bells	earrings / t-shirt	necklace / shoes

3 T.2.4.3 Listen again. Choose the correct word and complete the sentence with an item from the word box.

1. I think Avorng might like this / these bell .
2. I want to buy Lyvann that / those _____, he loves them.
3. Vottey would really like to have this / that _____.
4. Finn is always getting sick he might need this / these _____.
5. Ms. Mom is so beautiful I will buy her that / those red _____.
6. Mr. Sovann has a lot of things on his desk this / these _____ will look good on it.
7. That / Those _____ look beautiful I will buy them for me.

Chapter 2, Unit 4, Lesson C

A family visit: The arrival: I'll buy those

This lesson uses recordings which can be downloaded from the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sport website. (50 mins)

(10 mins): Warmer: How many things can you think of that …?

1. Write 'How many things can you think of that …?' on one part of the board. Below that, write '… are bigger than you are?'
2. Tell students 'We are going to play a game now. You are going to work in groups. Make as long a list as you can.'
3. Ask the class 'What are some things we could put on this list?' Elicit things that are bigger than the students. 'An elephant! A car! A house!' Write some of their ideas on the board.
4. You can ask students to continue with things that are bigger than you are, or write something different.
   How many things can you think of that …
   … have wheels?
   … you can sit on?
   … are made of paper?
   … are red/blue/green?
   … smell good?
   … make a noise?

1 (5 mins): Activity 1. Lead in

1. In pairs, students look at the picture and talk about things they would like to receive as a gift from the US.

Example:
A: I want those jeans.
B: All right. I want this soccer ball.
A: OK. What else do you want?

2. Ask individual pairs to share with the class what they would like to get from the US.

2 (5 mins): Activity 2. Gist Task (T.2.4.3)

1. Check vocabulary with students by asking: What's this/that/'re these/those questions.
2. Play recording and students decide which item she buys for each friend. They can write the name under the correct picture.
3. Check answers as a class.

Answers: 1. chocolates 2. hat 3. statue 4. vitamins 5. bell 6. earrings 7. necklace

TAPESCRIPT 2.4.3

Pisey: Wow this store is huge! There are so many things I want to buy for people I can't decide.
Thearak: Well don't go crazy, remember we don't have much money.
Pisey: I know.
Sam: Hey Pisey, what's that bird's name at your school in Cambodia? Didn't you say she liked to make noise? Maybe she'd like one of these bells.
Pisey: You mean Avorng? Yeah, he's always dinging and clanging his beak on something. (Jingling bell) Hmmm, I think he might like this one. (Jingles bell)
Thearak: What should we get Lyvann, I don't see anything in this store that's geeky.
Pisey: He's easy, I want to buy him those chocolates with the red wrapper, he loves them.
Thearak: You know your friend Vottey needs something too, do you think she would like that necklace, it's really sparkly.
Pisey: Cool, I like that too. I'll get that for her and then borrow it. I can't forget Finn either; he was always getting sick last year so I think I'll buy him these vitamins.
Sam: What about your teacher Miss Mom? What can you buy her?
Pisey: I don't know, she's so beautiful I want to get her something special. I was thinking about a nice necklace or some earrings, but I don't know.
Sam: Maybe you could buy her one of these cool hats.
Pisey: That's a brilliant idea! I really like that red one you're wearing. I'll get her that one.
Thearak: What about old Mr. Sovann.
Pisey: Oh he's another easy one. He has lots of things on his desk, so I'm going to add to it. See this little gold statue? It will fit right in.
Sam: Are we finished shopping, I'm getting hungry.
Pisey: Yes, let's go … wait, look at those earrings, they are beautiful. I haven't gotten anything for myself. I'm going to buy them.

3 (10 mins): Activity 3. Comprehension (T.2.4.3)

1. Have students listen to (T.2.4.3) again and choose the correct word and complete the sentences with the correct vocabulary item.

Answers: 1. this bell 2. those chocolates 3. that necklace 4. these vitamins 5. that … hat 6. this statue 7. those earrings

4 T.2.4.4 Listen and point.

5 (10 mins): Activity 5. Game

1. Students write 3 sentences using this/that/these/those
2. In groups of 4 students act out their sentences without speaking until someone guesses the sentence.

Demonstrate for students: ex. This is my hat. Point to your body and pretend to put a hat on your head.

(2 mins): Learner Assessment and Lesson Wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask, "What word do we use to describe more than one thing close to us?"
2. Ask, "What word do we use to describe more than one thing far from us?"

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Not all students have the same English ability, but this doesn't mean that they aren't trying. They may also be learning other skills such as getting along with their peers, group work, problem solving and creative and critical thinking. Do you tell students who are trying that they are doing well as well?
2. How can you let your students know that it is not only English that is valued in your classroom?
3. Your own question(s). _____?

Chapter 2, Unit 5, Lesson A

A family visit: A homecoming: Monks, mangoes and a boat trip

This lesson uses recordings which can be downloaded from the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sport website. (50 mins)

(10 mins): Warmer. Play Minimal Pairs Telephone Number

1. Copy the following table onto the board.
2. Pronounce the words out loud for students.
3. Tell students they are going to give their telephone number to their partner, except they will use the words instead of the numbers. note* students may make up a telephone number if they do not want to share their own.

Example: 065 639 632 = WALK (0) FASTEN (6) FASHION (5) FASTEN (6) SHIP (3) WORK (9) FASTEN (6) SHIP (3) COPY (2)

4. Pair students up to tell their partners their telephone numbers. Partners try to write down the words they hear.

1 Coffee	2 Copy	3 Ship
4 Sheep	5 Fashion	6 Fasten
7 Sir	8 Sure	9 Work
	0 Walk

1 (5 mins): Activity 1. Lead in

1. Put students in groups of 3 or 4
2. Focus students' attention on the pictures. How many things can they name?
3. Ask individual groups about pictures: 'Group 1 what is the first picture?' 'An elephant'
   'Good, what's in the next picture, group 3?' 'Monks'

Answers: 3. seller / mango 4. crow / people 5. house 6. monkey 7. crickets / insects 8. buildings

2 (5 mins): Activity 2. Gist Question (T.2.5.1)

1. With students' attention still focused on the pictures play the conversation Sam and his family have about their trip around Phnom Penh. What did Aunt Sokna like the most?

Answer: Eating things like mangoes and crickets.

TAPESCRIPT 2.5.1

Sokna: I cannot believe how much Phnom Penh has grown. Panha remember how small it was when we left for America?
Panha: I know there were no tall buildings and it felt like a small town. Now it's like several small cities put together.
Sam: It reminds me of home, I can't imagine living in a city without a building reaching into the sky. I have enjoyed seeing where you guys grew up.
Panha: What did you like most today son?
Sam: Well the boat ride we took on the river was fun and seeing the floating houses that the fishermen live in was cool. I want to take another ride. Seeing an elephant walking down the street and feeding the monkeys at Wat Phnom was exciting. I had never been that close to a monkey or an elephant before.
Pisey: Maybe we can go to Ta Khmao, they have a lot of elephants at the zoo and you can feed them if you want.
Sokna: Speaking of eating I'm thinking about those crickets and tarantulas I ate this afternoon; oh, and the mangoes in the market looked so delicious, I wanted to buy 10 kilos of them. I missed eating things like that in the US.
Panha: Yes in America, its always burgers or pizzas. They don't really eat the same types of food as people eat here.
Sam: I like a good burger. I wish I could have one now, to wash the taste of that spider out of my mouth. I wonder if those monks we saw walking along the river eat hamburgers.
Pisey: They can if they eat it before noon, but it's usually the younger monks who like to eat fast food like burgers and fries.
Sokna: The city has certainly grown since your uncle and I left, there are just so many people.
Pisey: Yes, you don't see just one person walking down the steet anymore, now its large groups.

3 (5 mins): Activity 3. Comprehension

1. Tell students: 'We are going to listen to the conversation and order the pictures 1 to 8.'
2. Play the first exchange of tapescript 2.5.1 between Sokna, Panha and Sam. Stop the tape.

Sokna: I cannot believe how much Phnom Penh has grown. Panha remember how small it was when we left for America?
Panha: I know there were no tall buildings and it felt like a small town. Now its like several small towns put together.
Sam: It reminds me of home, I can't imagine living in a city without a building reaching into the sky. I have enjoyed seeing where you guys grew up.

3. Ask students "Which picture did they talk about?" students: "the last picture teacher!"/"the tall buildings." 'Good, write #1 on the line next to that picture.'
4. Play the rest of the tapescript.
5. Go over answers as a class.

Answers: 8 5 1 6 7 3 2 4

4 Choose the correct word to complete the sentences.

1. Panha thinks Phnom Penh looks like several small city / cities.
2. I can't imagine living in a city without buildings / a building reaching into the sky.
3. Seeing the elephant / elephants walking down the street was exciting.
4. I wonder if those monk / monks we saw along the river eat hamburgers / hamburger and French fry / fries.
5. You don't see just one person / people walking down the steet, but now you see them in groups / group.

5 Match the plural word with its rule.

1. _____ monk / monks	A. Some plural nouns have a different spelling from the singular.
2. _____ mango / mangoes	B. When a word ends with f or fe, change the f to v and add -s or -es
3. _____ person / people	C. Nouns that end in a consonant +y, change -y to -i and add -es
4. _____ knife / knives	D. Nouns that end with -o, -x, -s, -sh or -ch, add –es
5. _____ lady / ladies	E. Add -s to most nouns

6 Crossword.

4 (5 mins): Activity 4. Listen again and answer the questions (T.2.5.1)

1. Tell students "Turn to the tapescript 2.5.1 on page 219." Play the recording again if needed.
2. Tell students "Now turn back to the questions in Activity 4 and write the answers in your notebook.
3. Go over answers as a class. Choose students to read the correct sentences aloud for the class.

Answers: 1. cities 2. building 3. elephant 4. monks, hamburgers, fries 5. person, groups

5 (8 mins): Activity 5. Grammar

1. Allow students to look at the tapescript and try to work out the rules for making plural nouns. Have students write the number of the rule next to the correct pair of words.
2. Go over answers with class.

Answers: 1. E 2. D 3. A 4. B 5. C

6 (10 mins): Activity 6. Crossword

1. In pairs students complete the crossword puzzle with plural forms of the singular clues.

Answers:

Across		Down
2	wishes	1	babies
6	dictionaries	3	students
8	children	4	thieves
9	men	5	monkeys
10	elephants	7	classes
11	wives

(2 mins): Learner Assessment and Lesson Wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask students what you have to add to words when speaking about more than one.
2. Ask a couple of students to give you an example, hold up a pen and then 3 pens, etc …

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. It happens to everyone at least once in their careers! What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. It is best to have as little Khmer in the classroom as possible. If you do use Khmer, it is better not to use it to translate things that students can probably guess by themselves. This is particularly true of kids. When did you use Khmer today? Did you really need to use Khmer?
2. Students don't need to understand every word. (If they do, it means the class is too easy for them!) Did you spend too much time trying to make sure they understood everything?
3. How could you do this lesson better next time?
4. Your own question(s). _____?

5b A homecoming - An elephant and some crickets

1 Look at the pictures of the things Sam and his family did on their visit to Phnom Penh. How many of these things have you done or visited? Tell your partner.

2 Sam sent a postcard to his friend Ken in Japan. Quickly read what he wrote to him, what does he want Ken to do?

Dear Ken,

Greetings from Cambodia, I am visiting my cousins and other family members with my mum and dad.

We have seen many sights since arriving 3 days ago. My mum says that Phnom Penh is changing quickly. We started at the Royal Palace. My favourite part was the Silver Pagoda, the floors are covered with 5000 silver tiles and there are glittering gold and diamond statues all around.

We took a cyclo tour and saw some of the buildings and monuments that I can see from my bedroom window. We rode around the post office and the many different Wats in Phnom Penh, ending at Central Market where we had lunch. My mom went crazy when she saw a cart full of insects, with things like grasshoppers, termites and ants. She bought a bag of crickets, some grasshoppers and 3 tarantulas. I liked the crickets, they were crunchy and a little like popcorn; I ate a tarantula but it was gross and mushy in my mouth and I didn't want any ants.

I have also met many of my cousin Pisey's friends. One boy, Lyvann, reminds me of you, as he is also a musician. He plays the sralai, an oboe. I think you should come to Cambodia and meet him so you can play some songs together.

That's all for now, next week we are going to the countryside to visit my grandmother and attend a traditional festival.

Your Friend, Sam

Chapter 2, Unit 5, Lesson B

A family visit: A homecoming: An elephant and some crickets

(8 mins): Warmer. Play Stop the Bicycle

1. Write the following headings on the board: animals, food, countries, sports, things. Group students in 3's and have them copy the headings.
2. Tell them you have listed 5 categories on the board (animals, food, countries, sports, things) and you will call out a letter of the alphabet. Their team has to think of a word that starts with that letter for each of the categories. Once a team has a word for all 5 categories they shout: 'Stop the bicycle!' Then check the answers.
3. When a team has shouted, 'Stop the bicycle!', have them go up to the board and write the words under each heading for that letter.
4. Repeat with different letters.

1 (3 mins): Activity 1. Lead in

1. Focus students' attention on the photos in activity 1.
2. In pairs have them tell each other which of the things they have seen or done before.

2 (4 mins): Activity 2. Gist Question

1. Give students 2 minutes to quickly read the postcard and answer the question: What does Sam want Ken to do?

Answer: He wants Ken to meet Lyvann and play songs together on their instruments.

3 (8 mins): Activity 3. Comprehension

1. Give students more time to read and answer the comprehension question in their notebooks.
2. Check answers as a class.

Answers: 1. 3 days 2. The Silver Pagoda 3. Central Market 4. She saw a cart full of insects. 5. No, he said it was gross. 6. Lyvann 7. Next week

4 Look at the chart and complete the sentences below.

A, An, Some, Any
We use A or AN to talk about one thing.	We use SOME with things we can count (only with their plural).	We use ANY with things we can count (only with their plural).
A is used when a noun starts with a consonant sound: e.g. a dog, a book, a fish AN is used when a noun starts with a vowel sound: e.g. an apple, an hour, an egg	SOME is used in: * positive sentences: e.g. I have got some cookies. * questions, expressing requests and offers: e.g. Would you like some fish? Can I have some fries?	ANY is used in: * negative sentences: e.g. I haven't got any extra pens. * general questions: e.g. Did you eat any crickets? Are there any sodas left?

1. I ate_____crickets.
2. We took_____cyclo tour.
3. I didn't want_____ants.
4. I saw_____monuments and old buildings.
5. There was_____elephant walking down the street.

5 Look at the picture and find 5 things Sam saw on his tour of Phnom Penh. Write the things in sentences in your notebook.

- Sam saw a/an …
- Sam saw some …
- What didn't Sam see? Write one sentence about what he didn't see.

6 Write a postcard to your friend about a place that you have visited. Tell them about what you did and saw.

2. Ask individual students to read each explanation out loud.
3. Working in pairs have students complete the sentences with one of the quantifier words.

Answers: 1. some 2. a 3. any 4. some 5. an

5 (8 mins): Activity 5. Practise

1. Have students look at the picture and write 5 sentences of some things that Sam saw on his Phnom Penh tour, and one sentence about what he didn't see.

*make sure they use a, an, some or any in their sentences when needed.
Accept any answers as long as they are grammatically correct.

6 (10 mins): Activity 6. Writing

1. In their notebooks, have students write a postcard to a friend about a place they visited. Their postcards should include what they did and saw.

(2 mins): Learner Assessment and Lesson Wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask students to read their postcards to a neighbour.
2. Ask for 1 or 2 students to read their postcards out loud.

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever 'perfect'!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!
The old idea of the teacher being at the centre of the classroom is dead! How do you help your students feel 'heard' in the classroom?

1. Do you repeat correct answers after your students say them, or just say 'Yes, that's right'? Do you think students will listen to the kid giving the answer if they know you are going to say it again anyway?
2. How do you encourage students to respect students' speaking in front of the class?
3. Your own question(s). _____?

5c A homecoming - How many are there?

1 Look at the following singular nouns and match them to the pictures.

1. a car
2. a country
3. a toothbrush
4. a foot
5.a leaf

cars

2 T.2.5.2 Listen to the poem, what is it about?

THE PLURAL POEM

We'll begin with a box, and the plural is boxes;
But the plural of ox should be oxen not oxes.
One fowl is a goose, but two are called geese,
Yet the plural of moose should never be meese.

You may find a lone mouse or a nest full of mice,
But the plural of house is houses, not hice.
If the plural of man is always called men,
Why shouldn't the plural of pan be called pen?

If I spoke of my foot and showed you my feet,
When I give you a boot, would a pair be called beet?
If one is a tooth and a whole set are teeth,
Why shouldn't the plural of booth be called beeth?

If the singular is this, and the plural is these,
Why shouldn't the plural of kiss be kese?
Then one may be that, and three would be those,
Yet the plural of hat would never be hose.

We speak of a brother and also of brethren,
But though we say mother, we never say methren.
So plurals in English, I think you'll agree,
Are indeed very tricky--singularly.
--Anonymous

3 Fluency practise

1. Read to yourself as you listen to the poem again.
2. Read it again by yourself
3. With a partner or in your group, read the poem out loud. Listen to each other do you pronounce the words correctly?
4. With your classmates read the poem together out loud. Try to pronounce all the 's' sounds at the end of the words.

(8 mins): Warmer: "I packed my bag for Alaska"
A-las-ka /ə-'las-kə/

1. Write I packed my bag for Alaska … on the board.
2. Have students stand in a circle or rows. Each student says, 'I packed my bag for Alaska' and then contributes an item to be packed beginning with A and then with each following letter of the alphabet as it moves from student to student: I packed my bag for Alaska and in my bag I put an apple … the next student repeats what the student(s) said before and adds an item … and2 books, and a comb, etc.

Example:

St1: I packed my bag for Alaska and in my bag I put an apple.
St2: I packed my bag for Alaska in my bag I put an apple and 2 books.
St3: I packed my bag for Alaska in my bag I put an apple, 2 books and some cookies.

3. Allow game to continue around the room through the alphabet. If there are more students than letters, allow students to start at 'A' again, using different items.

1 (5 mins): Activity 1. Lead in

1. Write 5 singular nouns on the board: a car, a country, a toothbrush, a foot, a leaf.
2. With a partner, have them quiz each other on the rules for changing them to plural.
3. Match the plural picture and write the correct plural for each thing in the picture.

Answers: 1.a car—cars 2. a country—countries 3. a toothbrush—toothbrushes 4. a foot—feet 5. a leaf—leaves

2 (5 mins): Activity 2. Gist Question (T.2.5.2)

1. Have students read and listen to the poem and answer the gist question 'What is it about?'

Answer: plural nouns and their strange spelling

TAPESCRIPT 2.5.1

THE PLURAL POEM

We'll begin with a box, and the plural is boxes;
But the plural of ox should be oxen not oxes.
One fowl is a goose, but two are called geese,
Yet the plural of moose should never be meese.

You may find a lone mouse or a nest full of mice,
But the plural of house is houses, not hice.
If the plural of man is always called men,
Why shouldn't the plural of pan be called pen?

If I spoke of my foot and showed you my feet,
When I give you a boot, would a pair be called beet?
If one is a tooth and a whole set are teeth,
Why shouldn't the plural of booth be called beeth?

If the singular is this, and the plural is these,
Why shouldn't the plural of kiss be kese?
Then one may be that, and three would be those,
Yet the plural of hat would never be hose.

We speak of a brother and also of brethren,
But though we say mother, we never say methren.
So plurals in English, I think you'll agree,
Are indeed very tricky
--singularly.
--Anonymous

3 (10 mins): Activity 3. Fluency practise

1. Read and listen to the poem again.
2. Allow them a moment to read it to themselves silently again.
3. In pairs or groups of 3, have students read the poem out loud for each other and receive peer feedback on their pronunciation.
4. Finally as a class read the poem out loud together.

Students read, listen for the dropping of the final "s" sound*

5. If there is time, have individual students read one paragraph of the poem out loud.

4 Read again. Answer the questions.

1. What is the plural of ox?
2. Do you know what the plural of moose is?
3. What do you call more than one pan?
4. Do you wear boots or beet?
5. If you receive more than one kiss, what have you gotten?
6. Would you own many hats or hose?
7. If you and your friend took your mother and their mother to lunch you could say, "We had lunch with our methren / mothers."

5 Game

- Change the singular nouns to plural
- Squares with pictures, you must spell the plural form i.e. car-cars, C-A-R-S
- Squares with sentences, the entire sentence must be changed to the plural: i.e. That peach is delicious Those peaches are delicious
- If a player is incorrect, they stay on the original square.

Use a bottle cap as your die:
label side =2 squares, bottom side =1 square

Congratulations!

You finished Unit 5! Tick (✓) the things you can do.

- ☐ I correctly use the different forms of plural spelling.
- ☐ I use some, any, a and an to talk about one and more than one thing.
- ☐ I can write a postcard telling about what I have done on a trip.
- ☐ I can say the 's' sound at the end of plural words.

4 (9 mins): Activity 4. Read again. Answer the questions

1. Do the first question together as a class. Have students point to where the answer is in the text.
2. Tell students to answer the other questions in their notebooks.
3. Ask instruction checking questions and give students a 6 minute limit.
4. Students compare with their group/ partner.
5. Check answers as a class.

Answers: 1. oxen 2. Yes/No/Moose 3. pans 4. boots 5. kisses 6. many hats 7. mothers

5 (9 mins): Activity 5. Game

1. Play the board game in groups of 3. Students can use pen caps or erasers as game markers and a bottle cap as a die: label side=2 squares, bottom side=1 square.
2. Write the rules on the board: "Change the word or sentence to the plural"
3. Students play the game (e.g. if the square has a picture of a car, they must spell CARS). If the player is incorrect, they do not move, but stay on the original square.
4. Play continues until a player reaches the finish square, or class time runs out.

(2 mins): Learner Assessment and Lesson Wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask students to look at the 'can do' statements.
2. Compare with a partner.
3. Ask students how they feel about the can do statements. Tell them not to worry about the ones they don't tick.

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Many teachers have students copy out the date, title of the lesson and other information into their textbooks. How long does this take?
2. What percentage of a 50 minute lesson does this take up?
3. What do students actually learn by doing this?
4. Do you think you waste time doing things like this when students could be learning in your class?
5. Your own question(s). _____?

Unit 6 - Travelling to grandma's

6a Travelling to grandma's - Easily Sam, easily

1 Look at these pictures, what activity is each person doing? Tell your partner.

A. _____

B. _____

C. _____

D. _____

E. _____

F. _____

G. _____

H. _____

2 T.2.6.1 Listen to the conversation and answer the question:

- What are Sam and his family doing?

3 T.2.6.1 Listen again and decide how the person in each of the pictures above is doing the activity. Write the word that describes how they do it in your notebook.

Chapter 2, Unit 6, Lesson A

A family visit: Travelling to grandma's: Easily Sam, Easily

This lesson uses recordings which can be downloaded from the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sport website. (50 mins)

(5 mins): Warmer. My Neighbour's Cat

1. Draw a picture of a cat on the board.

Angry

2. Write "My neighbour's cat" on the board. Check meaning of "neighbour." Say "Students, if this cat belongs to my neighbour, where does it live? Does it live at my house?" S: "No!" "Does it live at the house next to mine?" S: "Yes!"
3. Tell students "My neighbour's cat is an angry cat." Write angry on the board. Then write the rest of the letters of the alphabet under the A of angry.
4. Ask students to help you add to the list of adjectives. Write the adjectives the students recommend next to the appropriate letter. For example, a student might say "Nice!" Write nice on the board next to the letter n.
5. Continue adding to the list until the students are having trouble thinking of adjectives.

1 (5 mins): Activity 1. Lead in

1. Have students look at pictures A-H, ask them to identify the action in each picture.

Answers: A. working B. waiting C. speaking D. listening E. running F. driving G. riding H. driving

2 (5 mins): Activity 2. Gist task (T.2.6.1)

1. Ask students to listen to the conversation and answer the question: What are Sam and his family doing?

Answer: They are driving to Preah Vihear to visit Pisey and Sam's grandmother.

TAPESCRIPT 2.6.1

Panha: Yes. I've done it!
Sokna: Done what?
Panha: I have successfully hired a van to drive us up to Preah Vihear tomorrow.

Next day …
Sam: Dad why are we driving so slowly? It's taking forever to get to grandma's house.
Panha: Well, because of all the activity on the road I have to drive slowly. There is a lot going on. It isn't like Los Angeles where everyone drives fast.
Thearak: Right and really the only things that move quickly in the countryside are the chickens running across the road.
Pisey: Yeah, just watch the young kids on their motorbikes carelessly driving between other cars. They don't want to wait patiently for others to pass before they pull into the road.
Sam: WHAT!! I CAN'T HEAR YOU, YOU'RE SPEAKING TOO QUIETLY.
Sokna: Sam! Take out your ear plugs, Pisey isn't speaking quietly; you're listening to your music loudly!
Sam: Oh, sorry.

3 (7 mins): Activity 3. Vocabulary details

1. Tell students to look at the pictures again.
2. Tell students "We are going to use some of the words from the tapescript to describe how these activities are being done."
3. Tell the students to look at the man in the first picture. Ask "what is he doing?" S: "working on computer." How do you think he feels, happy, successful…? S: "successful." Write successful on the board.
4. Ask students "What did Panha say he had done? S: "hired a van successfully." Write successfully on the board.
5. Write the full sentence on the board, He hired a van successfully.
6. Explain "We use words like successfully to talk about how somebody does something."

Answers: a. successfully b. patiently c. quietly d. loudly e. quickly f. slowly g. carelessly h. carefully

4 T.2.6.2 How are they speaking? Listen carefully and match the words in the box to the pictures.

angrily | shyly | sadly | excitedly | politely | proudly

T.2.6.3 Listen and check.

Look at (T.2.6.3) on page 220. Practise saying each sentence the same way as the tape.

5 The Adverb Game

- One student chooses a manner word and carries out orders shouted by classmates in that manner, i.e. Sit down. Close the door.
- The object is to guess how they are acting, i.e. quickly, sadly

6 How do you do things?

- Complete the sentences with a word that describes how you do things.

I speak English well.

1. I speak English _____.
2. I walk to school _____.
3. I run _____.
4. In a Wat, I speak _____.
5. I cook _____.

- Have a conversation with your partner or group about how you do things.

/moeyscambodia /krou.moeys.gov.kh http://oer.moeys.gov.kh #OERCambodia

4 (7 mins): Activity 4. Practise (T.2.6.2) and (T.2.6.3)

1. Go over the words in the box. Ask students, 'How would you stand angrily? shyly? ...
2. Play tapescript 2.6.2 and have students listen to how each person is speaking. Match the word in the box with the picture.

TAPESCRIPT 2.6.2

1. I got an A+ on my report.
2. Excuse me.
3. Go away.
4. Look! They are my friends!
5. Please don't look at me.
6. I haven't got anything to do.

3. Listen to tapescript 2.6.3 to check answers with students. This tapescript gives the answers to activity 4. the way they speak is in bold in the answers below.

Answers: See (T.2.6.3)

TAPESCRIPT 2.6.3

1. "I got an A on my report!" she said proudly.
2. "Excuse me." he said politely.
3. "Go away!" she said angrily.
4. "Look! They are my friends!" he said excitedly.
5. "Please don't look at me," she said shyly.
6. "I haven't got anything to do." he said sadly.

4. Have students look at the tapescript in the back of the book (T.2.6.3), have them practise repeating each sentence with the same voice emotion.
5. Play recording (T.2.6.3) again, pausing after each sentence and allow students to repeat in the same manner.

5 (8 mins): Activity 5. Game

The Adverb Game

1. One student steps out of the room and chooses an adverb. i.e. quickly
2. The student returns to classroom and other students give them orders. i.e. Walk around the room. Sit down. Shut the door.
3. The volunteer follows the orders in the manner of his chosen word. (He/ She must walk around the room quickly.)
4. After completing 3 orders, the class can guess which word he chose.
5. Choose another volunteer.
   Here is a list of words you can use: quickly, slowly, angrily, happily, quietly, loudly, lazily, painfully, silently, sadly, politely, proudly (These words can be written on small pieces of paper before class and drawn from a hat during the activity.)

6 (9 mins): Activity 6. Productive task

1. Students complete the sentences with a correct word that describes how they do the things in the sentences.
2. Pair students to read their sentences to each other.

Example: A: I speak English well.
B: Really? I don't, I speak English slowly. I walk to school quickly. How about you?
A: ...

(2 mins): Learner Assessment and Lesson Wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask 2 or 3 students to read their statements from Activity 6.
2. Ask students "What are the most common last 2 letters of the words we have looked at today? Answer: -ly.
3. Ask students how they feel about this lesson. Have them walk out of the classroom in the manner they feel about the lesson, i.e. proudly, sadly, excitedly

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Do you remember grammar at school? Was it exciting, or boring?
2. Do you think children learn when they are very bored?
3. Did you talk about grammar a lot and make the class boring, or did you let students practise the grammar?
4. How could you do this lesson better next time?
5. Your own question(s). _____?

6b Travelling to grandma's - Nervously trying

1 Did Sam have a good day at his grandmother's house?

2 Quickly read Pisey's journal entry. Was your guess correct?

Wow, today was a tough day. My American cousin Sam had a lot of problems acting properly today. When we arrived at grandma's house in Preah Vihear, Sam eagerly jumped out of the van and shouted, "Woo-hoo, we made it!" so loudly grandma jumped in surprise.

He then quickly ran up to and hugged her roughly. This made grandma firmly grab him and scold him. She told him, "When you greet someone older, you must approach them slowly and respectfully. You should always politely greet them."

Later at dinner he carelessly dropped a whole fish on the floor, which made grandma look at him and shake her head seriously. He then clumsily knocked over his drink. Again she said to him, "When we eat, you must never greedily take more food than you need."

Tonight as we were going to bed, he sadly looked at me and said, "I don't think grandma is a very friendly person. She speaks to me very angrily." I told him that she doesn't always act so seriously and he shouldn't act nervously around her. Tomorrow when we go to the temple, he will stand closely to me and copy what I do. I told him this would help show grandma that he can act respectfully.

3 Read again and answer 'TRUE' or 'FALSE'. Rewrite the false statements and make them true.

Ex. Sam reluctantly jumped out of the van. False, Sam eagerly jumped out of the van.

1. Sam shouted loudly when they arrived.
2. Sam slowly and gently hugged grandma.
3. Grandma told Sam that one must always greedily take more food than they need.
4. Sam doesn't think Grandma is a friendly person.
5. Sam is going learn how to act better from Pisey.

Chapter 2, Unit 6, Lesson B

A family visit: Travelling to grandma's: Nervously trying

(7 mins): Warmer.

1. Divide the class into small teams of three or four and appoint a team secretary for each team.
2. Write on the board: I was talking ...
3. Explain that the teams have to write as many sentences as they can, using the phrase on the board plus a word that describes how they were doing it. The sentences must make sense.

Example: I was talking ... loudly, quickly, fluently, quietly, slowly, softly, well, badly, etc.

4. Set a 2-minute time limit. Then get the teams to read out their sentences in turn. As the other teams read out their answers, the team secretaries should cross out any sentences on their list, which are the same.
5. Teams score one point for each correct sentence. When all the sentences have been checked, the team with the most points wins that round. Other sentence phrases:
   She was sleeping … She paints ... He drove ... They spoke … She sings … They ran …

(3 mins): Lead In (books closed)

1. Write 'speaking, walking, eating, greeting, offering or accepting something' on the board.
2. Ask students to think about how they act differently when they visit their grandparents or older relatives.
3. Students talk in their groups about how they act when with their older relatives when doing the activities on the board.

1 (1 min): Activity 1. Guess

1. Focus students' attention on the picture on page 46.
2. Ask them to guess what kind of a day Sam had at grandma's house.

2 (3 mins): Activity 2. Gist Question

1. Have them read Pisey's journal entry quickly. Allow 2 minutes.
2. Ask students if their guess about Sam was correct. Ask for examples to support their idea.

Answer: (accept all ideas) He did not have a good day.

3 (7 mins): Activity 3. Detail Reading

1. Have students read the passage again more slowly.
2. Ask them to decide if the statements True or False.
3. If a statement is false, have them rewrite the statement to make the statement true in their notebook.
4. Go over the answers as a class.

Answers: 1. True 2. False; Sam hugged her quickly and roughly. 3. False; One must never greedily take more food than they need. 4. True 5. True/False; Act more respectfully.

4 A. Look at pictures A-D. What do you think happened? Put them in the correct order. Use the phrases 1-4 to help you.

1. Saturday / Finn / get up / have breakfast / got on / bicycle

2. evening / he / sit / at home / with / broken arm

3. he / fall off / bicycle / broke / arm

4. he / ride / down the road / not / look / ahead / cow /

B. Use the words under the pictures to tell the story. Remember to use the correct form of the words.

1. On Saturday, Finn got up, had breakfast and …

C. Change the words in the box to words that describe how we do things. Then use 3 of them to add to your story. Use the story starter below the words to help you write your story in your notebook.

a. clumsy— clumsily	b. quick— _____	c. careful— _____	d. careless—_____
e. sad—_____	f. slow— _____	g. eager— _____	h. nervous— _____
i. angry—_____	j. sleepy— _____

On Saturday, Finn got up sleepily, had breakfast quickly….

D. Write the next part of the story with 3 more words from the box. Continue your story in your notebook. Start out:

'Six weeks later, on Saturday morning, Finn got up…'

5 Game: Do as I say not as I do

Play a game with your teacher.

1. Listen to the sentence your teacher says.
2. When you hear the word that describes how they do the action, act out that action.
3. Listen carefully; your teacher may sneakily act in a different way from what they say. If you copy that action you will be out of the game.

/moeyscambodia /krou.moeys.gov.kh http://oer.moeys.gov.kh #OERCambodia

4 (20 mins): Activity 4. A Story

1. In pairs focus students' attention on the pictures; tell them they are going to use those pictures and the words below them to tell a story, only they aren't in the correct order.

(2 mins): 1. Ex. A: Tell them to put the pictures in the order that they happened.
Answers: A, D, C, B

(4 mins): 2. Ex. B: Next have them use the phrases under the pictures 1-4 to tell the story to each other, taking turns to tell a part.
Answers: (Example only, accept any story version) On Saturday Finn got up and had breakfast. He got on his bicycle and rode into the country. He was riding down the road not looking ahead when a cow walked across the road. He fell off of his bicycle and broke his arm. That evening he sat at home with a broken arm.

(4 mins): 3. Ex. C: Have students to change the words in the box into descriptive words of how we do things. Then use 3 words to add to the story. Have them write their story in their notebook using the story starter below the words.
Answers: a. clumsily b. quickly c. carefully d. carelessly e. sadly f. slowly g. eagerly h. nervously i. angrily j. sleepily

(10 mins): 4. Ex. D: Have students continue the story with the story starter in their notebooks.
Answer: Students' own ideas.

5 (5 mins): Activity 5. Do as I say, not as I do

This is a teacher led activity where the students react to what you say.
1. Say a sentence i.e. I can run quickly, and mime doing the action in a different manner, i.e. slowly.
2. Students have to listen to your words and mime what you say, but not how you act. If they do, they are out of the game.
3. Play 2 or 3 rounds alternating acting out your words correctly and incorrectly.

(4 mins): Learner Assessment and Lesson Wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Have one student read the first part of their story out loud.
2. Ask 1 or 2 comprehension questions of other students, i.e. how did the cow run into the road?
3. Have another student read the second part of their story.
4. Ask 1 or 2 comprehension questions of other students, i.e. how did Finn eat breakfast?

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Children learn a lot of things in the classroom, not just English! They learn to listen to each other and respect ideas different to their own. They learn to work well with other students too. What other things can students learn in the classroom, aside from English?
2. Think of today's lesson. What other skills did your students learn today?
3. How can you help students develop other skills that would help them become better citizens of your country?
4. Your own question(s). _____?

6c Travelling to grandma's - Pleasing grandma!

1 Look at the pictures, how do you think Sam acted at the pagoda today? Tell your partner.

◦ I think Sam behaved…

2 T.2.6.4 Listen to Grandma speaking to Sam after their visit to the pagoda today, did she think that Sam behaved the same way you did?

3 T.2.6.4 Listen again. Put a tick (✓) or a cross (×) next to the sentences.

1. Sam went with his grandma to the pagoda today. ✓
2. Grandma knew he would act politely. _____
3. Sam quickly learned what to do from Pisey. _____
4. Sam spoke to the monks quickly and loudly. _____
5. He packed carelessly and did not dress respectfully. _____
6. Grandma thinks he still speaks loudly. _____
7. Grandma allowed him to hug her gently. _____

Chapter 2, Unit 6, Lesson C

A family visit: Travelling to grandma's: Pleasing grandma

This lesson uses recordings which can be downloaded from the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sport website. (50 mins)

(10 mins): Warmer. Riddles

1. Divide the class into teams of up to 6 students in each.
2. Write 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1 on the board.
3. Read a riddle (a type of question which describes something in a difficult and confusing way, and which has a clever or funny answer, often asked as a game) out loud, line by line. As you read each line to the riddle out, teams can guess what the answer is. If they are correct after one guess they score 6 points, after 2 guesses five points, etc…
4. If a team gives the incorrect answer, they cannot have another try.

Riddles to use:

I am not a bird, but I can fly.
I eat insects and fruit.
I'm dark.
I sleep upside down.
Answer: a bat

Every country has one.
I have different colours.
I need wind to fly.
The Cambodian one is red, white and blue.
Answer: a flag

I'm green on the outside.
I'm white on the inside.
I'm hard and you can eat or drink me.
I'm hairy.
I grow in hot countries.
Answer: a coconut

I'm a special day.
People buy each other presents on this day.
I'm romantic.
I'm on February 14th.
Answer: Valentine's Day

1 (5 mins): Activity 1. Lead in

1. Ask students how they behave when they visit a pagoda with their family.
2. Write I think Sam behaved … on the board.
3. Focus students' attention on the pictures.
4. Ask them, "How do you think Sam acted at the pagoda today? Look at the pictures and tell your partner."
5. After a couple of minutes, ask one or two students their opinion on Sam's behaviour and why they think that.

Answers: Students' own predictions.

2 (5 mins): Activity 2. Gist (T.2.6.4)

1. Tell students to listen to the conversation and check to see if their predictions were correct.

TAPESCRIPT 2.6.4

Grandma: Sam I happily watched you at the temple today. You behaved well.
Sam: Thank you grandma. I tried hard.
Grandma: Well I was a little worried that you wouldn't act politely.
Sam: Thank you. I was nervous, but I closely watched Pisey and quickly learned what to do.
Grandma: Tell me, how should you speak to a monk?
Sam: When you speak to a monk, you must speak calmly and softly. I also learned that one must not approach them, but be friendly.
Grandma: What about when we eat?
Sam: After the other night I now know not to greedily take as much food as I want and I should eat slowly.
Grandma: Correct. Remember when one acts fast, one will act clumsily.
Sam: I'm glad I carefully packed my clothes too. The correct way to visit a temple like this is to dress respectfully too, I saw some people wearing shorts and t-shirts. I know you would have sadly let me dress like that also if I didn't have any other clothes, so I'm glad I didn't carelessly pack only shorts and t-shirts.
Grandma: Very good. You might speak loudly sometimes, but I can see you can learn to behave properly.
Sam: Thanks grandma. Can I hug you now?
Grandma: Yes you can but remember, gently not too tightly.

3 (6 mins): Activity 3. Comprehension (T.2.6.4)

1. Tell students to work with a partner.
2. Tell students to try and remember/guess if the sentences are true ✓, or false x.
3. Ask instruction checking questions and give a 3 minute time limit.
4. Tell students to listen and check.
5. Tell students to compare with their group/partner.
6. Ask and answer questions as a class.

Answers: 1. ✓ 2. x 3. ✓ 4. x 5. x 6. ✓ 7. ✓

4 T.2.6.5 Listen to the song and mime the actions using the 'L-Y' words.

L-Y

You're wearing your squeaky shoes
And right there taking a snooze
Is a tiger, so how do you walk on by?
Silently ... silently ... silent L-Y

You're a secret agent man
Who's after the secret plan
How do you act so they don't know you're as spy?
Normally, normally, normal L-Y

At an eating contest you boast
That you can eat the most
How do you down your fiftieth piece of pie?
Eagerly, eagerly, eager L-Y

On the lake your boat upset
And your clothes got soaking wet
How do you stand and wait for them to dry?
D-d-d patiently, d-d-d patiently, patient L-Y

In the public library
You fall and you hurt your knee
But the sign says, "quiet please," so how can you cry?
Quietly, quietly, quiet L-Y

As you walk along the street
A porcupine you meet
How do you shake his hand when he says hi?
Carefully, carefully, careful L-Y

You enter a very dark room
And sitting there in the gloom
Is Dracula! Now how do you say goodbye?
Immediately, immediately, immediate L-Y

Bye Bye!

4 (10 mins): Activity 4. Song

1. Ask students how they would mime actions in these different manners: silently, normally, eagerly, patiently, quietly, carefully, immediately.
2. Practice for 1 minute by calling out a manner and students mime it.
3. Listen to the song L-Y and have students mime the actions when they hear those words.
4. Listen again. Have students sing the song and mime the actions.

TAPESCRIPT 2.6.5

Is a tiger, so how do you walk on by?
Silently ... silently ... silent L-Y
You're a secret agent man
Who's after the secret plan
How do you act so they don't know you're as spy?
Normally, normally, normal L-Y
At an eating contest you boast
That you can eat the most
How do you down your fiftieth piece of pie?
Eagerly, eagerly, eager L-Y
On the lake your boat upset
And your clothes got soaking wet
How do you stand and wait for them to dry?
D-d-d patiently, d-d-d patiently, patient L-Y
In the public library
You fall and you hurt your knee
But the sign says, "quiet please," so how can you cry?
Quietly, quietly, quiet L-Y
As you walk along the street
A porcupine you meet
How do you shake his hand when he says hi?
Carefully, carefully, careful L-Y
You enter a very dark room
And sitting there in the gloom
Is Dracula! Now how do you say goodbye?
Immediately, immediately, immediate L-Y
Bye Bye!

5 (10 mins): Activity 5. Crossword Puzzle

1. Tell students to work with a partner.
2. Tell student A to turn to the crossword at the back of the book on page 238. Tell student B to look at page 239. Tell them not to look at each other's half of the crossword.
3. Students have to complete the crossword with adverbs of manner. Student A has the across words and Student B has the down words. Students take turns reading their clues.
4. When they have finished, students can compare their crosswords to check the answers.

(4 mins): Learner Assessment and Lesson Wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask students what the words they have studied in chapter 2.
2. Ask one or two students questions about how they would act at a pagoda.
3. Say, "Your English lesson is over, how do you exit the classroom?"

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong.
What's important is to learn from it!
Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Do you always start class on time? Why/ not?
2. If you are waiting for students so that you can start, do you think students will have a reason to change their behaviour?
3. Do you feel you make the most of your 50 minute lesson?
4. Your own question(s). _____?

3. The first student to guess everything in their classmate's picnic box wins!
4. Go around and help students as necessary.

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Write some of the mistakes the students make on the board as they were speaking. Do not single out students.
2. Ask students to tell you what is wrong in each of the sentences. Use questions to help them (e.g. Do we say 3 apple? What should we say?)

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Do you remember grammar at school? Was it exciting, or boring?
2. Do you think children learn when they are very bored?
3. Did you talk about grammar a lot and make the class boring, or did you let students practise the grammar?
4. How could you do this lesson better next time?
5. Your own question(s)._____?

7b Yum, yum, yum! - Granny's food shop!

1 Look at the picture for 1 minute. Can you remember everything in the picture?

2 Read quickly. Did you guess right?

Hi welcome to my granny's shop! Mum and dad often work here. I sometimes help them too. We have some sugar and salt over there! We have got some fruit as well. We have 13 oranges, 20 bananas and 50 apples. Eggs are my favourite! A lot of people buy eggs at our shop. I think eggs are their favourite too! We've got some bread and some corn, but we haven't got any meat! Oh, and we've only got 1 tomato left. We need to buy some more tomatoes! Can you see my chocolate bars? I have got 6 chocolate bars and some sweets. Granny sometimes hides them! She thinks chocolate bars and sweets are bad. She doesn't like them. Can you help me find my chocolate bars and sweets?

Pisey: OK. How long do they take to cook?
(sizzling sound of the barbecue)
Mum: Don't worry! I'll tell you when they're cooked.
Pisey: What else can I do?
Mum: Will you chop the green beans and the cauliflower please?
Pisey: OK. Can you pass the knife please?
(sound of chopping)
Mum: Will you pass the vegetables please Pisey?
Pisey: Here they are mum!
Mum: The chicken and prawns are cooked. Can you take them off the barbecue, and will you put them on the plates please?
Pisey: I'm finished mum!
Mum: Thanks Pisey!

3 (8 mins): Activity 3. Number the sentences

1. Ask the students to read through the sentences and underline words they don't know.
2. Write all of the unknown vocabulary on the board and go through the meanings with the class.
3. Encourage the students to provide the meanings if possible.
4. Ask them to listen to the conversation between Pisey and her mum.
5. Ask them to number the sentences as they hear them.
6. Highlight number 1 as an example.
7. When they finish, ask them to compare their answers with their partner.
8. Go through the answers together.

Answers: 1. F 2. D 3. H 4. C 5. G 6. E 7. A 8. B

4 (5 mins): Activity 4. Grammar

1. Write 'can you' and 'will you' on the board.
2. Make some requests of the students e.g. Can you pass the pencil …?
   Will you close the window…? etc.
3. Encourage the students to make similar requests of each other.
4. Ask them to look at the pictures of Pisey and her mum.
5. Explain that 'can' and 'will' can be used in a casual way with friends and family to make requests.

5 Match the sentences.

8. Will you change the channel?

6 (10 mins): Activity 6. Role play the conversation

1. Ask the students to look at the picture of Pisey and her mum in the kitchen.
2. Ask them to describe the picture to their partners.
3. Role play the example conversation with a student.
4. Split the class into 2 groups.
5. Group A = Mum, and group B = Pisey.
6. Put the students into pairs. One from group A, and one from group B.
7. Ask them to use the picture to practise the conversation.
8. When they finish, switch the roles and ask them to practise again.
9. Repeat these stages until they have had enough practise.

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Make some can and will requests to your students.
2. Praise students who tried speaking in English as best as they could today. Encourage the others!

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. If instructions are all in English, students have much more time practicing their English. How many of your instructions were in English? Is there a way that you could have done all your instructions in English and had the students understand?
2. How could you do this lesson better next time?
3. Your own question(s)._____?

8b Family & Friends - The wedding ceremony

1 Think about the last wedding you went to.

• Tell your partner about the wedding.

2 Read the story quickly.

◦ Who ate the most food?

Pisey's Uncle Panha, aunt Sokna and cousin Sam are visiting from America. They are at the wedding together.

Mum: This is your cousin Sam. Pisey, come and say hello.
Pisey: Hi Sam!
Sam: Good evening Pisey, I'm very pleased to meet you.
Pisey: Hi Uncle Panha, hi Aunt Sokna it's great to see you again.
Mum: OK everyone, let's join the wedding.

Aunt Sokna: Mmm! This food is very tasty.
Sam: Would you mind passing the vegetables please daddy?
Uncle Panha: Here they are.
Sam: Thank you. Mummy, could you please cut my chicken?
Sam: Daddy, would you mind taking the shells off my prawn's please?
Sam: Pisey, could you please stop making noises when you eat?

Pisey: Sam, 'stop acting like a baby'?
Mom: Pisey, that's very rude. Say sorry to your cousin please.
Pisey: No, I won't.
Sam: Pisey, would you please stop crying?
Pisey: No, I won't.
Sam: Aunt, could I please move my seat?
Pisey: There's room for your seat in the garden Sam.

- Pisey, would you please stop crying?
- Aunt, could I please move my seat?

4 (7 minutes): Activity 4. Phrase and picture match

1. Ask the students to look at the pictures and tell you what they see.
2. Ask them to read the story again and match the phrases with the pictures.
3. When finished, ask them to compare their answers with a partner.
4. Go through the answers together.
5. Encourage the students to correct any mistakes themselves.

Answers: 1. E 2. C 3. A 4. B 5. F 6. D

5 (15 mins): Activity 5. Sentence writing

1. Ask the students to look at the picture and tell their partners what they can see.
2. Ask them to write five requests using 'would' and 'could'.
3. When finished, ask them to compare their answers with a partner.
4. Ask a student to write a sentence on the board. Ask them to choose someone else to write a sentence, and so on until you have 5 sentences.
5. Ask students to work in pairs to correct any mistakes.
6. Go through answers together.

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Make some could and would requests.
2. Praise students who tried speaking in English as best as they could today. Encourage the others!

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

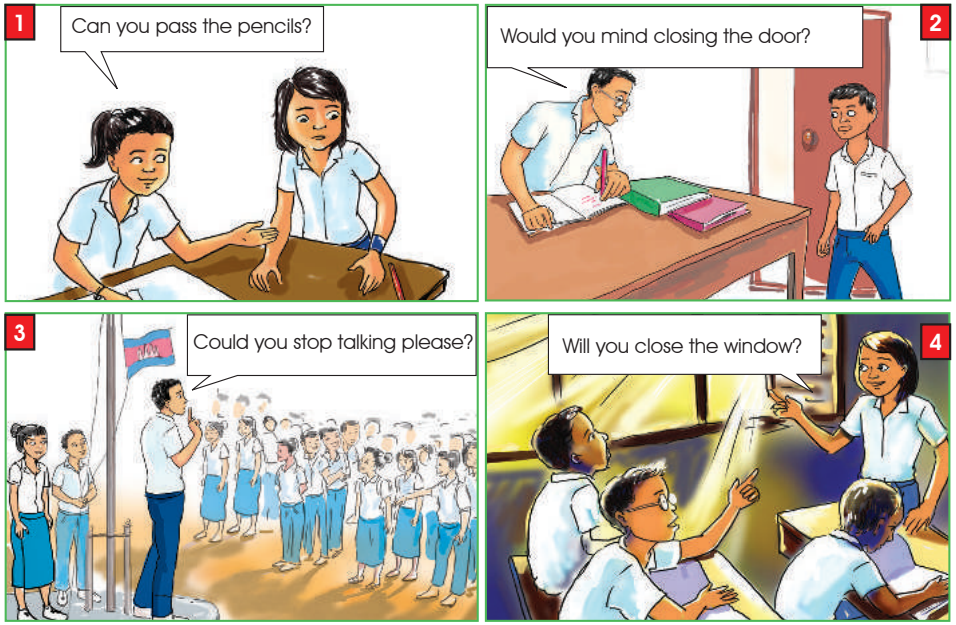
Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Many teachers have students copy out the date, title of the lesson and other information into their textbooks. How long does this take?
2. What percentage of a 50 minute lesson does this take up?
3. What do students actually learn by doing this?
4. Do you think you waste time doing things like this when students could be learning in your class?
5. Your own question(s).____?

8c Family & Friends - Making requests at school

1 Look at the pictures. Which are formal and which are casual?

- Tell your partner why they are formal.
- Tell your partner why they are casual.



2 T.3.8.3 Listen to the conversation.

◦ Why is Pisey crying?

TAPESCRIPT 3.8.3

Mr Sovann: Good afternoon Mrs. Oum. Could you take a seat please? Good afternoon Pisey, would you mind closing the door please?
Mrs. Oum: Good afternoon Mr Sovann. Could you tell me why I'm here please?
Mr. Sovann: Of course Mrs. Oum. We are having some problems with Pisey's behaviour. She has been very cheeky to some of our teachers.
Pisey: Mr. Sovann, I'm only playing and having fun.
Mr. Sovann: Would you mind being quiet while I speak to your mother?
Pisey: (((starts to cry softly)))
Mrs. Oum: Could you be quiet and stop crying Pisey while I talk to Mr. Sovann.
Pisey: (((starts to sob and cry louder)))
Mr. Sovann: Pisey, would you mind waiting outside while we talk about your punishments?
Pisey: Hmmph! (((stamps her feet as she walks))) (((slams the door shut))).
Mrs. Oum: I'm very sorry Mr. Sovann; she can be very naughty sometimes.
Mr. Sovann: That's OK; you're not to blame Mrs. Oum.
Mrs. Oum: Thank you!
Mr. Sovann: Would you mind allowing Pisey to stay behind after class for one week? We want her to clean the classroom, empty the trash, and clean the bathroom.
Mrs. Oum: That's no problem Mr. Sovann. She needs to learn how to behave. Could you arrange for someone to call me when she is finished so I can pick her up?
Mr. Sovann: Thank you Mrs. Oum. I'll call you myself as soon as she has finished her duties. Goodbye!
Mrs. Oum: Goodbye Mr. Sovann. Thanks for your help.

3 (5 mins): Activity 3. Rewrite the sentences (T.3.8.4)

1. Go through the example with the class.
2. Ask them to listen and rewrite the rest of the sentences in their notebooks.
3. When they finish, ask them to compare their sentences with a partner.
4. Ask a student to write the first sentence on the board.
5. Ask them to choose a student to write the second sentence, and so on until all of the sentences are on the board.
6. In pairs – ask students to correct any errors they can see.

6 (6 mins): Activity 6. Sentence writing

1. In groups of 3 – ask the students to choose a character from picture 1 and picture 2.
2. Ask them to write 3 formal requests for their characters in picture 1.
3. Ask them to write 3 casual requests for their characters in picture 2.
4. When finished, ask them to compare their answers with their group.
5. Ask 1 member from each group to write 1 formal and 1 casual request on the board.
6. In their groups – students correct any errors in the sentences together.
7. Go through the answers with the class and encourage students to correct mistakes themselves.

7 (9 mins): Activity 7. Speaking activity

1. In the same groups of 3 – students choose the same characters as they did in activity 6.
2. Ask them to look at picture 1.
3. Ask them to take turns making formal requests from their character e.g. Miss Mom: would you mind passing the water please Mr Phearith?
4. The students get 1 point for each correct statement and they drop out of the game if they cannot think of a request.
5. The game ends when nobody can think of a request.
6. Repeat the steps above with picture 2, but ask them to make casual requests e.g. Pisey: Will you pass the paints please Vottey?
7. Monitor the groups and take note of any mistakes.
8. When finished, write any mistakes on the board.
9. In groups – ask the students to correct the mistakes.
10. Go through the answers together.

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up
Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask some students about the 'Can do' statements.
2. Compare with a partner.
3. Ask students how they feel about the 'Can do' statements. Tell students not to worry about the ones they don't tick.

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Getting students to tell you about the topic is a good teaching strategy. It maximises students' talk time and makes them confident. It also helps them use what they already know to help them learn more. This means they remember the lessons better. Do you get the students to tell you about the lesson or do you explain everything yourself? How can you make students more active in your classes? Think of 2 ways. Try them out in your next classes.
2. How do you encourage students to share their ideas with the class? Giving them positive comments such as 'great idea' and 'thank you' is one. Also giving students time to think and not criticising wrong answers helps. Any more ideas?
3. Your own question(s)._____?

Unit 9 - We all love to shop

9a We all love to shop - Shopping for food

1 Look at the pictures.

• Tell your partner what your family buys when they go to the supermarket.

Answers: 1. We use how many to talk about nouns we can count. 2. We use how much to talk about nouns we can't count.

4 (8 mins): Activity 4. Read and circle (T.3.9.2)

1. Do the first task together.
2. Ask students if you can count bananas. (Yes)
3. Ask them – 'Do we use how much or how many with nouns we can count?' (How many)
4. Ask them – 'What is Vottey's answer to the shopkeeper's question?' (Four please)
5. Write the correct conversation on the board e.g.
   Vottey: Can I have some bananas please?
   Shopkeeper: How many?
   Vottey: Four please.
6. Ask them to do the same with the other conversations.
7. When finished, ask them to compare their answers with a partner.
8. Listen, check and repeat.

Answers: See (T.3.9.2)

TAPESCRIPT 3.9.2

a. Vottey: Can I have some bananas please?
Shopkeeper: How many?
Vottey: Four please.

b. Vottey: Can I have some salt please?
Shopkeeper: How much?
Vottey: 10 grams please.

5 (13 mins): Activity 5. Look at the pictures

1. Ask students to look at the pictures.
2. Ask them to tell their partners which foods we can count, and which we can't count.
3. Go through the answers together. Encourage students to correct any errors they hear.
4. Ask them to write a conversation for each of the foods in the pictures.
5. Ask them to use the conversations in activity 4 to help.
6. Ask them to write about Vottey and the shopkeeper.
7. When finished, ask a student to write their conversation on the board.
8. Ask them to choose someone to write the next conversation, and so on until all five conversations are on the board.
9. In pairs – ask students to correct any mistakes they can see.
10. Go through the answers and encourage students to correct the mistakes themselves.
11. Ask them to practise the conversations with their partner.
12. Ask them to take turns being Vottey and the shopkeeper.

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up
Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask some students to ask each other for things using "Can I have ...?"
2. Praise students who tried speaking in English as best as they could today. Encourage the others!

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Do you remember grammar at school? Was it exciting, or boring?
2. Do you think children learn when they are very bored?
3. Did you talk about grammar a lot and make the class boring, or did you let students practise the grammar?
4. How could you do this lesson better next time?
5. Your own question(s)._____?

9b We all love to shop - Planning a New Year's party

1 Look at the pictures.

- Tell your partner about your last New Year's party.
- Tell your partner about the types of food you had at your party.

2 T.3.9.3 Listen to the conversation.

◦ Will it be a good party?

3 Read the questions and circle 'how much' or 'how many'.

a. How much/ many beef did she buy?

1. Tell the students they are going to listen to Pisey and Vottey talk about a New Year's party.
2. Ask them to guess whose party it is, what types of food they will eat.
3. Ask them to tell their partners their guesses.
4. Write 'Will it be a good party?' on the board. Make sure they understand the question.
5. Ask them to listen to the conversation and answer the question.
6. Go through some answers together.
7. Ask them for the reasons for their answer.

TAPESCRIPT 3.9.3

Vottey: I've been really busy this week.
Pisey: What have you been doing?
Vottey: I've been shopping for food for my family's New Year's party. I'm worried that I haven't bought enough.
Pisey: OK. Tell me what you have bought and we can check together.
Vottey: I bought one hundred grams of beef.
Pisey: ((laughs)) Vottey, that's not enough to feed everyone. You need to buy some more.
Vottey: I bought three hundred spring rolls.
Pisey: That's good. That should be enough.
Vottey: I bought sixty kilograms of rice.
Pisey: ((laughs)). That's enough to feed the whole school Vottey. It will feed your family for weeks.
Vottey: ((laughs)). I wanted to make sure we had enough. I also bought twenty four cans of Coca Cola.
Pisey: Mmm! There will be a lot of children at the party. You should buy some more cans of Coca Cola.
Vottey: I bought twenty kilograms of chicken.
Pisey: Mmm! That should be enough.
Vottey: I bought one huge chocolate cake.
Pisey: Sounds good. I can't wait to taste it.
Vottey: I bought sixty kilograms of pork.
Pisey: Wow! You must really like pork. It should last as long as all the rice you bought ((laughs)).
Vottey: I bought one hundred cookies for the kids.
Pisey: Sounds good. It's going to be a great party Vottey.

3 (7 mins): Activity 3. Circle how much or how many (T.3.9.4)

1. Go through food items in the sentences together.
2. Encourage students to tell you which we can count and which we can't.
   - Count – spring rolls, cans of Coca Cola, cakes, cookies.

Answers: 1. much 2. many 3. much 4. many 5. much 6. many

6 (8 mins): Activity 6. Write how much or how many questions

1. Ask students to look at the pictures of a New Year's party.
2. Go through the examples together.
3. Ask for the rules again i.e. how many = count nouns, how much = non-count.
4. Ask students to look at the pictures again and write five questoins for the count nouns and five questions for the non-count nouns.
5. Ask some of the students to write their questions on the board. (5 questions)
6. If there are any mistakes ask the students to correct them in pairs.

7 (8 mins): Activity 7. Mingle activity

1. Ask the students to ask their partner the questions.
2. Ask the students to think of their last New Year's party when they answer.
3. Monitor the activity and make a note of any mistakes you hear.
4. Mix up the pairs for more practise if there is enough time.
5. Write any mistakes on the board.
6. In pairs, ask the students to correct them.

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask students what they can use to talk about nouns they can count.
2. Ask them "When do we use 'how much'?".

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Students who believe that they can do things are much more likely to be able to! How did you encourage your students today?
2. Do you only tell the strong students that they did well, or do you tell weak students who are trying hard that they are doing well?
3. How could you do this lesson better next time?
4. Your own question(s)._____?

9c We all love to shop - The shopping list

1 What did you buy last week at the shop?

• Tell your partner.

1. bananas 2. tomatoes 3. milk 4. rice
5. melons 6. potatoes 7. coffee

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask students to look at 'Can do' statements.
2. Compare with a partner.
3. Ask students not to worry how they feel about the 'Can do' statements. Tell them not to worry about the ones they did not tick.

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Classifying things is a skill! In real life, we classify a lot of things (e.g. according to colour, functions). Classifying vocabulary helps children make connections between words and concepts. How can you help your students develop this skill?
2. When you classify vocabulary, it is also important to remember that there are different ways of grouping things, not just the first that comes to mind. How can you foster an environment that encourages students to look at things from various perspectives?
3. Your own question(s)._____?

3. Next to this write should and shouldn't:
   Should Shouldn't
4. Ask students to think about the problem.
5. Ask them to tell their partners all of the things she/he should do.
   And all the things she/he shouldn't do.
6. Go through the students' answers and write them on the board under the headings (should and shouldn't).
7. Ask them to go through the rest of the problems together and talk about what she 'should do' and what she 'shouldn't do'.
8. Monitor carefully, and make a note of any mistakes you hear.
9. When finished, write 5 of the mistakes on the board and ask the students to correct them with their partners.
10. Go through the answers together. Encourage students to correct any errors they hear.
11. Ask the students to write down three of their own problems.
12. In pairs – ask them to ask for/and give each other advice on their problems. (using 'should…' and shouldn't…')

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask some students to give some advice to each other using should and shouldn't "You shouldn't throw books!"
2. Praise students who tried speaking in English as best as they could today. Encourage the others!

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Children learn a lot of things in the classroom, not just English! They learn to listen to each other and respect ideas different to their own. They learn to work well with other students too. What other things can students learn in the classroom, aside from English?
2. Think of today's lesson. What other skills did your students learn today?
3. How can you help students develop other skills that would help them become better citizens of your country?
4. Your own question(s)._____?

10b Advice on how to stay well - We are all feeling sick today

1 Look at the pictures.

◦ When were you last sick?
• Tell your partner what you did.

2 Read the stories quickly.

Match the illness to the story. Write the answers in your notebook.

1. headache 2. stomach-ache 3. cold

a._____

I don't feel very well. My nose is blocked and I've been coughing a lot. Miss Mom gave me some tissues and said I should blow my nose. She also said I shouldn't drink anything cold, or eat sweets. She said I should drink hot water and eat lots of fruit.

b._____

I feel really unwell. I have a really bad pain behind my eyes, and it gets worse if I look at the sun. Mr Phearith said I should lie down in a dark room and relax. He said I shouldn't think too much, or listen to loud music. He said if the pain gets any worse, I should take a tablet.

c._____

I feel really sick. My stomach is making a lot of strange noises, and I feel really sick when I think about food. Miss Mom said I should ask my mum to take me to the doctors. She said I shouldn't eat any food, or have anything to drink. She said the doctor should give me an injection to stop the pain.

   c. What kind of room has no walls, no floor, and no roof?
3. Give them 4 minutes to think of the answers.
4. 1 point for a correct answer.
   a. Answer: Rain.
   b. Answer: 50 pairs of trousers.
   c. Answer: mushroom.

1 (5 mins): Activity 1. Lead in

1. Ask everyone to look at the picture of Vottey.
2. Ask them to tell you - what they see? What she's doing? (she's running, she's a runner)
3. Ask them to tell their partners what she can do to become a better runner.
4. Go through the answers together and write them on the board.

2 (5 mins): Activity 2. Gist question (T.4.10.4)

1. Tell them they will be listening to Vottey giving advice to Lyvann.
2. Write 'Will Lyvann be a good runner'? on the board.
3. Make sure everyone understands the question.
4. Ask some students to guess the answer. Ask them to explain their guesses.
5. Ask them to listen and answer the question.
6. Ask them to tell their partner their answer, and explain their reason for their choice.
7. Go through some answers together.

TAPESCRIPT 4.10.4

Lyvann: Hi Vottey! Is it OK to come running with you now? I'd like to learn how to run.
Vottey: ((giggles)). I'd love to help you Lyvann, but can I give you some advice first?
Lyvann: Yeah! No problem.
Vottey: OK. You shouldn't wear sandals for running Lyvann. You should wear a pair of good running shoes or you might get hurt.
Lyvann: Mmm! OK. I'll ask my dad to buy me a pair.
Vottey: You should wear shorts when you're running. Jeans are too heavy and you shouldn't wear them.
Lyvann: OK. I didn't think of that.
Vottey: ((giggles)). You definitely shouldn't wear a coat Lyvann. It's very hot, and you should really be wearing a running vest.
Lyvann: OK. I'll get some running shoes, some shorts, and a vest. Is there anything else I should do?
Vottey: Yes! If you want to be a good runner we should meet 3 times per week.
Lyvann: OK.
Vottey: You shouldn't run before you have had some food. You should eat some fruit an hour before we go running.
Lyvann: Sure. No problem.
Vottey: You should always drink water while you're running, so make sure you bring enough.
Lyvann: Sure. Is that all?
Vottey: Yeah! That's everything for now. I'm looking forward to running together Lyvann. It should be fun.
Lyvann: Thanks Vottey. I'll see you soon

6. Ask them to swap seats and repeat the above if there's time.
7. Give them as much time as possible to ask and answer the questions.

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask some students to give advice to be healthy, using should and shouldn't.
2. Praise students who tried speaking in English as best as they could today. Encourage the others!

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Kids learn new words by practicing them. Did you translate the words for the students? Did you use Khmer to explain the new words when you could have used the pictures and body language?
2. How much of the lesson was about copying? Sometimes it's good for students to copy, but not all the time. Was there any more than 10 minutes copying time in the lesson? Why was there any copying at all? Do you think it's a good use of students' time to copy the board? Why?
3. Your own question(s)._____?

Unit 11 - We love to play sports

11a We love to play sports - The Karate kid from Japan

1 Look at the picture of Ken.

- Where is he from?
- What's he doing?

2 Read the story quickly.

- Which exercise is the most difficult?
- Why is it the most difficult?

Hello, my name is Ken and I come from Japan. I live in Tokyo with my mother and father. My favorite sport is Karate and I practise 3 times per week. We have some good training exercises and I'd like to show you some of them.

A. The Zombie – I have to stand with my legs wide and my hands out straight at my sides. My friend Hiro has to push down on my arms and I have to push back for as long as I can.

B. The Panda – He has to lie on his back with his legs bent and his knees apart. I have to hold my partners feet and he has to sit up.

C. The Fist – I have to stand facing forward and then I have to throw a punch. My partner Hiro has to hold my hand and push, and I have to push back.

2. Underneath this write I have to …'.
3. Ask the students to stand up and talk to somebody from the other row of desks.
4. Ask them to talk about the things they have to do for each of the pictures.
5. Monitor the class and make a note of good and bad language use.
6. When finished, ask them to find a partner in the next row and so on.
7. Repeat the above stages for as long as needed.
8. When finished, write a selection of good and bad language use on the board.
9. In pairs – ask students to choose which language is good, and correct any bad language use.
10. Go through the answers together.

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask students what they have to do in their daily lives..
2. Listen to the students. Are they confident? Do they need more practise?

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. It is best to have as little Khmer in the classroom as possible. If you do use Khmer, it is better not to use it to translate things that students can probably guess by themselves. This is particularly true of kids. When did you use Khmer today? Did you really need to use Khmer?
2. Students don't need to understand every word. (If they do it means the class is too easy for them!) Did you spend too much time trying to make sure they understood everything?
3. How could you do this lesson better next time?
4. Your own question(s)._____?

11b We love to play sports - Mr. Phearith's favorite sports

1 Match the words to the pictures.

a. Badminton b. Football c. Volleyball d. Basketball

◦ Which one of these sports is your favourite?
• Tell your partner why it's your favourite.

2 Read Mr Phearith's descriptions of these sports.

• How many of these sports does Mr Phearith play?

a. This is my favorite game. In this game I have to wear studded boots so I don't slip when I kick the ball. I don't have to use my hands when I play. I have to use my feet to pass the ball and score goals.

b. Vottey loves to play this game. When she plays she has to bounce the ball if she wants to run. She doesn't have to use her feet or her head to move the ball. She has to use her hands to pass the ball and throw the ball through a hoop.

c. I play this game with my family. In this game I have to use a racquet to hit a shuttlecock. I don't have to pass anything to a teammate. I don't have to score goals or baskets. I do have to use a racquet to hit a shuttlecock across a net.

d. Lyvann likes to play this game. When he plays he has to use his hands to hit a ball. He doesn't have to use a racquet or his feet to pass the ball to his teammates. He doesn't have to score goals or baskets. He has to use his hands to hit the ball over the net, or high into the air for his teammates.

7. Ask them to use the table to write sentences in their notebooks about what the teacher 'has' and 'doesn't have to' do.
8. Ask them to use the table to write sentences in their notebooks about what they 'have' and 'don't have to' do.
9. Go through the answers together.
10. Encourage students to correct any errors they hear.

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask students to tell you some things they have to do, and some things they don't have to do.
2. Listen for students who may need extra help.

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. It happens to everyone at least once in their careers! What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Instruction checking questions are great. They help you to talk in Khmer less! Did you use instruction checking questions, or did you rely on just translating instructions into Khmer?
2. How could you do this lesson better next time?
3. Your own question(s)._____?

11c We love to play sports - The boat racers

1 Look at the picture.

- What's happening?
- Tell your partner.

2 T.4.11.3 Listen to Mr Sovann.

- Who is the fittest?

3 Match the words to the pictures.

a. Row the boat. ☐

b. Train hard. ☐

c. Steer the boat. ☐

d. Drummer. ☐

e. Dancer. ☐

Chapter 4, Unit 11, Lesson C

Fit and healthy: We love to play sports: The boat racers

This lesson uses recordings which can be downloaded from the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sport website. (50 mins)

(8 mins): Warmer. Talk or die

1. Write several topics on the board e.g. hobbies, school, sports, family, etc.
2. Split the class into 2 groups.
3. Point to a student in the first group, and then point to a topic.
4. Students should give an example of each topic (for example HOBBIES, they give an example of hobbies).
5. They must talk nonstop for 10 seconds about the topic.
6. They score a point if they can do this; they sit down if they can't.
7. Point to a student in the second group, and then point to a topic and so on.
8. The team with the most points wins.

1 (5 mins): Activity 1. Lead in

1. Ask students to look at the picture.
2. Ask them to tell their partners what they see.
3. Go through some of the students' answers.
4. Ask them further questions e.g. Which river is this? What festival is it? Have you watched a boat race etc.?
5. Make sure they understand that it's the boat races.

2 (5 mins): Activity 2. Gist question (T.4.11.3)

1. Tell them they are going to listen to Mr. Sovann talk about the boat race.
2. He is going to talk about himself, Vottey and a man called Finn.
3. Write 'who is the fittest'? on the board.
4. Make sure students understand the question. Ask them – 'Who is the fittest in the class'? Why are they the fittest?
5. Ask them to listen and answer the question.
6. Go through some of their answers together.
7. Ask them to explain their choices.

Answer: There is no correct answer – students' answers could be different.

TAPESCRIPT 4.11.3

Reporter: Welcome everyone. This is CTN reporting from the final of the boat race. We're speaking with Mr. Sovann who is a rower with the Kampong Chhnang team. Good afternoon Mr. Sovann.
Mr. Sovann: Good Afternoon.
Reporter: Could you tell us about being a rower please?
Mr. Sovann: No problem. I have to train very hard because I have to be very fit. I don't have to steer the boat but I have to row quickly at the same speed as my teammates.
Reporter: Could you give us some information about the drummer on the boat please?
Mr. Sovann: Our drummer is called Vottey. She has to play fast so the rowers go fast. She doesn't have to train hard but she has to play as loud as she can to give us energy.
Reporter: Thanks. What about the dancer?
Mr. Sovann: ((laughs)). Our dancer this year is a bit strange. He's called Finn and he's from Scotland. He has to dance to scare away any bad spirits. He doesn't have to row the boat but he has to dance to encourage us and give us power.
Reporter: Thanks Mr. Sovann. Good luck for your race today.
Mr. Sovann: Thank you. It's been a pleasure.

3 (7 mins): Activity 3. Match the words to the pictures

1. Ask students to look at the pictures and describe them to their partners.

4 (8 mins): Activity 4. Choose a, b, c or d to complete the sentence (T.4.11.3) and (T.4.11.4)

1. Tell the students they are going to listen to Mr. Sovann in (T.4.11.3) again.
2. Go through the first example together.
3. Ask them to listen and write a, b, c, or d in their notebooks.
4. Ask them to compare their answers.
5. Ask them to write the full sentences in their notebooks.
6. Ask them to listen, check their answers and repeat. Ask them to act out the sentences as they speak e.g. She has to play fast = They pretend to play the drums fast etc.

Answers: See (T.11.4)

TAPESCRIPT 4.11.4

1. I have to train very hard.
2. I don't have to steer the boat.
3. She has to play fast.
4. She doesn't have to train hard.
5. He has to dance to encourage us.

5 (7 mins): Activity 5. Circle the correct answer

1. Go through the first sentence together and write the answer on the board i.e. I have to train very hard.
2. Ask the students to listen to Mr. Sovann again and write the correct sentences in their notebooks.
3. Ask them to compare their answers with their partner.
4. Go through the answers together.
5. Encourage the students to correct any errors they hear.

Answers:

a. I have to train very hard.
b. I have to row quickly.

d. He has to dance to scare away any bad spirits.
e. He doesn't have to row the boat.

6 (8 mins): Activity 6. Look at the pictures

1. Go through some examples together.
2. In pairs – ask the students to talk about each of the pictures and use the target language.
3. Monitor this stage of the lesson and take note of both correct and incorrect language use.
4. If there is time, mix up the pairs and repeat the exercise.
5. When finished, write some of the correct and incorrect language on the board.
6. In pairs – ask the students to choose which language is correct, and correct the language which is incorrect.
7. Ask them to write their answers in their notebooks.
8. Go through the answers together.

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask students to tell you what their partners have to do, and some things they don't have to do.
2. Listen for the correct use of 'has to' and 'doesn't have to'.
3. Correct errors as you hear them.

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. We learn differently at different times of our life. Kids usually need to be tricked into learning. You tell them that we need to learn this English for a game, not so they can get a good job! Did you trick your students into learning today?
2. Were the students interested in the lesson?
3. Would the students have been interested in the lesson if it was in Khmer (if the answer is yes, well done!)?
4. Your own question(s)._____?

Fit and Healthy: It can be fun to teach: Keep fit with The Madison

This lesson uses recordings which can be downloaded from the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sport website. (50 mins)

(5 mins): Warmer: Tongue twisters

1. Write the following tongue twisters on the board.
   A. Peter Piper: Peter Piper picked a peck of pickled peppers.
   B. Woodchuck: How much wood would a woodchuck chuck if a woodchuck could chuck wood?
2. Practise saying them a few times together.
3. Split the class into 4 teams and ask them to practise the tongue twisters together.
4. Now choose a student from team 1 and ask her/him to choose a tongue twister and speak it out loud as fast as they can.
5. If they get it correct, they score a point for their team.
6. The student chooses a student from the next team and so on.
7. The team with the most points wins.

1 (5 mins): Activity 1. Lead in

1. Look at the picture.
2. (If you can, find the Madison song and play it to your students.)
3. Ask students to tell their partners where they have seen this dance before.

1. Write 'Is Mr. Phearith a good dancer'? on the board.
2. Ask the students to tell their partners what they think of the questions.
3. Go through some answers and ask them why they chose their answer.
4. Tell them they are going to listen to Mr. Phearith and Miss Mom dancing to The Madison.
5. Ask them to listen and answer the question - Is Mr. Phearith a good dancer?
6. Go through some answers and ask them why they chose their answer.

TAPESCRIPT 4.12.1

Mr. Phearith: I've never danced the Madison before. I feel really scared.
Miss Mom: Don't be scared. Just watch me and I'll teach you how to dance.
Mr. Phearith: OK. I'll try.
Miss Mom: Great. Just follow me. First, you have to take three steps back with your right foot. Then you have to kick out your left foot, and now you have to clap.
Mr. Phearith: I feel really silly. People are looking and laughing at me.
Miss Mom: No, they're not. You should try to relax Mr. Phearith. You shouldn't worry about other people. You should try to have some fun.
Mr Phearith: OK. OK. I'll try.
Miss Mom: Now we do the same again. First, you have to take three steps back with your left foot. Then you have to kick out your right foot, and you have to clap again.
Mr. Phearith: Whoa! Ouch! Oh my leg, my leg. Could you stop laughing and help me up please?
Miss Mom: ((giggles)). Maybe you shouldn't try to dance Mr. Phearith. You should stick to playing football it's less dangerous. You shouldn't put yourself through all this pain, and now everyone is laughing ((giggles)).

3 (7 mins): Activity 3. Number the dance moves

1. Ask the students to look at the dance steps.
2. Ask them to tell their partners the order of the dance steps.

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask some students to tell you what they have to do. (e.g. I have to go to school.)
2. Ask them to tell you some things they should do (e.g. exercise)
3. Listen to them – do they know the difference between obligation (have to) and advice (should)?

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Kids need 2 things to learn English and stay on task. They need to get excited, and then they need to calm down. Was there a good balance between calm and excitement?
2. Did students get over excited and then get off task?
3. Did students have too many activities where they were expected to be quiet and calm? Did they get bored and come off task?
4. How could you do this lesson better next time?
5. Your own question(s)._____?

12b It can be fun to teach - Learning to swim

1 Look at the picture. Talk to your partner.

- Do you go swimming?
- Who do you go with?
- Where do you go?

2 Read the story.

• Will Sam be a good swimmer?

Pisey : Sam if you want to learn to swim you should do what I say OK.
Sam : No problem Pisey. I promise to do everything you say.
Pisey : OK. We need to do things step by step. So you should listen carefully Sam. You have to hold on to my hands.
Sam : Urgh.
Pisey : Sam, you promised, you should listen to my instructions if you want to learn to swim.
Sam : OK. Pisey I'll hold on to your hands.
Pisey : You have to start kicking your legs. That's it. Well done Sam. Now you have to let one of my hands go, and make circles in the water with your arm. That's great. Remember to keep kicking Sam. For the next step you have to lie on my arms.
Sam : No way.
Pisey : Sam, you said you would do what I say, you should trust me OK.
Sam : OK, OK. What's next?
Pisey : Now you have to kick your legs and make circles with both arms. That's good. Well done Sam. This is the final step Sam. You have to take a deep breath, and now you have to swim on your own.
Sam : Help! Help! I'm drowning, I'm drowning.
Pisey : Stop crying you big baby. You should just stand up. The water is only up to your stomach.

3 Read again. Match the questions to the answers.

1. What does Sam have to hold on?	a. Pisey's arms.
2. What does Sam have to lie on?	b. make circles.
3. What does Sam have to do with both arms?	c. a deep breath.
4. What does Sam have to take?	d. Pisey's hands.

1. Ask students to write a list of all the things they have to do in Cambodia. (In their notebooks).
2. Tell them they have to use 'have to' in their sentences e.g. You have to …
3. When finished, ask them to tell their partners their answers.
4. Mix up the class and ask them to tell a different partner their answers and so on.
5. When finished, go through some answers together.

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask the students to tell you things you have to do as a teacher (e.g. You have to mark homework.)
2. Tell the students you are going to a wedding. Ask them for advice. They must use 'should' (e.g. You should wear your best clothes.)
3. Listen and see if they know the difference between obligation (have to) and advice (should).

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Students need quick clear instructions. If instructions are too long, they don't understand more clearly – they stop listening! Were your instructions clear and quick?
2. Did students do most of the talking in class?
3. A good rule for a lesson is 20%= teacher, 80% = student. What % were students doing things in your lesson?
4. How could you do this lesson better next time?
5. Your own question(s)._____?

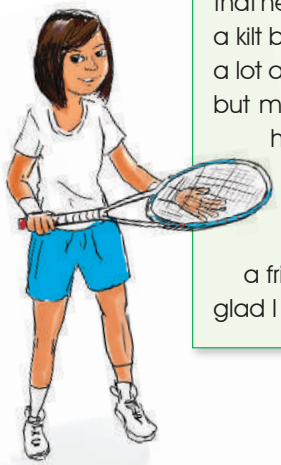
12c It can be fun to teach - Tennis lessons with Finn

1 Look at the picture.

- What sport is this?
- How do you play it?
- Tell your partner.

2 Read the story.

- Will Finn be a good tennis player?



I gave Finn some tennis lessons today. It was great fun. I told him that he doesn't have to wear shorts to play, and he shouldn't wear a kilt because it makes him look like an old woman. He laughed a lot and said I was very funny. I don't have to wear shorts either, but my mum said I should wear them today because it's very hot. I also told Finn that he doesn't have to bring a musical instrument so he should leave his bagpipes at home. He was a little angry when I said this, and he told me he took his bagpipes everywhere. I don't have to teach Finn. He's a friend of my dad's and my mum said I should help out. I'm glad I did though because he's really funny.

3 Read the story. Complete using 'doesn't have to' or 'don't have to'.

a. He _____ wear shorts to play.
b. I _____ wear shorts either.
c. He _____ bring a musical instrument.
d. I _____ teach Finn.

3. Write some examples under must and mustn't.
4. In pairs – ask them to look at the pictures and the words in the box.
5. Do 'A' as an example – You must put litter in the bin.
6. Ask them to talk to their partners about what they must and mustn't do at school.
7. Monitor carefully and make a list of some of the good and bad language use you hear.
8. Write the good and bad language on the board.
9. In pairs – ask students to choose which language is good.
10. In pairs – ask them to correct which language is bad.
11. Go through the answers together, answers A-H.

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up
Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask some students to stand up and give instructions to others: In school you must ... You mustn't...
2. Praise students who tried speaking in English as best as they could today. Encourage the others!

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Competition can be motivating and fun, but some students might become over competitive and others might be disappointed when they lose. How is competition in your class – is it friendly or harmful?
2. Smile often. This is one good way to promote friendly competition. Smiling shows that it is just a game. When students see you relaxed, they are more likely to enjoy the activities. Also, keep the winning and the losing as light-hearted as possible. Try these out in your next lesson, and you're likely to have fun, too!
3. Can you think of 2 more ways to promote healthy and friendly competition in class? Make sure you try them out in your next lessons.
4. Your own question(s)._____?

13c Traditional temples and pagodas - Wat Phnom

1 Look at the picture.

- What is it?
- Where is it?
- What can you do there?

2 T.5.13.3 Listen and read.

- Is this what you do when you visit a temple?

Sam : Hi Lyvann. I can't wait to visit Wat Phnom. Is there anything I should know before we go in?
Lyvann : Yes. There are lots of rules when visiting a temple. Before you enter the temple you must remove your hat and your shoes.
Sam : I don't have a hat but I'll take my shoes off at the door.
Lyvann : OK. You mustn't touch any of the statues of Buddha.
Sam : OK.
Lyvann : You must turn off your mobile phone.
Sam : Thanks Lyvann. Is there anything else I should know?
Lyvann : Yes! You mustn't smoke inside the temple, and you mustn't point your finger at anything or anyone.
Sam : I don't smoke but thanks for letting me know about pointing my finger.
Lyvann : No problem. You must dress carefully before you go to Wat Phnom. You must cover your shoulders. You must wear long pants, and you mustn't wear shorts.
Sam : Thanks for your help Lyvann.
Lyvann : No problem Sam. Let's go and visit the temple.

Chapter 5, Unit 13, Lesson C

Explore Cambodia and Japan: Traditional temples and pagodas: Wat Phnom

This lesson uses recordings which can be downloaded from the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sport website. (50 mins)

(10 mins): Warmer. I spy

1. Divide the class into small groups.
2. Have one student (in each group) start by saying, 'I spy something …' e.g. 'I spy something blue'.
3. The rest of the class tries to guess what it is.
4. If the first guess is wrong, the student continues with another clue, e.g. 'I spy something big' and students guess again.
5. The student that guesses first gets to be the speaker, and scores a point for their team.

1 (5 mins): Activity 1. Lead in

1. In pairs, ask the students to look at the picture.
2. Go through the questions with the class and make sure they understand them.
3. Ask them to look at the picture and answer the questions.
4. Ask them to tell their partners their answers.
5. Go through some of the students' answers together.

Answers: Wat Phnom temple, it's in Phnom Penh, and you go there to pray.

2 (7 mins): Activity 2. Gist Question (T.5.13.3)

1. Tell the students they will be listening and reading about the Wat Phnom temple in Phnom Penh.
2. Ask them to read and listen to the text and answer the question - Is this what you do when you visit a temple? Make sure everyone understands the question.
3. Ask them to tell their partners their answer.
4. Go through some of the students' answers together.

Answers: There are no correct answers. Students may have different opinions etc.

5 (8 mins): Activity 5. Give Pisey some advice

1. In pairs – ask students to write a list of all the things a visitor should do in their town.
2. Ask them to write a list of all the things a visitor shouldn't do in their town.
3. Ask them to use their lists to write sentences in their notebooks.
4. Monitor the students closely and write down examples of good and bad language use.
5. Write some examples of good and bad language use on the board.
6. Ask students to select the good language and correct the bad language.
7. Go through the answers together as a class.

6 (10 mins): Activity 6. Role play

1. In pairs – ask the students to take turns playing the Reumork driver and the tourists.
2. Ask the student playing the Reumork driver to give the tourists advice about visiting their hometown.
3. Ask them to switch roles.
4. Ask them to change roles and so on.
5. Monitor and correct any errors you hear.
6. Repeat the stages until you think they have had enough practise.

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask some students to give advice to tourists about what they should and shouldn't do.
2. Praise students who tried speaking in English as best as they could today. Encourage the others!

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Students remember better if lessons are personal to them. One way to help this is to encourage creativity. Did you encourage your students to be creative?
2. How could you do this lesson better next time?
3. Your own question(s)._____?

14b The beauty of Asia - The land of the rising sun

1 Look at the picture of Tokyo.

- Where is Tokyo?
- What can you see?

2 Read Ken's story.

- Is Tokyo a fun place to visit?

Hi Again! I'd like to give you some advice for visiting Tokyo. I think everyone should see the sumo wrestlers. You should visit Tokyo Shibuya, and you should take a ride on our bullet train. You shouldn't be late when meeting Japanese people. You shouldn't be disrespectful in our temples, and you shouldn't use mobile phones on buses or trains.

There are some things you have to do when visiting Tokyo. You must carry your identification papers at all times. You must wear a helmet when riding a motorbike and you must stand in line when boarding a train. You mustn't sit on the floor outside restaurants. You mustn't bargain in any of the shops, and you mustn't throw litter in the streets.

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask some students to give advice about their town, using should and shouldn't.
2. Praise students who tried speaking in English as best as they could today. Encourage the others!

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Do you have 'classroom rules'? How effective are they? Do you stick to the rules closely? Children work best to classroom rules that are fair and unchanging. Classroom rules help you manage the class better. They help students understand what is expected of them.
2. What do you do when students break 'the rules'? Do you embarrass them in class or talk to them quietly after class? Can you think of other ways to avoid embarrassing your students when they break the rules?
3. Modelling the rules yourself helps students understand what is expected of them. Do you follow your classroom rules?
4. Students are likely to respect the rules if they helped to create them. Don't just tell students what to do! Ask them for their ideas, and make the rules together. Or ask students to set their own classroom rules. You may be surprised at the results!
5. Your own question(s)._____?

f. There isn't any sugar.
g. There isn't a lemon.
h. There aren't any biscuits.
i. There is one orange.

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Go back to the pictures in the book and get students to tell you things with 'there is' and 'there are' (e.g. 'There is a shrine'
2. Listen and see if they are using 'there is' and 'there are' correctly.

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. The students should know the new words now. The book uses lots of pictures so that you don't need to translate the word in Khmer. (Remember, you're trying to have a class that is as close to 100% in English as possible!) Did you translate new words? Do you think that was a help? Why?
2. How much of the lesson was in English? How much was in Khmer?
3. How could you have students use English more and Khmer less?
4. Could you use English more and Khmer less?
5. How could you do this lesson better next time?
6. Your own question(s)._____?

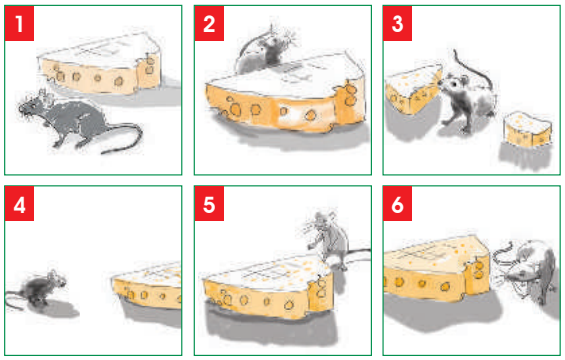
Unit 17 - Cambodian holidays and ceremonies

17a Can you see where it is? - Avorng's burial

1 Look at the picture.

• Match the words to the pictures.

a. on the corner _____
b. opposite _____
c. behind _____
d. next to _____
e. between _____
f. in front of _____



2 T.6.17.1 Listen and read the conversation.

• Is everyone sad?

Pisey : We have to go and pay our respects today.
Lyvann : Yes, I know. I'm really sad that Avorng has died. I wish we could have gone to the ceremony.
Vottey : So do I, but we were at school. Arunny said that everything went well.
Lyvann : She told me that the monks prayed for him, and that all his family has been wearing white for seven days.
Pisey : Does anyone know where he is buried?
Vottey : I have the directions from Arunny. Let's go! We have to go to the market which is next to the bank.
Lyvann : OK. We're here. Now where do we go?
Vottey : We have to cross the road and find the pagoda which is opposite the market. Now we have to find the shop which is between the pagoda and the pharmacy.
Pisey : OK. Here's the shop. Where next?
Vottey : Mm! Now we have to look for the bridge which is behind the shop. Here it is! Now we have to find a mango tree which is on the corner of the park.
Lyvann : OK. This looks like the tree. Where is Avorng buried?
Vottey : Avorng is buried is in front of the mango tree. Here it is. It looks so beautiful with all these flowers.
Pisey : He loved this place. I'm glad he's buried here.
Lyvann : Me too!

2. Use the target language to give them orders e.g. Put the pen on your head, hold the pen next to your ear, etcetera.
3. Check to see if they all understand and follow.

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Students who believe that they can do things are much much more likely to be able to! How did you encourage your students today?
2. Do you only tell the strong students that they did well, or do you tell weak students who are trying hard that they are doing well?
3. How could you do this lesson better next time?
4. Your own question(s)._____?

1. Ask students to look at the 'Can do' statements.
2. Compare with a partner.
3. Tell them not to worry about the ones they don't tick.

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Look back to when you first started teaching. Do you notice any change in your teaching style / in your understanding of how students learn a foreign language? Make a list! Take pride in your progress! You deserve it!
2. We believe most of your students have significantly improved their English! Congratulations! How many of your students still need extra help in grade 8? Would talking to their grade 8 teachers about their progress help? How else can you help them?
3. Apart from English, what do you think your students learned from you that will help them in their everyday lives? What did you learn from them?
4. Your own question(s)._____?

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask a student o draw a clock on the board.
2. Change the clock times and ask students around the class what the time is.
3. Praise students who tried speaking in English as best as they could today. Encourage the others!

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Allowing students to have pride in their work builds their confidence. This means that they are more willing to try and participate in activities. Do you pay attention to what your students produce in class? Do you only look for mistakes in your students' work? How often do you give positive comments?
2. Trying is more important than succeeding, and failure is an opportunity to learn. Did you praise your students for trying their best today? How can you encourage students to try out activities that might be difficult? Do you allow them to take pride in just trying?
3. If activities are done perfectly by most students, this probably means they are too easy. They may be learning nothing new. Do students' work have to be perfect? Do you let students take pride in their work even if they aren't perfect?
4. Your own question(s)._____?

Unit 20 - A look into the future

A Sunday adventure: A look into the future: The Kirirom adventure

This lesson uses recordings which can be downloaded from the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sport website. (50 mins)

(5 mins): Warmer. Feeling greetings

1. Write some first meeting vocab on the whiteboard. E.g. Hi. How are you? How are you? What's your name?
2. Tell students to stand up. (You can have students work in groups if it is too small to have students walking around the room).
3. Tell students that they are going to do a get to know you role play.
4. Have the students do the activity once normally.
5. Tell students to choose a different partner, but this time they have just found out that they have lost their telephone! How do they feel? Tell students to have the conversation with this feeling.
6. Keep changing the situation (and partners!). Dog is dead. You have a million dollars! etc.

1 (5 mins): Activity 1. Complete the conversation with the words in the box (T.7.20.1)

1. Tell the students they are going to listen to Pisey, Lyvann, Vottey and Arunny talking about a future trip to Kirirom.
2. In pairs – ask them to look at the words in the box.
3. Ask them to tell their partner what the words mean.
4. Ask them to read the conversation and guess which words go where.
5. Ask them to listen to the conversation and complete the conversation with the words in the box.
6. Ask them to write their answers in their notebooks.
7. Go through the answers together.

Answers: 1 – see 2 – be 3 – swim 4 – meet 5 – climb 6 – worry 7 – ride 8 – cry

TAPESCRIPT 7.20.1

Arunny : I'm going to see my father (Avorng) when we go to Kirirom.
Pisey : Arunny, Avorng is with his ancestors now.
Arunny : Mm! Maybe, but his ghost is going to be there because he was born there.
Pisey : When we get to Kirirom we're going to swim in the water Arunny. We're not going to meet any ghosts.
Vottey : I agree Pisey! We're going to climb up Phnom Dat Chivit and look at the beautiful mountains. We're not going to worry about ghosts.
Arunny : There's no need to be scared. It's my father, he's great.
Pisey : We all loved him Arunny, but ghosts are scary ((Brrrrrrr!)).
Lyvann : We're going to ride our bikes to Kirirom tomorrow. I'm going to cry if I see any ghosts. Can we all sleep together?
Pisey : ((BOOOOOOO))
Lyvann : ((screams)). Pisey that's not funny. You nearly stopped my heart.
Pisey : ((laughs)). Lyvann, you're like a little girl at times.
Lyvann : Hmph!

2 (5 mins): Activity 2. Unscramble the words and add "going to" to make correct sentences (T.7.20.2)

1. Write the example on the board and explain that students must unscramble the sentence and add going to.

Example: school, have After dinner. I'm Answer: After school, I'm going to have dinner.

2. Make sure everyone understands the activity.
3. In pairs – ask them to complete the rest of the sentences.
4. Ask them to write their answers in their notebook.
5. Ask them to listen, check their answers, and repeat what they hear.

Answers: See (T.7.20.2)

TAPESCRIPT 7.20.2

Arunny:

4 (7 mins): Activity 4. Match the sentences with the pictures

1. Ask the students to tell their partners what they see in the pictures.
2. Ask them to match the sentences to the pictures.
3. Go through the answers together.

Answers: a – 3 b – 4 c – 2 d – 1

5 (7 mins): Activity 5. What else could happen at Kirirom?

1. Ask the students to read the rule in the box.
2. Explain the meaning of 'future predictions'.
3. In pairs - ask them to use the rule to complete the sentences.
4. Ask them to write the answers in their notebook.
5. Go through some answers together.
6. Encourage students to correct any errors they hear.

Answers: There are no correct answers. Students may have different opinions.

6 (7 mins): Activity 6. Tell your partner your plans for the future

1. Go through the time reference together – tomorrow, next weekend, next month, next year, next summer.
2. Make sure the students understand the time references.
3. Write the example on the board - Tomorrow, I'm going to play football.
4. Give some examples of your own about what you are going to do tomorrow.
5. Ask them to tell their partner their future plans using the prompts in the picture.
6. Go through some answers together.
7. Correct any errors you hear.

7 (7 mins): Activity 7. You go to see an old fortune teller

1. Write fortune teller on the board.
2. Explain the meaning of fortune teller – someone who can tell you about your future.
3. Tell the students they have visited a fortune teller and they have been told about their future.
4. Ask them to use the prompts to write about what the fortune teller predicted.
5. Monitor carefully and correct any errors you see.
6. Go through some answers together and encourage students to correct any errors they hear.

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask students to tell you their plans for the weekend, using 'going to'.
2. Ask them to predict next week's weather using 'going to' (e.g. On Monday it is going to rain).
3. Listen and check their understanding of future plans and predictions.

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Students learn far more from talking with their friends than they do listening to the teacher! Comparing answers before coming back together as a class means that students support one another in learning the correct answer (and the reason it's correct!). Did you give enough time for students to self-correct their work?
2. When you do ask and answer questions as a class, this should be a quick confirmation of what students already know. Did you spend too much time talking about the correct answers?
3. Are there groups of kids who are not working well together? What can you do to make sure everybody can work well (e.g. break up groups who are always off task)?
4. Do you encourage an environment where students feel confident to talk with their groups?
5. Your own question(s)._____?

20b A look into the future - The Oudong mountain trail

1 Look at the poster.

- Where are they going?
- What things can they do?
- What things can they see?

2 T.7.20.4 Listen and read Miss Mom's and Mr. Phearith's diaries.

- How do they feel?

My Diary

I can't wait to go cycling on Oudong Mountain tomorrow. I think it will be great. I will ride all of the trails brilliantly, and I won't make any mistakes. I will look beautiful in my cycling clothes, and my new bike won't let me down.

My Diary

I'm going cycling on Oudong Mountain tomorrow. I think it will be really bad for me. I will fall off my bike, and everyone will laugh at me. I will look really stupid in my cycling clothes, and my old bike won't make it up the hills. Miss Mom will think I'm stupid, and she won't like me anymore.

3 What do Miss Mom and Mr. Phearith predict? Read the diaries again and write the answers to the questions in your notebook.

a. What will be great?
Cycling will be great.
b. Who won't make any mistakes?
c. What will be bad for him?
d. Who will fall of their bike?
e. Who will look stupid?
f. Who won't like him anymore?

T.7.20.5 Listen, check and repeat.

4 Read again. Choose the correct answer and write the sentences in your notebook.

a. I will / won't ride all of the trails brilliantly.
b. I will / won't look beautiful in my cycling clothes.
c. My new bike will / won't let me down.
d. Everyone won't / will laugh at me.
e. My old bike won't / will make it up the hills.
f. Miss Mom will / won't think I'm stupid.

3. In pairs – ask the students to write more predictions for the future in their notebook.
4. Go through some answers together.
5. Correct any mistakes you hear.

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask students to say to their partner what they will do next holidays.
2. Get some to stand up and tell the class.
3. Note which student will need more help in later lessons.

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. How much of the lesson was in English? How much was in Khmer?
2. The most important part of the lesson was the speaking (Activities 4 and 5) where students personalized the lesson and practised the language. Were students given enough time?
3. How could you do this lesson better next time?
4. Your own question(s)._____?

9 (5 mins): Activity 9. Answer questions about your holiday

1. In pairs – ask the students to ask each other the questions.
2. Tell them to use will to decide what they will do.
3. Go through some answers together.
4. Correct any errors you hear.

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask students to make some predictions about Khmer New Year – e.g. It will be fun etc.
2. Ask them some fun questions, e.g. What will you do if a tiger walks through the door?
3. Help the students to understand the difference between 'will' for future predictions and 'will' for decisions made at the time of speaking.

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. ALL teachers make mistakes! Even good teachers make mistakes. Sometimes we give the wrong answers. What do you do when you're wrong? Do you pretend you're right, or do you admit your mistake and correct it?
2. Why do you think pretending you're right isn't helpful?
3. You can avoid making mistakes! Go through your lesson before class. Answer the questions in advance. Any more ideas? Think of ways to avoid making mistakes in class.
4. Your own question(s)._____?

Chapter 7, Unit 21, Lesson A

A Sunday adventure: Future arrangements: The Phnom Penh city tour

This lesson uses recordings which can be downloaded from the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sport website. (50 mins)

(5 mins): Warmer. Play 'Memory spelling game'

1. Put students into groups of 3 / 4.
2. Tell students they will ONLY listen to the words you say.
3. Students shouldn't write anything at this point. If necessary, have them keep their notebooks and pens in their bags.
4. Say 5 words (e.g. brother, mum, grandpa, pencil, notebook). Students listen ONLY.
5. Then, each group remembers the words and writes down the words on a piece of paper.
6. If necessary, you may read the words again.

TIP: Always ensure that students are ONLY LISTENING when you say the words. Students only write AFTER you say the words.

1 (5 mins): Activity 1. Match the words to the pictures

1. In pairs - ask the students to look at the pictures and tell their partner what they see.
2. Ask them to match the words with the pictures.
3. Go through the answers together.

Answers: a – 4 b – 6 c – 1 d – 5 e – 2 f – 3

2 (5 mins): Activity 2. Have they made too many arrangements? (T.7.21.1)

1. Tell the students they are going to listen to Aunt Sokna and Uncle Panha talk about tomorrow's Phnom Penh tour.
2. On the board write 'Are there too many future arrangements?
3. Make sure the students understand the question. In particular make sure they understand 'future arrangements'.
   • "things that happen in the future according to a schedule or timetable"
4. Ask them listen and read the conversation, and answer the question.
5. Go through some of the students' answers together.
6. Ask them to explain why they chose their answer.

5. Ask them to nominate a student to write the second sentence and so on.
6. At the end of the task correct any errors together.

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask students to talk about a timetabled event and what will happen, using the present. E.g. In my holiday plan I get up at 7, then I have breakfast.
2. Note any students who don't seem to be very confident or talkative.

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Students who believe that they can do things are much much more likely to be able to! How did you encourage your students today?
2. Do you only tell the strong students that they did well, or do you tell weak students who are trying hard that they are doing well?
3. How could you do this lesson better next time?
4. Your own question(s)._____?

21b Future arrangements - Mr. Sovann's day out in Siem Reap province

1 Look at the map of Siem Reap province.

3. Ask them to tell their partners about their arrangements for the tour of Sihanoukville.
4. Mix up the students if there's time.
5. Monitor carefully and correct any errors you hear.

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask students why you use the present simple tense in this lesson. They should say 'when we talk about a timetable or a plan'.
2. Check to see they understand.

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Most students are visual learners. They learn better when they see pictures/ drawings. How often do you draw on the board? Do you feel happy doing this, or do you feel embarrassed?
2. Your drawings don't have to be perfect. Draw fast, big and badly! Don't spend too much time drawing. Using stick people and symbols is a good way to draw fast. Any other ideas?
3. If your drawings are funny and students have to work out what it is, students remember the words they illustrate better. So, the next time you draw, remember to draw fast, big and badly!
4. Your own question(s)._____?

4 (10 mins): Activity 4. Your members of a new pop group

1. In pairs – ask the students to look at the picture.
2. Ask them to tell their partner what they see. (The kids are in a pop band).
3. Tell them they are in a pop band and they are going on tour in Cambodia.
4. Tell them they are going on tour for a week.
5. One of the students is the drummer (D) and the other is the guitarist (G).
6. You are the guitarist, and choose a student to be the drummer.
7. Practise the example conversation together so everyone can hear. Do this as often as needed.
8. Choose two students to practise the example conversation so everyone can hear. Do this as often as needed.
9. Explain that each student has half of the timetable.
10. Explain that they must ask each other questions to find out the information they don't have.
11. Mix up the student pairs if there is time.
12. Monitor carefully and correct any errors you hear.

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask students at random round the class to remember Miss Mom's plans for the day using the present simple, e.g. 'She does her hair at 5 am'.
2. Notice any student who does not seem to follow or speak.

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. All classrooms are different and all students are different. Some are good at speaking and some are good at writing. Some students learn faster than others. Others learn better through pictures and still others learn better through movements. How well do you know your students? Do you pay attention to how your students are learning? What are some of your students' learning styles?
2. Do you vary your activities such that the learning needs of most (if not all) students are met?
3. How do you keep fast-finishing students from being bored? Having extra activities for them and getting them to help you with small tasks might help (e.g. erasing the board, distributing papers). Any more ideas?
4. How can you help students who work slowly? Encouraging them to read the lessons in advance and giving them extra homework might help. Any more ideas?
5. Your own question(s)._____?

4 (7 mins): Activity 4. Read the rule

1. In pairs – ask the students to read the first part of the rule.
2. On the board write the sentences:

- I am studying (study) English.
- You / We / They _____ (wear) a uniform. (are wearing)
- She / He _____ (look) at the teacher. (is looking)

3. Go through the answers and the rule together.
4. Ask the students to write the rule and the examples in their notebook.

5 (7 mins): Activity 5. What are they doing?

1. Ask the students to look at the pictures and answer the questions.
2. Ask them to check their answers with their partner.
3. Ask the class the questions and encourage everyone to shout out the answers.
4. Correct errors as you hear them.

Answers: a – No b – Yes c – No d - Yes

6 (7 mins): Activity 6. Look at the pictures and answer the questions

1. Write the first example on the board:
   Q: What is Sam doing now?
   He is listening to music on a music system.
2. Make sure they understand the task.
3. Ask them to answer the remaining questions in a similar way.
4. Go through the answers together.

b) Mr. Phearith is surfing the internet on his computer.
c) Aunt Sokna is looking at pictures on her tablet.
d) Arunny is playing on a game console.
e) Lyvann is doing his homework on his laptop.

7 (7 mins): Activity 7. Ask and answer questions

1. Role-play the activity with a few students.
2. You are student A, and they are student B.
3. Change roles when necessary.
4. Ask two students to role-play the activity.
5. Correct task and language errors as you hear them.
6. In pairs – ask students to practise the conversation.
7. Ask them to exchange roles so both have a chance to play student A and student B.
8. If there's time mix up the pairs and have them practise with different partners.
9. Monitor carefully during these stages and correct errors as you hear them.

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask some students 'What are they doing?' – questions about their classmates.
2. Praise students who worked hard today. Encourage the others!

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Sometimes class should be fun, and it is more important that students are having fun than saying things "perfectly". A lot of people think that in English class, fun is the most important thing! Were your kids having fun?
2. It is more important that kids feel confident than be perfect! Do you correct kids too much?
3. Do you think the kids in your class feel brave enough to make mistakes?
4. How could you do this lesson better next time?
5. Your own question(s)._____?

9. H. Aunt Sokna
10. B. Mr. Sovann
11. J. Arunny

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask some students who you don't normally ask. Ask them questions about what their classmates are doing.
2. Praise students who worked hard today. Encourage the others!

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. You can't learn a new language if you don't use it. Students should be encouraged to speak English in class. Students don't get enough practise using English outside the classroom, so it's important they practise in class. Did your students have enough opportunities to 'use' English in today's lesson?
2. Students at this level probably do not have enough English yet. This will make them use Khmer in class, to ask you questions or to discuss some ideas. What do you do when you hear students talking in Khmer? What do you do if they answer in Khmer?
3. When your students respond in Khmer, one good thing to do is to 'recast' their answers in English. This means you say them in English, but also make sure that students understood what you said. Responding to them in English is also a good idea. Any more ideas? Does miming/use of gestures help?
4. Your own question(s)._____?

1. Is he listening to music?
   No, he isn't. He's watching TV.
2. Is she drying her hair?
   No, she isn't. She's washing dishes.
3. Is she ironing her clothes?
   No, she isn't. She's drying her hair.
4. Is he playing games?
   No, he isn't. He's doing his homework.

4 (8 mins): Activity 4. Write sentences about what the people are doing now

1. Write the first example on the board – A. Panha is reading and listening to music.
2. Make sure the students understand the task.
3. Ask the students to look at the pictures and write similar sentences for Chetra, Nary, and Vorleak.
4. Ask them to check their answers with their partner.
5. Go through the answers together.

Answers:

A. Panha is reading and listening to music.
B. Chetra is ironing and watching TV.
C. Nary is vacuuming and listening to music.
D. Vorleak is doing her homework and listening to music.

5 (7 mins): Activity 5. Ask and answer questions about the people in the pictures

1. Model the example with a student – you're A, and student is B.
   A. Is Panha playing games?
   B. No, he isn't. He's reading and listening to music.
2. Change roles and model with a different student – student is A, and you're B.
3. Ask two students to model the conversation and so on.
4. Repeat the task 3 as often as needed.
5. In pairs – ask student to have similar conversations about the other pictures.
6. Monitor closely and correct errors as you hear them.
7. Choose pairs of students to model each of the conversations.
8. Encourage students to correct any errors they hear.

(2 mins): Learner assessment and lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Get students to look at the 'Can do' statements.
2. Compare their answers with a partner.
3. Tell them not to worry about the ones they didn't tick.

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. It happens to everyone at least once in their careers! What's important is to learn from it!
Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Instruction checking questions are great. They help you to talk in Khmer less! Did you use instruction checking questions, or did you rely on just translating instructions into Khmer?
2. How could you do this lesson better next time?
3. Your own question(s)._____?

Unit 23 - When does it happen?

Technology: When does it happen?: Lyvann's on holiday

This lesson uses recordings which can be downloaded from the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sport website. (50 mins)

(5 mins): Warmer. Play 'Things in Common'

1. Put students into groups of 4/5.
2. Give a category (e.g. colours, parts of the body, numbers, days of the week, months of the year, school item).
3. Give a time limit of 20-30 seconds.
4. In groups, students write down as many words as they can from the given category within the time limit.
5. Stop the groups after 20-30 seconds.
6. Award points: 1 point for words written in the correct category. 5 points for words only one team wrote.
7. The team with the most number of points at the end of the game wins.
8. Praise the winning teams. Encourage the other teams.

1 (7 mins): Activity 1. Complete Lyvann's daily routine with the words in the box (T.8.23.1)

1. In pairs – ask students to look at the words in the box.
2. Ask them to tell their partner the meaning of the words.
3. Go through the word meanings together.
4. Ask them to use the words to complete the text.
5. Ask them to write the story in their notebooks.
6. Ask them to listen and check their answers.

Answers: See (T.8.23.1)

TAPESCRIPT 8.23.1

Pisey:

Lyvann is a student. He studies six days a week. He starts school at 7am and finishes at 5 pm every day. When he gets home he does his homework on his laptop. He watches T.V for an hour with his family. He plays games on his game console for an hour. He listens to music at 9 pm. He falls asleep at around 10 pm.

2 (5 mins): Activity 2. Look at the example for routines and habits

1. In pairs – ask them to look at the timeline for routines and habits.
2. Explain routine – our regular way of doing things e.g. He has breakfast at 8am every day.
3. Explain habits - something that a person does often in a regular and repeated way e.g. He plays football on Saturdays.
4. Write the example sentence on the board - He listens to music at 9 pm. every night.
5. Ask everyone to look at the timeline in the student's book.
6. Explain that the sentence means that this is something Lyvann has been doing regularly over a period of time.
7. He did it in the past, and he's likely to do it in the future.
8. Highlight the other sentences in the text with the same meaning:
   - He studies six days a week.

2. Ask some of them to tell you what the other students are doing e.g. He's laughing, she's smiling etcetera.
3. Listen for errors and correct any errors you hear.

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Teachers learn from each other. It's good to talk to your fellow teachers about things happening in your classroom – whether good or bad. When you share your experience with other teachers, you help create an environment where people learn from each other. Do you discuss / talk to your fellow teachers about your students / your teaching? How often?
2. How happy are you to talk about things that you feel didn't go right in your classroom? If you aren't happy, why do you think this is? Remember, we all learn from our mistakes.
3. Do you share activities and teaching strategies that worked well in your class to your fellow teachers? Remember, sharing is the key. Learn from your fellow teachers as they too, learn from you.
4. Your own question(s)._____?

24b Why so many questions? - An American housewife

1 Ask your partner the questions.

- What's your favorite food?
- Who's your favorite singer?
- Where is your favorite shop?
- When do you eat dinner?
- Why do you wear shoes?

2 Read about Aunt Sokna.

- Does she enjoy being a housewife?

I don't have a job in America. I'm a housewife. I take care of the house, Uncle Panha has a job, and Sam goes to school. I make the toast at breakfast time. I cook all of the food in the oven. I keep the fresh food in the refrigerator.
After Uncle Panha and Sam leave in the morning, I vacuum the floor and clean the house. After I take a shower, I dry my hair to make sure I look beautiful. In the evening I heat food in the microwave for Uncle Panha and Sam. I put all of the dirty dishes into the dishwasher after dinner. I iron everyone's clothes before I go to bed, to make sure everyone looks clean.

3 Use the question words in the box to complete the questions. Write the questions in your notebook.

(2 mins): Learner Assessment and Lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask students to look at the 'can do' statements.
2. Ask them to compare how they feel with their partner.
3. Ask them how they feel about the 'can do' statements.

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Did you praise students who worked hard today?
2. It's OK to make mistakes. Did you focus on mistakes students make, or did you also focus on their effort for trying hard?
3. Your own question(s)._____?

Chapter 9, Unit 25, Lesson A

Transport: Types of transport around the world: Our ways of getting around

This lesson uses recordings which can be downloaded from the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sport website. (50 mins)

(5 mins): Warmer - Sok Says

Play Sok says to review parts of the body.

Sok Says

1. Tell the students to stand up and look at the teacher (you!).
2. Say that you will tell them to do things but they should only do it if you say Sok Says
3. There are rules. If a student is too slow they are dead. If students do something, but you didn't say Sok Says, they are dead.
4. If they don't do something, but you did say Sok Says they are dead!
5. Play the game. You can play till you find the winner if your class is fast, if they are slow, you may need to stop this activity after a few minutes.

1 (3 mins): Activity 1. Lead in (T.9.25.1)

1. Have students look at the pictures and write the name of each type of transportation in their notebooks.
2. Have students talk to their neighbour about any of the forms of transportation they have ridden in/on.
3. Listen to tapescript to check.

TAPESCRIPT 9.25.1

a. taxi b. train c. gondola
d. helicopter e. reumork f. seaplane
g. bus h. trolley car i. dog sled

2 (5 mins): Activity 2. Gist (T.9.25.2)

1. Focus students' attention on the close up photos of different types of transportation.
2. In pairs have students guess which forms of transportation each person is speaking about.
3. Tell students to listen to (T.9.25.2) and confirm or change their guesses. Have students write the number of the conversation next to the correct form of transportation in activity 1.

Answers: 1. gondola 2. reumork 3. sled 4. seaplane 5. trolley car (Underlined in script below.)

TAPESCRIPT 9.25.2

1. Venice, Italy is built on many islands. That means our city has many long canals and waterways that make using one of these a great way to get around. Its body is more than 10 meters long and made of wood. Its driver stands on the back and rows with one long oar. A gondola is a nice way to tour the city. You can see a lot of its beautiful buildings and palaces from your seat in this unique form of transportation.
2. I live in Bangkok, Thailand and the traffic is very bad in my city. My father drives a small three wheeled vehicle that has a large back seat. Its small size means a reumork can squeeze through smaller spaces than a car can. This helps him drive his customers to their destination quicker.
3. Because of all the snow that falls in Northern Canada, many people use a special device as their main form of transportation. A sled is a wooden frame set on two thin runners that slide allowing a musher to move her things through the snow. A team of 3-6 dogs is used to pull the sled and its cargo along the ground.
4. We live on an island and our school is on another island. Mr. Dennings comes to our home every day to pick up my sister, her 3 classmates and me, to take us to school. Since there are no bridges from our island to the other islands, Mr. Dennings flies us in his airplane. Because there is no place to land on the islands, Mr. Dennings plane is actually a seaplane that has big floats on its bottom instead of wheels. We land on the water and climb out onto a small pier.
5. My cousin lives in San Francisco, CA, there are so many hills in his neighbourhood that people ride electrified cars to travel around. Trolley cars are like trains and run along a track. They are easy to use, you just hop on at a stop and jump off when you reach your destination.

3 (4 mins): Activity 3. Details

1. Have students complete the sentences with words from the box.
2. Students compare answers.
3. Play (T.9.25.2) again to check answers.

Answers: 1. its, your 2. his, their 3. its 4. our, my, her 5. your

1. You can see a lot of its beautiful buildings and palaces from _____ seat in this unique form of transport.
2. This helps him drive _____ customers to _____ destination quicker.

4 (5 mins): Activity 4. Rules

1. Hold up your pen, book, or pencil. Ask students:
   T: "Who does this belong to?"
   S: "You teacher."
   T: "Correct, this is my pen/pencil/book."
2. Pick up something that belongs to a student sitting near you, and ask students again:
   T: "Who does this belong to?"
   S: "Sok Thear/Kunthea/Her/Him."
   T: "Correct, this is her/his book/bag/pen." (indicate student to illustrate the point of the word her/his.)
3. Have students look at the words in Activity 4 on the left side, have them match the words with the rules on the right.

Answers: my – i your – you (singular) his – he her – she its – it our – we your – you (plural) their – they

5 (13 mins): Activity 5. Practise

A. (4 mins)
1. Have students complete the questions with the correct words.
2. Allow students to compare answers before going over them as a class.

Answers: 1. his 2. their 3. our 4. your 5. my 6. his 7. your 8. her/his

B. (7 mins)
1. In pairs, students ask each other the questions and provide appropriate answers for each.

C. (2 mins)
1. Ask 3 or 4 students to tell the class 2 things they learned about their partner.

6 (13 mins): Activity 6. Pair Work

A.
1. Tell students to work with a partner.
2. Tell student A to turn to page 238. Tell student B Turn to page 240. Tell them not to look at each other's questions.
3. Students take turns asking and answering questions. Have them write their partner's answers in their notebooks.
4. When they have finished, students can compare their crosswords to check the answers.

B.
1. Now have students change to a new partner.
2. Tell them to now tell their new partner about the answers their old partner gave.
3. Circulate through the room making sure students use the correct possessive form in their information sharing, i.e. What is your name?, should be, "His/Her name is ..." etc …

(2 mins): Learner Assessment and Lesson wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask 1 or 2 students to briefly tell the class what they learned from their partner.
2. Ask the whole class, "What do these words, my, your, her etc … mean?
   S: "Who something belongs to."

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

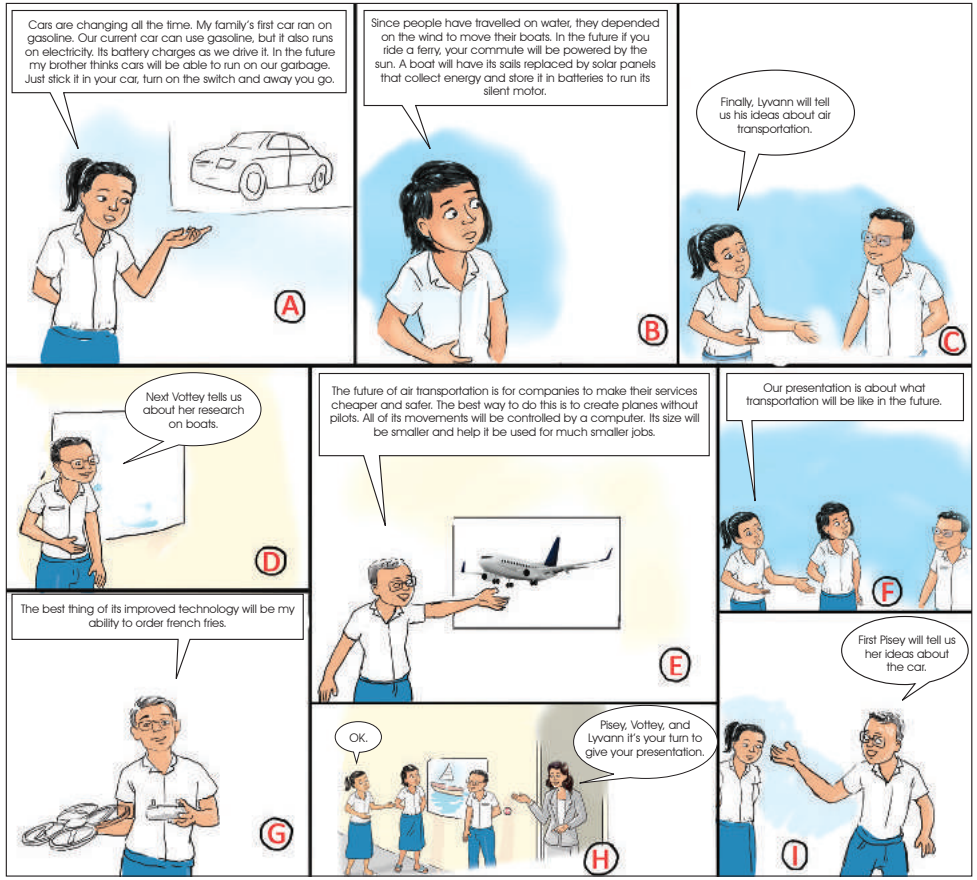
Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. It's really hard for some kids to try in class. Do you ever thank students for trying to behave?
2. Do you thank students when they give you homework?
3. Do you thank students for participating?
4. Your own question(s)._____?

25b Types of transport around the world - My vision of the future

1 Look at the pictures what order is the story told in? Starting with picture H, number the pictures 1-8.



2 Read quickly. Why is Lyvann excited about the future of transportation?

3 Are these statements true (✓) or false (✗)? Correct the false ones.

1. Miss Mom said, "Pisey, Vottey and Lyvann it's our turn to give your presentation. ___✗___ ___your___
2. Their presentation was about the future of transportation. _____ _____

Chapter 9, Unit 25, Lesson B

Transport: Types of transport around the world: My vision of the future

(5 mins): Warmer. Pass the eraser

1. Use the board eraser or a pencil case. Ask What is it? Talk into it like a phone. Students: It's a phone!
2. Tell students that they are going to play the game in their groups.

RULES: You get a point if your friends can guess what you are pretending the eraser is. But all the members lose a point if they can't guess. The person with the eraser is not allowed to talk. The group must speak in English! Some ideas: an egg, a bird, a cat, a pen, a notebook, lunch, an apple, an orange, a friend, a game.

3. Ask instruction checking questions and give a time limit of 3 minutes.

1 (7 mins): Activity 1. Lead in

1. Focus students' attention on the pictures.
2. Ask them which frame of the story they think is first, it's Ms. Mom standing in front of the class (pic. H). Tell students to put the pictures A-H in the order they think it should be told in.

Answers: 1. H 2. F 3. I 4. A 5. D 6. B 7. C 8. E 9. G

2 (5 mins): Activity 2. Gist

1. Have students read quickly and find out why Lyvann is excited about his idea of the future.

Answer: He will be able to order french fries easily.

3 (7 mins): Activity 3. Details

1. Have students read the story again and decide if the statements are true or false.
2. Students compare their answers with a partner.
3. Have individual students read each statement and give answer.

Answers: 1. ✗ 2. ✓ 3. ✗ 4. ✓ 5. ✗

4 Match the words on the left with a phrase on the right to complete the sentence on the right.

1. My bicycle	is 3 years old.
2. Your hair	is in Rose Street.
3. Her house	is boring.
4. Their parents	are from Italy.
5. His dog	speaks French.
6. Your television	is very long.
7. My book	goes very fast.
8. Our teacher	is broken.

5 Lost and Found

1. In groups of 6, show your pen or pencil and say something about it.

   Example: "This is my pen. My pen is blue."

2. Take turns trying to return a group member's pen / pencil.

   Example: "I think this blue pen is Sophan's. Sophan, is this your pen?" Sophan: "Yes, it's my pen." / "No, it's not my pen."

3. In your notebook, write one sentence about your pen/ pencil and one about your partner's.

   Example: My pen is yellow. Boree's pencil is short.

6 With a new partner, walk around the room and try to identify each other's handwriting. Use the following questions:

- Do you have a pen or a pencil?
- What color is your pen / pencil?
- Is your handwriting big or small?
- Is your handwriting easy or difficult to read?
- Is this your handwriting?

• When you find your partner's handwriting, write each of your names on the slip of paper.

4 (5 mins): Activity 4. Matching

1. Have students match a portion of the sentence on the left with a portion on the right to make a complete sentence in their notebooks.
2. Have students compare with a partner.

Answers: While there are some combinations that will make grammatically correct sentences, there is only one correct match for this exercise.

1. My bicycle goes very fast.
2. Your hair is very long.
3. Our house is in Rose Street.
4. Their parents are from Italy.
5. His dog is 3 years old.
6. Your television is broken.
7. My book is boring.
8. Our teacher speaks French.

5 (19 mins): Activity 5. Communicative Game

Lost and Found

This game has many steps and it is easier to model it yourself one step at a time. Sit with one group and let everyone observe you do Step 1. Then everyone completes Step 1. Now model Step 2 with another group. Everyone then completes Step 2, etc.

Step 1. Students sit in groups of about 6. Each student shows a pen or pencil to the others, identifies it and places it in the middle of the circle- i.e. "This is my pencil. My pencil is green."

Step 2. Students now take turns trying to return a pen or pencil to its owner. If they are correct, the owner confirms. If not, they say it is not theirs-i.e. "I think this blue pen is Sophan's. Sophan, is this your pen?" Sophan: "Yes, it's my pen."/"No, it's not my pen." If incorrect, the item returns to the center and it's the next student's turn.

Step 3. After all pen/pencils are returned. Have students write two sentences on piece of paper: one about their own pen or pencil and one sentence about the one they gave back - i.e. My pen is yellow. Boree's pencil is short.

Step 4. Collect all the writings and post them on the wall using blue tack or tape. Explain the word hand writing. Have students work in pairs near the wall and try to identify their partner's handwriting. They may ask the questions provided in the book.

Step 5. When students correctly identify their partner's handwriting, have them write their names on the slip and sit down.

(2 mins): Learner Assessment and Lesson wrap up.

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask 1 or 2 students to briefly tell the class what they learned about their partner's handwriting.
2. Ask the whole class, "What do these words, my, your, her etc…mean?
   S: "Who something belongs to"

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Do you ask your students to read aloud in class? How often do you ask students to read aloud in class?
2. Before you ask students to read aloud in class, do you give them enough opportunities to listen first and understand how texts should be read? Remember that students understand faster through listening and silent reading. If they have to read aloud, make sure they get plenty of practise and that they have had good examples of reading aloud.
3. How do you correct their mistakes when students read aloud? Reading aloud can be a difficult task. Students might feel embarrassed if you keep correcting them. They might also lose confidence. Can you think of ways to avoid embarrassing students? How can you boost their confidence?
4. Your own question(s)._____?

25c Types of transport around the world - Your transport type

1 Look at the pictures what are they? Which of these forms of transportation do you think Sokphal uses to get to school? How do you get to school?

2 Read quickly. What does Sokphal really enjoy?

My name is Sokphal and I am 13 years old. I live in Sisophon and I love speed. Lightning McQueen is my favourite cartoon character. My father drives a new shiny blue Toyota Camry car. Transport: Types of transport around the world: Your transport type

(10 mins): Warmer. Play Minimal Pairs Telephone Number

1. Copy the following table onto the board.
2. Pronounce the words out loud for students.
3. Tell students they are going to give their telephone numbers to their partner, except they will use the words instead of the numbers. note* students may make up a telephone number if they do not want to share their own.

Example: 065 639 632 = THIN (0) BUN (6) BAN (5) BUN (6) FULL (3) FIN (9) BUN (6) FULL (3) PILL (2)

4. Pair students up to tell their partners their telephone numbers. Partners try to write down the words they hear.

1 Peel	2 Pill	3 Full
4 Fool	5 Ban	6 Bun
7 Ship	8 Chip	9 Fin
	0 Thin

1 (6 mins): Activity 1. Lead in

1. Focus students' attention on the pictures.
2. Put them in pairs and have them identify each picture and answer the two questions. Allow 3 minutes.
3. Call on individual students to name each picture and then,
4. After each picture is identified, write the name on the board, then ask for a show of hands from people who think Sokphal goes to school using that means of transportation.

Answers: car bicycle airplane car moto

2 (5 mins): Activity 2. Gist

1. Allow students 1 minute to read the paragraph and answer the question.

Answer: His favorite thing is speed.

3 (5 mins): Activity 3. Details

1. Have students answer the questions in full sentences in their notebooks. That way they will be sure to use the target grammar.
2. When finished, allow them to compare their answers with a neighbour.
3. Check answers.

Answers:

2. His brother's name is Daravut.
3. Her name is Jorani.
4. His favorite cartoon character is Lightning McQueen.
5. His vehicle is a Toyota Camry.
6. Her vehicle is a Scoopy.
7. Her vehicle is a Ford Escape.
8. His brother rides a silver bicycle.
9. They are going to Indonesia for their vacation.

5 Play a game with your group. When you land on a picture, make a sentence using a word to describe who the object belongs to.

Congratulations!

You finished Unit 25! Tick (✓) the things you can do.

- I can use adjectives to describe who something belongs to. ☐
- I can name several types of transportation. ☐
- I can write a paragraph about my family. ☐

4 (10 mins): Activity 4. Writing

1. Tell students to write a paragraph about their family and the vehicles that they own. Allow them about 6 minutes for this activity.
2. Let students share their writing with their neighbour.

5 (12 mins): Activity 5. Speaking Game

1. Play the board game in groups of 3. Students can use pen caps or erasers as game markers and a bottle cap as a die: label side=2 squares, bottom side =1 square.
2. Write the rules on the board.
   - Say a sentence using a word that describes who the object belongs to. i.e. A drone flew into our yard.
   - Have students use a piece of paper on the table to remember which adjective they should use. Students can move the marker after each round or after each person takes a turn.
   - If a player cannot make a correct sentence, they stay on the original square.
3. Play continues until a player reaches the finish square or class time runs out.

(2 mins): Activity Learner Assessment and Lesson Wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Have a student or two read their paragraph for the class.
2. Ask the whole class, "What do these words, my, your, her etc … mean? S: "Who something belongs to"

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. ALL teachers make mistakes! Even good teachers make mistakes. Sometimes we give the wrong answers. What do you do when you're wrong? Do you pretend you're right, or do you admit your mistake and correct it?
2. Why do you think pretending you're right isn't helpful?
3. You can avoid making mistakes! Go through your lesson before class. Answer the questions in advance. Any more ideas? Think of ways to avoid making mistakes in class.

4. The pair with the most correct words wins.

1 (5 mins): Activity 1. Lead in

1. Have students look at the pictures and discuss all the differences between a moto taxi and a public bus.
2. Ask a few students what they think are the differences. Write them on the board.

2 (6 mins): Activity 2. Gist: Who do you agree with? (T.9.26.1)

1. Ask them to discuss with their neighbour what they think Pisey and Vottey are arguing about.
2. Tell students to listen to the conversation in (T.9.26.1). Ask them, "Who do you agree with?"
3. Also have them monitor the conversation for reasons they agree with Pisey or Vottey.

Answer: they are arguing about which form of transportation is better. Other answers depend on students' opinions and what they identified in activity 1.

TAPESCRIPT 9.26.1

Pisey: Come on Vottey we need to leave if we're going to get to the cinema on time.
Vottey: What?! The movie doesn't start for more than an hour.
Pisey: I know, but the public bus is leaving now.
Vottey: The bus? Why are we taking the public bus? Moto taxis are a good way to get around.
Pisey: Yes, I agree, but I feel the public bus is better. I can update my Facebook status and relax during my ride. Besides, my hair stays nicer, because I don't have to wear a helmet.
Vottey: Ok, so you'll still be prettier than me. But the motos are closer than the bus stop.
Pisey: I don't mind walking further. The bus is safer. I don't have to worry about being in an accident.
Vottey: True, but riding a moto is easier. They're always outside waiting. You don't know when the bus will come.
Pisey: That's ok, it's healthier than breathing the exhaust of cars as I sit on the moto. And …
Bus Driver: That'll be 500 riel please.
Pisey: … and it's cheaper than a moto ride. Bye, see you at the cinema.
Vottey: But … 40 minutes later.
Vottey: But taking a moto taxi is a lot faster than riding a bus.

3 (7 mins): Activity 3. Details (T.9.26.1)

1. Have students listen to (T.9.26.1) again.
2. Tell them they will use the correct form of the words in the box to complete the sentences. #1 is an example.

Answers: 2. prettier 3. further 4. easier 5. healthier 6. cheaper 7. faster

4 (6 mins): Activity 4. Rules

1. Have students look at the 2 example sentences from (T.9.26.1), and have them complete the rules.
2. Tell students to look at easy, Ask, "What do we do to words that end with 'y' when we change them to plural?"
   S: "Change it to 'i'.
   T: "Good, we do the same with those words in this case too."
3. Compare with a neighbour.
4. Go over answers with class. If students are having trouble with the comparative of bad, you can play Hangman with them. (see Teacher's Notes Unit 1, Lesson A, page 16 for game instructions)

Answers: 1. different 2. more 3. –er / than / shorter / slower than / easier than 4. better than / further than / worse than 5 Practise.

A. Complete the sentences with the correct form of the words.

strong fast long nice

Better and faster! Come and try it!

1. It´s _____ a cheetah.
2. It´s _____ an elephant.
3. It´s _____ a snake.
4. It´s _____ a peacock.

It´s the new Blaze 2015!!

B. Use the information to complete the sentences comparing the two motorbikes.

The green motorbike is _____ the red one.
The red motorbike is _____ the green one.
The green motorbike is _____ the red one.

C. Write 2 more sentences about the motorbikes above in your notebook.

6 Compare Each Other

In groups of 4 write as many sentences as you can comparing your classmates. See who can write the most comparisons.

/moeyscambodia /krou.moeys.gov.kh http://oer.moeys.gov.kh #OERCambodia

5 (6 mins): Activity 5. Practise

1. Have students individually complete the sentences about the Blaze 2015, using correct forms of the words in the box.
2. Have them compare answers with a partner.
3. With that same partner have them complete the sentences comparing the two motorbikes and then write 2 more sentences in their notebooks.

Answers: A. 1. faster than 2. stronger than 3. longer than 4. nicer than B/C. students' own ideas. Just make sure they are using the correct form –er + than.

6 (11 mins): Activity 6. More Practise

1. Put students in groups of four.
2. Tell them when you say, "Go", they should write as many comparative statements about the people in the classroom as they can. Set a time limit of about four minutes.
3. At the end of the time period, have one group share their sentences. If another group has the same sentence as the first group, both groups should cross that statement off their list. Continue until all groups have read all of their statements and any duplicates are eliminated. The group with the most statements remaining wins.

(2 mins): Learner Assessment and Lesson Wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask 2 or 3 students to tell how they would travel to the cinema a bus or moto and why.
2. Ask students what the purpose of the words they have been studying is.

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Teaching can be lonely when you don't have support. Who do you talk to when you have a problem in your classroom?
2. Do you tell people when things go wrong? or only about when things go right?
3. What benefits are there from sharing with and learning from your fellow teachers?
4. Your own question(s)._____?

26b Transport choices - More efficient?

1 Look at the pictures. What are they? Just a guess!

2 Match the texts with the means of transportation above.

1 Welcome to Heathrow International Airport. There are a variety of ways to travel into the center of London—underground train, airport bus, taxi or express train. Please read the descriptions below to choose the way for you to reach downtown London. Choose carefully, some types are easier to use than others for tourists.

2 The Tube
Travel from Heathrow Airport to downtown London takes about 1 hour. There are never traffic delays, but sometimes problems can make the journey longer than normal. The cost for a regular fare is £3.70 and trains leave every 3-5 minutes. It can be more crowded during busy times and you might not be able to sit down or have much space for your luggage.

3 Airbus
The trip into central London takes about 1 hour 45 minutes, but it can take longer at busier times of the day. Buses leave every 20-30 minutes. A regular ticket costs £8.00, and gives you a guaranteed seat in a modern air conditioned coach.

4 Heathrow Express
The Heathrow Express is only a 15 minute ride from the airport to London's Paddington station. The £13.00 ticket price gets you a seat in one of the modern air conditioned express cars. Trains leave every 15 minutes. There is a special 'quiet zone' available for those passengers who need it. Booking tickets online will save you 10% or £1.30.

5 Taxi Cabs
Taxis are available at your convenience, as there are always lots of taxis waiting outside the airport. Journey times into London's center can vary from 30 minutes to more than 1 hour, depending on traffic conditions. Costs depend on the company chosen. An average fare is about £34.00. London's cab drivers are famous for their ability to talk and can be very informative.

Chapter 9, Unit 26, Lesson B

Transport: Transport choices: More efficient?

(5 mins): Warmer. Compare Things

1. Present the class with a list of nouns, such as: elephant, pencil, teacher, flower, car, person (preferably using vocabulary the class has recently learnt).
2. Have students write ways of comparing them using comparatives i.e. A pencil is thinner than an elephant.

(4 mins): Lead In

1. Write underground train, airport bus, taxi cab, express train on the board.
2. Tell students to discuss with their partners what they think it would be like to travel in each type of transport.
3. Ask students their ideas as a class.

1 (4 mins): Activity 1. Students Guess

1. Students' books closed. Have students looking at you. Tell them that they are going to guess what each of the pictures is of. It doesn't matter if they are right or wrong.
2. Ask instruction checking questions and give a 2 minute limit.
3. Students talk.
4. Ask students what they think each picture is.

2 (5 mins): Activity 2. Gist

1. Tell students they are going to read and match the texts with the pictures above.
2. Students read and match individually.
3. Students compare with their neighbors.
4. Ask students the answers as a class.

Answers: A. Airbus B. Heathrow Express C. Taxi D. The Tube

3 Are these statements true (✓) or false (✗)? Correct the false ones.

1. The Airbus is quicker than the Tube. ✗ The Tube is quicker than the Airbus.
2. A taxi is more expensive than the Heathrow Express. _____ _____
3. The Tube is more modern than the Heathrow Express. _____ _____
4. The Airbus leaves more frequently than the Heathrow Express. _____ _____
5. The Tube can be more informative than the taxi drivers. _____ _____
6. A taxi is more convenient than the Heathrow Express. _____ _____
7. The Airbus journey is longer than a taxi ride. _____ _____

4 Rules.

A. Say the following words. Clap your hands as you say the words.

long modern busy expensive

B. Complete the rules.

To make comparatives of

1. Words with one syllable add –er + _____
2. Most words with two or more syllables use _____ + word + _____
3. Some two syllable words that end in _____, change to –i and use –er + than.

C. Use the correct form of the words in the box to complete the sentences.

old difficult beautiful happy boring

1. Sokunthea is _____ Tevy.
2. The girls are _____ the boys.
3. Learning French is _____ English.
4. The first movie is _____ the second. I don't recommend it.
5. Tina is 5 years old. Sandra is 10 years old. Sandra is _____ Tina.

5 Fun Facts.

Australia is _____ than America.

Student A turn to page 239.
Student B turn to page 240.

1. Individually complete the sentences on your page. Don't show your partner
2. Student B begins by reading sentence #1 to student A. If it's the same as student A, you get one point. If it isn't, you must continue to guess what the correct comparison is.

/moeyscambodia

3 (10 mins): Activity 3. True or False

1. Write The Airbus is quicker than the Tube. on the board.
2. Ask students how long each trip takes. (Airbus 1hr 45min; Tube~1hr) Ask, "Is this true?" Students, "No, it's slower/takes longer." On the board write The Tube is _____ ____ the Airbus. Ask students to complete the rest.
3. Give students a time limit of 5 minutes to complete.
4. Students compare answers with a neighbour.
5. Check answers as a class.

Answers: 1. False/ The Tube is quicker than the Airbus. 2. True 3. True 4. False/ The Heathrow Express leaves more frequently than the Airbus. 5. False/ The taxi drivers can be more informative than the Tube. 6. True 7. True

4 (10 mins): Activity 4. Rules

A.
1. Have students say the words out loud and clap their hands with each break in the words. i.e. long (clap), mod (clap) ern (clap), Bu (clap) sy (clap,) ex (clap) pen (clap) sive (clap). Tell students that each clap in the word is a syllable and it is how we break up the pronunciation of words in English.
2. Have them do it again and count the syllables in each word. Ask them, "How many syllables in the word long?" Students: "One." etc.

B. Have students complete the rules with the correct answers.

C. Have students use the comparative form of the words in the box to complete the sentences.

Answers: B. 1. +than. 2. more, than. 3. y
C. 1. more beautiful than 2. happier than 3. more difficult than 4. more boring than 5. older than

5 (10 mins): Activity 5. Fun Facts

1. Demonstrate the activity by writing Australia is _____ America on the board. On a piece of paper write Australia is smaller than America.
2. Tell students you have written the correct answer to the example sentence on the paper. Ask different students to try to guess the correct comparison.
3. Tell students they are going to play a similar game. Divide students into pairs (A and B) and have them turn to the appropriate page. Student A page 239 and Student B page 240.
4. First have them individually complete the gaps with correct comparisons. Give a 4 minute time limit for this.
5. Next, have student B read sentence #1, if it is the same as student A's, they get a point. If not tell them to keep guessing until they correctly complete the sentence. Then it is Student A's turn. Have students take turns.

(2 mins): Learner Assessment and Lesson Wrap up.

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask one or two students to make a comparison with 2 types of transport from activity 2.
2. Ask students, "How do we form a comparative when there are 2 or more syllables?"

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

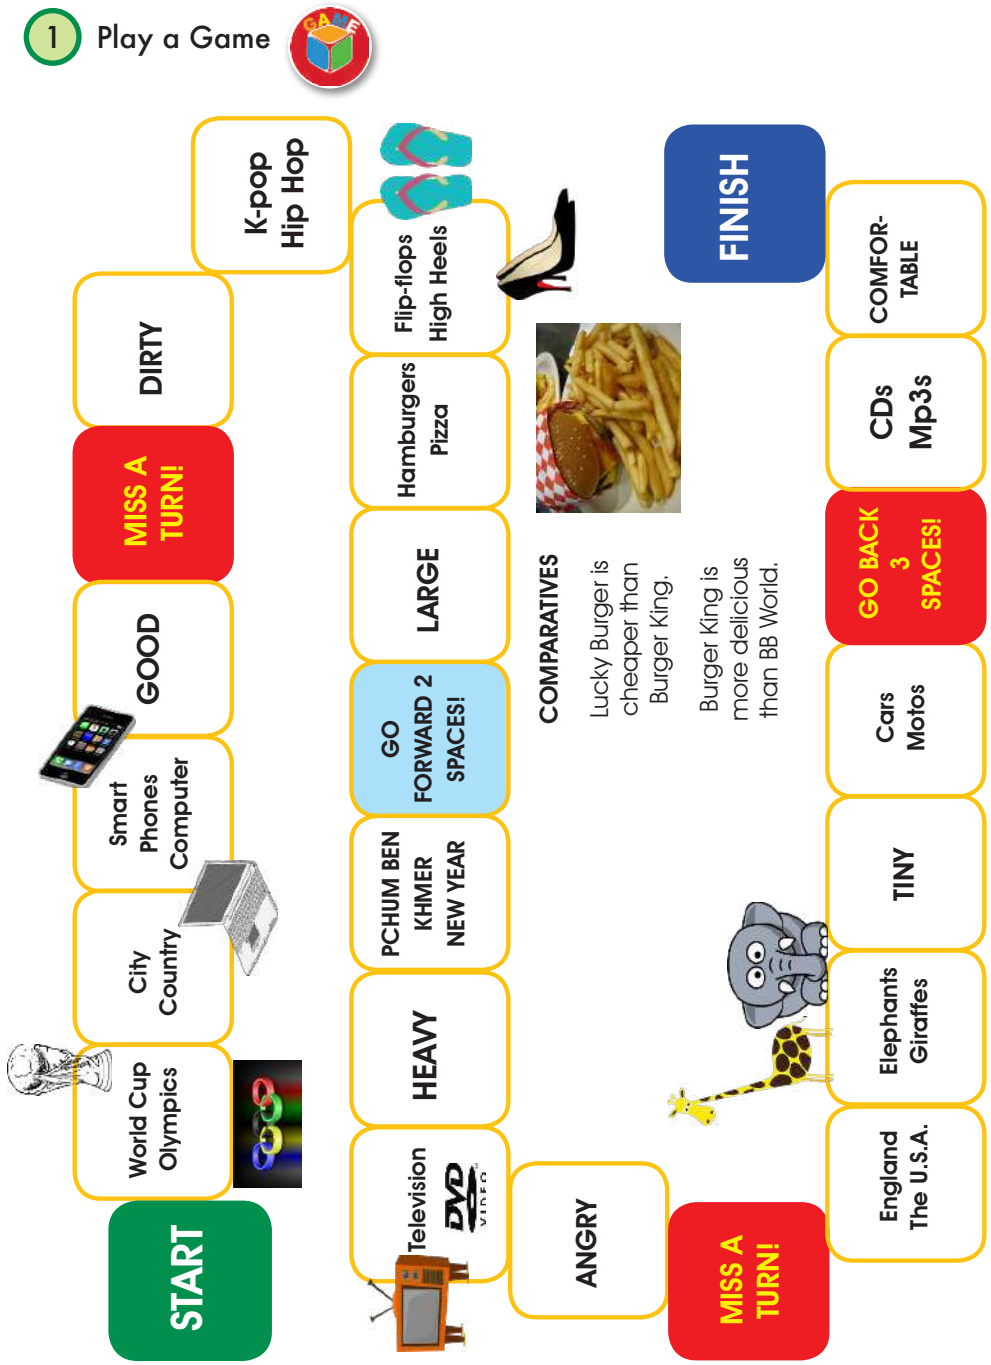
Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Did any activities go particularly well today? Which ones? Why?
2. It's almost the end of the year! How have you improved as a teacher?
3. What are you most proud about your teaching?
4. What advice would you give to new teachers about teaching this book for the first time?
5. Your own question(s)._____?

26c Transport choices - Bigger, better, more expensive

1 Play a Game



Chapter 9, Unit 26, Lesson C

Transport: Transport choices: Bigger, better, more expensive

(10 mins): Warmer. Broken Telephone

1. Put students in lines of approximately 6 or 7.
2. Tell students they are going to whisper a phrase to each other one at a time. They should not speak so loudly that the next person can hear them.
3. The teacher gives the first person in each row a slip of paper with a message written on it (see below). Those people silently read the message, hand it back to the teacher and then whisper the message into the next person's ear, and so on.
4. When the last person in the row hears the phrase, they should walk to the white board and write the phrase they heard.
5. Have students shuffle their line and repeat with another phrase.

Possible phrases:

- We surely shall see the sun shine soon.
- I scream, you scream, we all scream for ice cream!
- Long legged ladies live longer.
- Lightning McQueen likes loaded lunches.

1 (15 mins): Activity 1. Speaking Game

1. Play the board game in groups of 3. Students can use pen caps or erasers as game markers and a bottle cap as a die: label side=2 squares, bottom side=1 square.
2. Write the rules on the board:
   - Flip the bottle cap and move that number of squares.
   - If you land on a square with two nouns, i.e. Television/DVDs, you must say a sentence making a comparison between the two, i.e. Watching a DVD is more entertaining than watching television.
   - If you land on a square with one noun, i.e. Delicious you must choose two things to compare, i.e. Pizza is more delicious than spinach.
   - The first person to reach the finish square in each group is the winner.
   - If they cannot make a comparison, they must stay on their original square.
3. Play continues until a player reaches the finish square or class time runs out.

2 How's your English?

A. Think about your English skills at the beginning of the school year, were they very good? How about now, how would you compare it? Write a sentence:

My English skills now are _____ they were at the beginning of the school year.

B. Think about how well you do these things now:

- speaking
- listening
- grammar
- vocabulary

C. Write a paragraph in your notebook, comparing yourself from the beginning of the year to now.

Congratulations!

You finished Unit 26! Tick (✓) the things you can do.

I can use adjectives to compare two things or people. ☐
I can identify the number of syllables in words. ☐
I can write a paragraph about my English skills. ☐

2 (20 mins): Activity 2. Writing

(2 mins)
1. Ask students to think back to the beginning of the year. Ask them, "How did you feel about your English skills?" Allow them 1 minute to think. Then ask one or two students to share their thoughts.

(1 min)
2. Tell them to think about their English skills now. Ask, "Do you feel more confident than you did at the start of the school year?"

(1 min)
3. Have them complete the sentence with information true for them.

(3 mins)
4. Have students compare themselves at the beginning of the year to themselves now in speaking confidence, grammar, vocabulary, reading and listening.

(8 mins)
5. Next have them write a paragraph in their notebooks comparing their progress in learning English.

(5 mins)
6. Have students get into groups of 3 and share their writing with each other.

(5 mins): Learner Assessment and Lesson Wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask students to look at the 'can do' statements at the bottom of page 169. Have them tick those things they can do.
2. Ask two or three students to read their writing for the class.
3. Write 3 adjectives on the board, your choice, choose students to make a sentence comparing two things or people using one of the adjectives.

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. If you come into class feeling good with lots of energy, your students will feel good as well, but if you come in with low energy ready to shout, students will pick up on that as well. How was your attitude in class today?
2. How do you try to make sure your class have a great attitude toward learning English?
3. Your own question(s)._____?

Unit 27 - Alternative fuel vehicles

27a Alternative fuel vehicles - Who's the worst?

1 Look at the picture. What happened? Discuss with a partner.

2 T.9.27.1 Listen to the conversation.

- Were you correct?
- What happened?

3 T.9.27.1 Listen again and complete the sentences.

1. The race course is _____ _____ any rider has ridden.
2. Pisey is _____ _____.
3. Vottey is _____ _____.
4. Lyvann is _____ _____.
5. This was _____ _____ race ever.
6. We don't know who _____ _____ rider is, but we know Lyvann is _____ _____ rider.

4 Look at the examples and choose the correct word.

Pisey is certainly the tallest. It's a guess as to who is the best.

Regular Superlatives

1. Superlatives are used to show how two / three or more people are different.
2. They are used to show who/what has more / the most of a quality or characteristic.
3. We put a/the before the adjective and add –er / –est to the end.

Change these to superlative form strong the strongest tall the _____ fast ____ _____ long ____ _____

Irregular Superlatives

4. Some words change their spelling of the superlative form.

good ____ _____ far ____ _____ bad ____ _____

5 Look at the chart below comparing three electric cars. Use the words in the box to make sentences about the cars.

long	~~quick~~	cheap	new	old	fast	far	slow	cheap

Chapter 9, Unit 27, Lesson A

Transport: Alternative fuel vehicles: Who's the worst?

This lesson uses recordings which can be downloaded from the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sport website. (50 mins)

(7 mins): Warmer. Words from words

1. Put the students in pairs.
2. Write the words Superlative Adjectives on the board.
3. Students have to make as many words as possible from the letters in the word. For example, from the word 'grandmother' the following words can be made: red, hot, her, grand, heat, rat, meat, hate, dragon, mate, and etc.
4. The pair with the most correct words wins.

1 (5 mins): Activity 1. Lead in

1. Focus students' attention on the picture. Ask them what they think happened.
2. Pair them up and allow them to discuss their ideas with a partner.
3. Ask a couple of students what they think happened.

2 (6 mins): Activity 2. Gist (T.9.27.1)

1. Students listen to (T.9.27.1) to check their guess.

Answer: Lyvann fell off of his bicycle and crashed into the other two riders.

TAPESCRIPT 9.27.1

Thearak: Welcome ladies and gentlemen to the first ever Kian Svay bicycle race. This is going to be an exciting day and probably a bit tiring for our riders. The race course set at 2 kilometers will be the longest any of our riders has ever ridden. You just can't help but wonder who is going to ride it the fastest.
Finn: That's right Thearak; it's a guess as to who is the best. Pisey is certainly the tallest. Her legs allow her to pedal with longer strokes than most people. Vottey is by far the strongest of the three riders, as she works out with the local Bokator team. The real mystery competitor is Lyvann. He's, he's uhhh …, he's the smartest of our three competitors this afternoon, but I'm not sure it will help him.
Thearak: Okay Finn, thanks for that. It looks like our racers are ready annnnnnd (bottle breaks) their off … 2 second pause (sound of crashing bicycles) … Oh dear, this was the shortest race ever.
Finn: That's right Thearak. We don't know who the fastest racer is, but we do know that Lyvann, after falling into our other two riders at the very start of the race, is the worst.

3 (5 mins): Activity 3. Details

1. Have students listen to (T.9.27.1) again and complete the sentences.
2. Students compare their answers with a partner.
3. Have individual students read each statement and give answer.

Answers: 1. the longest 2. the tallest 3. the strongest 4. the smartest 5. the shortest 6. the fastest / the worst

4 (6 mins): Activity 4. Rules

1. Have students look at the 2 example sentences from (T.9.27.1), and have them complete the rules.
2. Compare with a neighbour.
3. Go over answers with class.

Answers: 1. three or more 2. the most 3. the / -est / tallest / the fastest / the longest 4. the best / the furthest / the worst

5 (8 mins): Activity 5. Practise

1. Focus students' attention on the chart.
2. Read through the information with the class. Ask comprehension checking questions, "How fast can the Smart Fortwo go?" Sts: "167 km/h." etc…
3. Have them read the first example sentence. Point out their sentences will have 2 parts the comparative and the superlative.
4. Allow students to compare answers before discussing as a class.

Answers: (answer order will vary)
1. Example 2. The Nissan Leaf is cheaper than the Tesla Model S, but the Smart Fortwo is the cheapest. 3. The Leaf is older than the Model S, but the Fortwo is the oldest. 4. The Leaf is newer than the Fortwo, but the Model S is the newest. 5. The Leaf is faster than the Fortwo, but the Model S is fastest. 6. The Leaf is slower than the Model S, but the Fortwo is the slowest. 7. The Leaf goes further than the Fortwo on a charge, but the Model S goes the furthest. 8. The Fortwo is cheaper to drive than the Model S, but the Leaf is the cheapest. 9. The Leaf takes longer to charge than the Fortwo, but the Model S takes the longest.

	Tesla Model S	Nissan Leaf	Smart Fortwo Electric Car
Year	2015	2014	2013
Price	$69,900	$30,295	$25,750
Fastest Speed	287 km/h	174 km/h	167 km/h
Time it takes for car to go from 0 to 96.5 km/h	5.9 seconds	10.2 seconds	9.8 seconds
How far the car can travel on a charged battery	385 km	139 km	126 km
How much it costs to drive 46 Km	$1.05	$.90	$.96
Time to charge battery	10 hours	8 hours	6 hours
Seating Capacity	5 people	5 people	2 people

1. The Smart Fortwo Electric car is faster than the Nissan Leaf, but the Tesla Model S is the fastest.
2. The Nissan Leaf is _____ the Tesla Model S, but the Smart Fortwo is _____.

Your turn. How many more can you write?

3. _____
4. _____
5. _____
6. _____
7. _____
8. _____
9. _____

6 Speaking.

A. Complete the first blank with the correct form of the word in brackets.

1. I think _____ (good) singer is …
2. I think _____ (bad) pop group are …
3. I think _____ (great) pop group in the world is …
4. I think _____ (bad) TV program right now is …
5. I think _____ (good) film I've seen this year is …
6. I think _____ (sad) film I've ever seen is …

B. Complete the rest of the sentences with information that is true for you.

C. In groups of 3 tell each other your sentences. Do you agree with your group members? Tell them what you think.

Useful language: 'Agree' I agree / I think so too

- Disagreeing: I don't think so / I'm afraid I disagree, I think …
- Questions: Who do you think is the best singer?

Example: A: I think the best singer is _____.
B: I think so too. Solida, who do you think is the best singer?
C: I don't think _____ is the best singer. I think _____ is the best.

6 (11 mins): Activity 6. Speaking

A.

1. Have students individually complete the first blank in the sentences using the correct form of the word in brackets. Allow 3 minutes for this.
2. Allow students to compare answers.
3. Go over the answers with the class.
4. Students then complete the second blank with answers that are true for them.

Answers: 1. the best 2. the worst 3. the greatest 4. the worst 5. the best 6. the saddest

B.

1. Ask one or two students who they think the best singer is. Write the sentence on the board.
2. Tell students to complete the sentences with their own ideas. Allow 4 minutes for this.

C.

1. Put students in groups of 3 and have them read their sentences to each other.
2. Tell students that they are allowed to comment on each other's opinions using the language in their books.

(2 mins): Learner Assessment and Lesson Wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask a couple of students what they discovered in their groups.
2. Ask students what the purpose of these words are.

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Classifying things is a skill! In real life, we classify a lot of things (e.g. according to colour, functions). Classifying vocabulary helps children make connections between words and concepts. How can you help your students develop this skill?
2. When you classify vocabulary, it is also important to remember that there are different ways of grouping things, not just the first that comes to mind. How can you foster an environment that encourages students to look at things from various perspectives?
3. Your own question(s)._____?

27b Alternative fuel vehicles - What's that smell?

1 Look at the cars, what do you think they have in common? How are they different?

2 Read quickly. What is special about these cars?

While today's cars are the most efficient in history, petrol is the most dangerous source of pollution and vehicles of the future might not run on it.

One of the most popular of the newest types of cars is the hybrid. It uses a petrol engine and an electric motor. The engine recharges the battery. This makes it travel a lot further than most other alternative fuel vehicles. Some hybrids can get 49 km/L.

Electric Vehicles or EVs are not new technology; they have existed since the late 19th Century. EVs are the cleanest running vehicles on the road, because they do not produce any pollution. However they can only travel about 160 kilometers before needing to be plugged in and recharged.

Cars using biodiesel could be described as the most delicious because it is made from used cooking oil and turned into fuel. Also if you have a diesel vehicle already, this is the easiest alternative because biodiesel can be used immediately without adding extra equipment. Unfortunately biodiesel doesn't offer any boosts to fuel efficiency over regular diesel, it's just cleaner.

3 Read the text again and match the parts to complete the sentences.

Ex. Biodiesel is	the most delicious	source of pollution.

Chapter 9, Unit 27, Lesson B

Transport: Alternative fuel vehicles: What's that smell?

(7 mins): Warmer. Sparkle

1. The class forms a circle.
2. The teacher says a word from previous lessons. i.e. cheaper, healthier, further, better.
3. The first student says the first letter of the word.
4. The next in line says the second letter.
5. The student next in line says the third letter. This continues until all letters of the list word have been spoken.
6. The student in line AFTER the last letter then says the word.
7. The next student in line says "SPARKLE" and is OUT, and returns to his seat.

*Anytime a student says the wrong letter, he is out and returns to his seat.
Play as many rounds as time permits.

1 (3 mins): Activity 1. Lead In

1. Focus students' attention on the pictures of the 3 cars.
2. Ask them what they think the 3 cars have in common with each other and what they think is different.

Answers: Students' ideas

2 (4 mins): Activity 2. Gist

1. Have students quickly read the text to confirm their ideas in activity 1.
2. Discuss with students how the vehicles are the same and different.

Answers: Special: they use alternative fuels, like electricity and vegetable oil

3 (8 mins): Activity 3. Details

1. Have students read again and complete the statements by matching a phrase from each column.
2. Allow them to compare answers with a neighbour.
3. Call on individual students to read correct answers.

Answers:

1. Today's cars are the most efficient in history.
2. Petrol is the most dangerous source of pollution.
3. One of the most popular is the hybrid car.
4. EVs are the cleanest running vehicles on the road.
5. Biodiesel is the most delicious because it is made from used vegetable oil.

4 Rules

A. How many syllables does each of these words have?

clean easy delicious

B. Complete the rules. To make superlatives of:

1. Words with one syllable use _____ and add _____.
2. Words with two or more syllables use _____ _____ + word.
3. Some two syllable words that end in _____, change to –i and use the + -est.

important funny bad difficult old

C. Use the correct form of the words in the box to complete the sentences.

1. I think physics is _____ science subject.
2. EVs are _____ of the alternative vehicle technologies.
3. I always tell _____ jokes.
4. Winning only 4 games, Leicester City is _____ team in the English Premier League.
5. Angkor Wat is _____ tourist site in Cambodia.

5 Write one sentence for each idea in your notebook.

UNCOMFORTABLE BED	sleep in
LONG CAR/BUS RIDE	take
OLD PERSON	meet
FAMOUS PERSON	meet
BEAUTIFUL PLACE	see

6 Choose one of the above experiences and write a paragraph describing the experience in your notebook.

4 (8 mins): Activity 4. Rules

A.
1. Review with students how to check the number of syllables in English words. (see Unit 26, Lesson B)
2. Ask them how many syllables in each word.

B. Have students complete the rules with the correct answers.

C. Have students use the comparative form of the words in the box to complete the sentences.

Answers:

A. 1, 2, 3
B. 1. the, -est 2. the most+word 3. y
C. 1. the most difficult 2. the oldest 3. the funniest 4. the worst 5. the most important

5 (8 mins): Activity 5. Practise

1. Have students look at the sentence starters. Ask them what the superlative of each adjective would be.

Answers: the most uncomfortable bed, the longest car ride, the oldest person, the most famous person, the most beautiful place

2. Tell students to write one sentence using the correct form for each idea. i.e. The longest bus ride I ever took was from Phnom Penh to Poipet.
3. Allow students to share their experiences with their neighbours.
4. Ask a few individual students to read one or two of their sentences.

Answers: Students' own ideas. Make sure they use the correct form of the adjectives and verbs.

6 (10 mins): Activity 6. Writing

1. Tell students to choose one of the above experiences and write a paragraph describing the experience.
2. Let students share their writing with a neighbour.

(2 mins): Learner Assessment and Lesson Wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask one or two students to read their paragraph.
2. Ask students how many things are being compared when using superlative adjectives.

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Skimming is reading quickly to get a general understanding of texts. This skill is very useful for students. Students don't have to understand all the words in a text to understand it. Can your students skim texts well, or do they stop reading when they see new/difficult words?
2. Giving a short time limit when reading helps students with this. How can you help students skim texts better? Think of 2 ways. Then try them out in your next class.
3. Your own question(s)._____?

/moeyscambodia /krou.moeys.gov.kh http://oer.moeys.gov.kh #OERCambodia

27c Alternative fuel vehicles - What do you think?

1 Speaking Game

- label side=2 squares, bottom side=1 square.
- Flip the bottle cap and move that number of squares.
- The player on the left reads the question for the player who is answering.
- If a player lands on a square with a time indicator (10, 20 or 30 seconds), the player must answer the question and speak for that length of time.

Start	1. What is the most delicious food your mother cooks?	2. Who is the funniest person you know? (10 seconds)	3. What animal do you think is the most beautiful? (15 seconds)

Chapter 9, Unit 27, Lesson C

Transport: Alternative fuel vehicles: What do you think?

(10 mins): Warmer, Play 'Say it differently'

1. Put students in groups of 4 or 5.
2. Have each group decide on how to order themselves comparatively, i.e. by birthdate (oldest to youngest) or shoe size (smallest to largest), and line up in that order. Don't tell other groups how they have ordered themselves.
3. Pair groups up and allow them to guess how the other group has ordered themselves, i.e. they have ordered themselves by their height, Sothea is the shortest and Rath is taller than him, but shorter than Phanouk and Tommy is the tallest.

1 (16 mins): Activity 1. Speaking Game

1. Play the board game in groups of 3. Students can use pen caps or erasers as game markers and a bottle cap as a die: label side=2 squares, bottom side=1 square.
2. Write the rules on the board:

- Flip the bottle cap and move that number of squares.
- The player on the left reads the question for the player who is answering.
- If, a player lands a square with a time indicator (10, 20 or 30 seconds), the player must answer the question and speak for at least that length of time.

2 Superlative Olympics

- In groups, choose someone to compete in each event. The winner receives a point.
- After each event the team with all members writing a correct superlative sentence for the event wins an extra point.

Example: Sokunthea has the longest hair in the class.

EVENTS:

1. The longest hair
2. The student that can say the English alphabet the quickest
3. The widest arm span
4. The tallest student
5. The most beautiful voice
6. The student who can hold their breath the longest
7. The student wearing the most colourful shoes
8. The most expensive mobile phone
9. The biggest smile

Congratulations!

You finished Unit 27! Tick (✓) the things you can do.

I can use adjectives to compare three or more things or people. ☐

I can use superlative adjectives to describe extreme instances of things. ☐

I can write a paragraph to describe extreme experiences. ☐

2 (21 mins): Activity 2. Superlative Olympics

1. Divide the class into groups of 4 or 5.
2. Tell them they are going to have a contest and will need to enter their best competitor in each event. A different person must be entered in each event. The winner of each event receives one point.
3. After each event, all team members must write the correct superlative sentence for that event. The first team to do this wins an extra point.
4. Allow students to read through the events and choose their competitors for each event. Allow 5 minutes for this.
5. Bring the competitors up to the front of the classroom one at a time and determine who the winner is, awarding a point to the winning team.
6. Next have all students write the superlative sentence for the event. The first team who all completes the sentence correctly is awarded an extra point.
7. Continue through all events.
8. The winning team is the team with the most points.

(3 mins): Learner Assessment and Lesson Wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask students to look at the checklist or the 'can do' statements at the bottom of page 175. Have them tick those things they can do.
2. Ask students what the superlative adjectives are used for?
3. Ask individual students what the most expensive meal they have ever had is, the biggest insect they have ever seen, the loudest wedding they have been to, or what the most exciting sport to watch is.

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. We all have students who are naughty sometimes. How do you make them do the right thing?
2. Do you only tell them when they are doing the wrong thing or do you tell them they are doing really well when they are doing the right thing?
3. How do you help your students feel good about good behaviour?
4. Do you ever say thank you to well behaved students?
5. How could you do this lesson better next time?
6. Your own question(s)._____?

6. In pairs – ask the students to ask and answer the questions with their partner.

(2 mins): Learner Assessment and Lesson Wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask students questions about what they did at specific times last night e.g. What did you do at 5 pm?
2. Are they using the language correctly? Do they need any help?

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Students need short, simple and clear instructions. If instructions are too long, they stop listening! Were your instructions short and clear?
2. One good way to make your instructions clear and simple is to write them. Find time in the next few days to write at least 5 instructions you often use in class – in English! This will save you time!
3. How could you do this lesson better next time?
4. Your own question(s)._____?

3. Listen carefully. Are they using the language correctly. Do they need help?

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

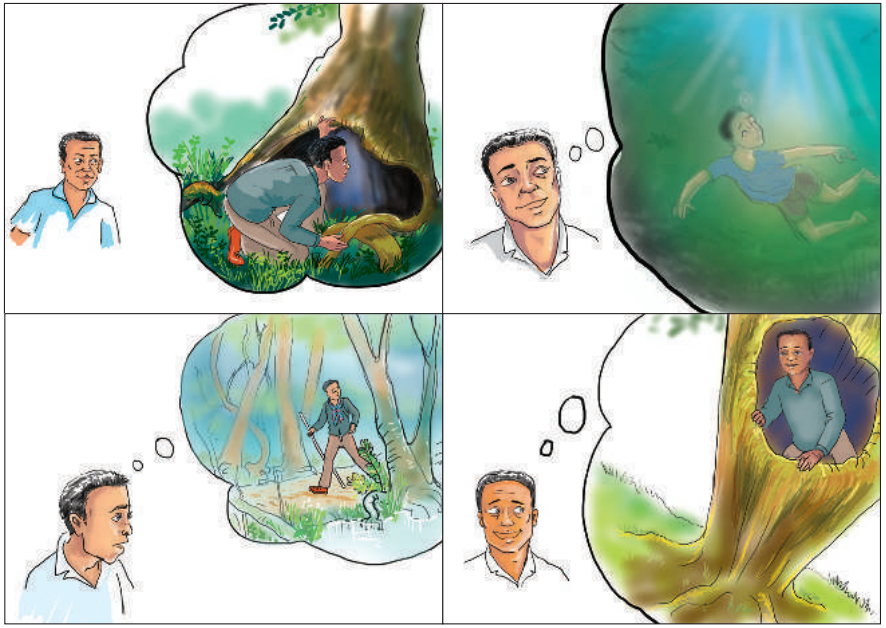
Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. How do you feel when people correct your English?
2. Have you ever taught a lesson where you only praised correct usage and ignored mistakes?
3. Why is telling students that they are doing well important?
4. Your own question(s)._____?

28c What did we do last week? - A jungle adventure.

1 Look at the picture. Mr. Sovann is thinking about what he did after school last week.

- What did he do?



2 T.10.28.5 Listen and read the conversation. Check your ideas from activity 1.

Miss Mom	:	Good morning Mr. Sovann. How are you?
Mr. Sovann	:	I'm very good. Thank you for asking.
Miss Mom	:	Did you do anything interesting last week?
Mr. Sovann	:	Yes. I went for a walk in the jungle.
Miss Mom	:	Was it very hot?
Mr. Sovann	:	Yes it was, and I saw a hole under a tree.
Miss Mom	:	How big was it?
Mr. Sovann	:	It was very big. It was a big cave.
Miss Mom	:	Was it dark?
Mr. Sovann	:	Yes it was. It was very difficult to see. There was a river in the cave.
Miss Mom	:	Was the river deep?
Mr. Sovann	:	Yes, it was very deep. I swam into the next cave.
Miss Mom	:	Were there two caves?
Mr. Sovann	:	Yes, there were two caves.
Miss Mom	:	Were you frightened?
Mr. Sovann	:	Yes, I was. I was lost in the caves.
Miss Mom	:	How long were you in the caves?
Mr. Sovann	:	I was in the caves for about three hours. I was very happy when I saw the sun and the trees.

4. Go through some of the students' ideas together.
5. There is no need for correction at this stage of the lesson.

Answer: The students' ideas may be different.

2 (8 mins): Activity 2. Listen and read the conversation. Check your ideas from activity 1 (T.10.28.5)

1. Ask the students to listen and read the conversation.
2. Ask them to check their ideas from activity one.

TAPESCRIPT 10.28.5

Miss Mom: Good morning Mr. Sovann. How are you?
Mr. Sovann: I'm very good. Thank you for asking.
Miss Mom: Did you do anything interesting last week?
Mr. Sovann: Yes. I went for a walk in the jungle.
Miss Mom: Was it very hot?
Mr. Sovann: Yes, it was, and I saw a hole under a tree.
Miss Mom: How big was it?
Mr. Sovann: It was very big. It was a big cave.
Miss Mom: Was it dark?
Mr. Sovann: Yes it was. It was very difficult to see. There was a river in the cave.
Miss Mom: Was the river deep?
Mr. Sovann: Yes, it was very deep. I swam into the next cave.
Miss Mom: Were there two caves?
Mr. Sovann: Yes, there were two caves.
Miss Mom: Were you frightened?
Mr. Sovann: Yes, I was. I was lost in the caves.
Miss Mom: How long were you in the caves?
Mr. Sovann: I was in the caves for about three hours. I was very happy when I saw the sun and the trees.

5. In pairs – ask them to think of some of their own sentences.
6. Monitor carefully and correct any errors you hear.
7. Ask some of the students to tell the class their new sentences.

5 (8 mins): Activity 5. Read and number the pictures. Then find the secret message

1. Go through the example in the student's book together:
   - 1 – We were in the living room.
   - This matches picture (S)
   - So we write (s) underneath (1) in the speech bubble.
2. In pairs – ask students to match the sentences 2 – 9 with the pictures.
3. Ask them to write the correct letters in the speech bubble.

Answers: 1 –s, 2 – e, 3 – e, 4 – r, 5 – y, 6 – d, 7 – a, 8 – t, 9 – y Yesterday

4. When finished, ask them to answer the question – Where were you this time …?

(2 mins): Learner Assessment and Lesson Wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask students to look at the 'can do' statements.
2. Ask them to tell their partner how they feel about the statements.
3. Ask some of the students to tell you how they feel about the 'can do' statements. Use their answers to gauge their progress.

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. One of the most important things to remember to bring to class is a good attitude. Did you have a good attitude in class today?
2. How do you help your students have a good attitude to learning?
3. Do any of your students have a negative attitude to learning? Why?
4. Is there anything you can do to try and help them?
5. Your own question(s)._____?

(2 mins): Learner Assessment and Lesson Wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Read out some of the sentences in the lesson e.g. Lyvann was taking pictures of birds. He were taking pictures of the fire.
2. Ask the students to tell you which sentences are correct/incorrect.

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. There is a saying in English: There is a difference between a teacher with 20 years of experience and a teacher with 1 year experience 20 times. It means that good teachers should always try and improve their skills. One way of doing this is to set teaching goals each lesson. What were your personal teacher development goals this lesson?
2. How are you trying to improve your teaching at the moment?
3. What are your professional goals at the moment? Classroom management? Staging? Timing? Something else?
4. Your own question(s)._____?

29b What were they doing last week? - The motorbike racer

1 Look at the picture.

- What's he doing?
- Is he having fun?

2 Read the story.

- Who is the happiest?

Mr. Phearith was always driving his motorcycle too fast. Last week after school, Mr. Phearith was driving his motorcycle home. While everyone else was driving slowly, he was speeding through the streets. He wasn't paying attention and was driving too fast when he saw the policeman. While the policeman was directing traffic, he saw Mr. Phearith speeding down the street. He was waving his arms when Mr. Phearith stopped. The police officer fined him ten thousand riel. Mr. Phearith wasn't feeling happy when he arrived home.

(2 mins): Learner Assessment and Lesson Wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Read out some correct and incorrect sentences from activity 6, e.g. "They weren't climbing." "They wasn't climbing."
2. Ask the students to choose the correct sentence.
3. Listen carefully. Do they understand the language?

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Think about your lessons when you first started teaching. All teachers have some horror stories - things didn't go well as planned when they first started teaching. What's your story?
2. Now think about your success stories. Did you notice any change in your teaching style / in your understanding of how students learn a foreign language. Take pride in your progress! You deserve it.
3. Your own question(s)._____?

29c What were they doing last week? - A rainy day

1 Read the story and match the paragraphs to the pictures.

1 Last week after school, it was raining and thundering all day. Votty was playing inside the house. She wanted to be outside. She wasn't playing outside because it was raining. She was feeling tired of being trapped inside the house.

2 Votty was trying to keep busy inside the house. She was reading her book until the electricity went out. Then, she decided to practise her sewing. She was practicing sewing until lunch-time. After lunch, she sat by the window and watched the rain.

3 While Votty was watching the rain, the phone rang. Her mother was calling to say she was coming home. She was bringing a new game. Votty and her mother ate ice cream and played the game. While they were playing, the rain stopped! But Votty didn't even notice. She was having such a good time with her mom!

C

2 Read the story again and answer the questions.

a. Where was Votty playing last week?
She was playing inside the house.
b. Why wasn't she playing outside?
c. What was Votty doing before the electricity went out?
d. What was she doing until lunchtime?
e. At the end of the story, the rain stopped. What was Votty doing?

Negative: She was not coming home.
Question: Was she coming home.

5 (9 mins): Activity 5. Use the board to ask your partner questions

1. Go through the example in the student's book together:
   - What were you doing a few minutes ago?
   - I was listening to the teacher.
2. Make sure everyone understands the task.
3. On the board write:
   - What were you doing …?
   - I was –ing …
4. Ask some questions to the students and encourage them to answer with 'I was –ing …'
5. Ask them to ask you questions.
6. Choose pairs of students to ask and answer questions. Correct errors as you hear them.
7. In pairs – ask students to use the questions and the prompts to ask and answer questions.
8. Monitor carefully and correct any errors you hear.

(2 mins): Learner Assessment and Lesson Wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask students to look at the 'can do' statements.
2. Ask them to tell their partner how they feel about the 'can do' statements.
3. Listen carefully and judge how the class feels about the language.

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

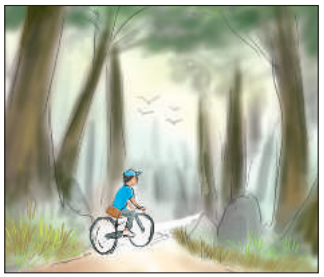
Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Sometimes class should be fun. It is more important that students are having fun than saying things "perfectly". A lot of people think that fun is the most important thing in English class! Were your kids having fun?
2. It is more important that kids feel confident than be perfect! Do you correct kids too much?
3. Do you think the kids in your class feel brave enough to make mistakes?
4. How could you do this lesson better next time?
5. Your own question(s)._____?

Unit 30 - What was happening?

30a What was happening? - A spooky story

1 Look at the pictures and find the words in the box.



mynah bird | bicycle | shadow | road | policeman | grave

2 T.10.30.1 Listen and read the story.

◦ How does Lyvann feel?

It was just before 7 o'clock last Wednesday night. Lyvann was cycling home after visiting his friend. The road was clear and he was riding his bike carefully. Suddenly, out of nowhere, the shadow of a bird flew out in front of him. Lyvann pulled hard on the brake but it was too late. He got off his bicycle but, to his surprise, there was nothing there. While he was searching for the bird, he felt a cold wind on his face and a strange feeling that sent shivers down his spine. He was still looking for the bird when a policeman stopped behind him. The policeman walked up to him and asked him if he needed help, so Lyvann told him what had happened. He didn't seem surprised when Lyvann told him about the bird. Earlier this year a mynah bird had died in these woods. He was buried in a grave near here, said the policeman. You're not the first to have seen his ghost here, he said in a scary voice. Oh no, it's Avorng, Lyvann cried.

3 Look at the examples in the table and read the rules.

	Past Simple	Past Continuous
+	I watched a movie last night.	I was watching a movie last night at 8 pm.
-	I didn't watch a movie last night.	I wasn't watching a movie last night.
?	Did you watch a movie last night?	Were you watching a movie last night?

a. Use the past simple to talk about completed past actions.

Example: I read a book last night.

b. Use the past continuous to talk about actions in progress at a particular time in the past.

Example: At 8 pm yesterday I was watching a film.

Chapter 10, Unit 30, Lesson A

After school: What was happening?: A spooky story

This lesson uses recordings which can be downloaded from the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sport website. (50 mins)

(10 mins): Warmer. Back to the board!

1. Tell all students to stand up.
2. Put class into 4 groups.
3. Tell students to decide on a team name.
4. Write the team names on the board.
5. Have one student from each group go to the board and face the class so they cannot see the board.
6. Write continuous word on the board. (e.g. dancing) . Tell the students facing the rest of the class Guess the word. They have to look at the actions the rest of their group is going to guess! If no one has guessed it after a minute, tell them to look at the board. Change the people at the front of the class after each -ing word.

RULES.

- The people at the board can talk.
- The people trying to act and show the word are not allowed to talk.
- First team to guess gets a point.

7. People who cheat lose a point.
8. Ask instruction checking questions.
9. Say who the winning team is at the end. Everybody clap!

1 (5 mins): Activity 1. Look at the pictures and find the words in the box

1. In pairs – ask the students to match the words in the box to the pictures.
2. Go through the answers as a class.
3. Use the pictures to clarify the vocabulary.
4. Use the pictures and words to work on word pronunciation.

2 (5 mins): Activity 2. Listen and read the story. How does Lyvann feel? (T.10.30.1)

1. On the board write - How does Lyvann feel?
2. Make sure the students understand the question e.g. go through some feelings:
   - Sad, happy, in love, scared etc.
3. Ask them to read the story and answer the question.
4. Go through some of the students' answers together.
5. Ask them to tell you why they chose their answer.

Answer: Scared or frightened is the obvious answer, but students may have different opinions.

Answer: ROS SEREYSOTHEA

(2 mins): Learner Assessment and Lesson Wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Read out some of the sentences from activities 5 and 6.
2. Use correct and incorrect sentences, e.g.
   • He was searching for the bird.
   • He was searched for the bird.
   Ask students if they are correct or incorrect.
3. Listen carefully. Do they understand the language?

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

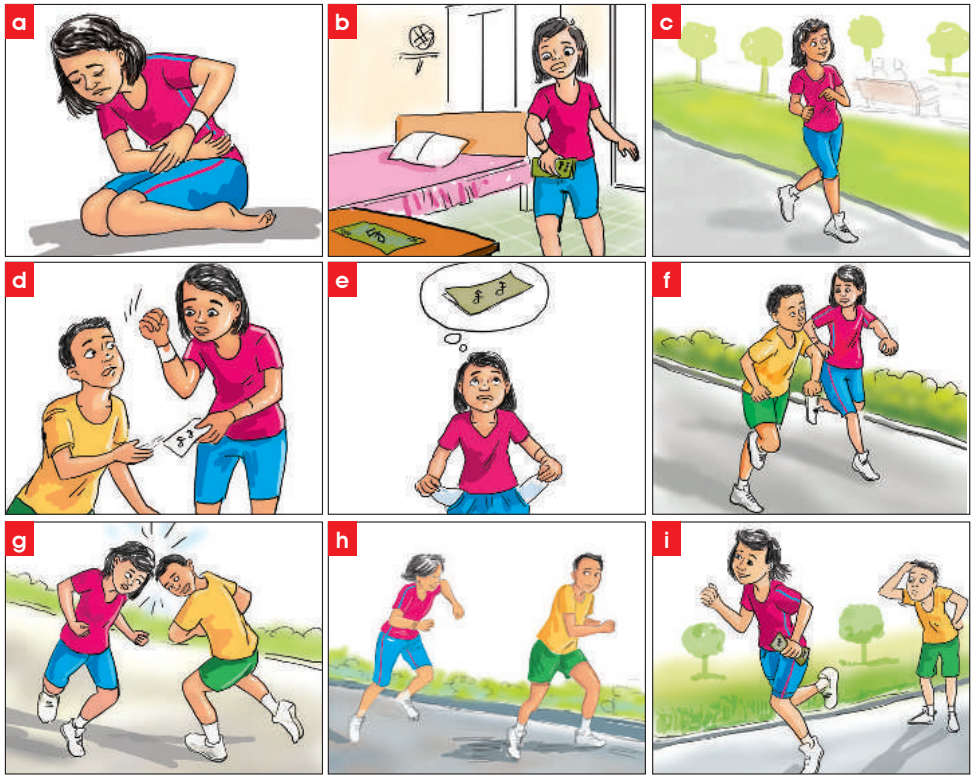
Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Not all activities will work all days! You need to look at your students. If they are bored, play a game! Do you think your activities met the students' energy levels today?
2. Do you do your lesson plan no matter what, or do you change it as you are going when you need to?
3. Your own question(s)._____?

30b What was happening? - Vottey made a mistake

1 Look at the pictures. Put them in order to make a story.



2 Read the story and check your ideas.

After school last week, Vottey was jogging in the park. She was running really fast as usual. A boy was jogging towards Vottey from the other side of the park. He was running faster than Vottey. He bumped into Vottey and knocked her to the ground. Vottey got up slowly and checked her pockets for her money. The money wasn't there.

She sprinted after the boy. She caught him, and shouted angrily, 'give me the money! The boy was very frightened and gave Vottey the money he had in his pocket.

Vottey ran home. She was feeling very happy because she had her money again. When she got home she opened her bedroom door, and on the table next to her bed she saw her money.

(2 mins): Learner Assessment and Lesson Wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask some of the students their answer for activity 5.
2. Ask them to explain how they knew which letter to choose.
3. Listen carefully. Did they know the difference between past simple and past continuous?

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

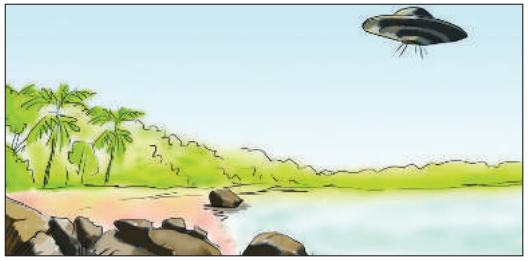
Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Children learn better when they 'see' how things are done. They learn very little if you explain and explain. For children, 'showing' what to do works better than 'explaining'. In today's lesson, did you demonstrate most of the activities, or did you talk through each one?
2. In your next lesson, try to demonstrate more and explain less. Did you notice any difference in students' understanding of each task?
3. Your own question(s)._____?

30c What was happening? - What was that in the sky?

1 Look at the picture. Choose the best title for the story.

a. Pisey's Holiday at the lake.
b. A weird thing in the sky.
c. The beautiful lake.



- Read Pisey's story and check your answer.

Last week after school I was at the lake with Sam, Vottey, and Lyvann. Sam was swimming and I was sleeping. Vottey and Lyvann were buying an ice-cream. Suddenly we heard a very loud noise. We looked up and saw this weird looking object in the sky. It was very long and it was a sort of green color. It was moving very slowly. Sam ran out of the lake. We were looking at the object when it suddenly changed to red. Vottey and Lyvann came and stood next to us. We were all looking at the weird object. The object changed to blue and it started to move very fast. In a few seconds it was invisible. We talked to a lot of people at the lake, but they didn't know what the weird object in the sky was.

2 Read the story again. Number the events in the order they happened.

a. We heard a very loud noise. ____
b. The object changed to blue. ____
c. The object disappeared. ____
d. We saw a weird looking object in the sky. ____
e. Pisey was sunbathing. 1
f. The object changed to red. ____

3 Read the text again. Match the questions to the answers.

1. Where were Pisey and her friends last week?	a. He ran out of the lake.
2. What was Pisey doing?	b. They were looking at the object.
3. Why did they look up?	c. Yes, it changed colors.
4. What did Sam do?	d. She was sleeping.
5. Did the object change colors?	e. No, it was moving very fast.
6. What were they doing when the object changed to red?	f. They were at the lake.
7. Was the object moving slowly when it became invisible?	g. They heard a very loud noise.

   d. She was sleeping.
3. Why did they look up?
   g. They heard a very loud noise.
4. What did Sam do?
   a. He ran out of the lake.
5. Did the object change colors?
   c. Yes, it changed colors.
6. What were they doing when the object changed to red?
   b. They were looking at the object.
7. Was the object moving slowly when it became invisible?
   e. No, it was moving very fast.

4 Use the Past Continuous or Simple Past to complete the sentences.

a. Pisey _____ (have) fun with her friends when a weird object _____ (appear) in the sky.

4 (8 mins): Activity 4. Use the Past Continuous or Simple Past to complete the sentences (T.10.30.5)

1. In pairs – ask the students to complete the sentences using the words in brackets and either the past simple or the past continuous.
2. Ask them to write their answers in their notebooks.
3. Ask them to check their answers with their partner.
4. Ask them to listen and check their answers.

Answer: See (T10.30.5)

TAPESCRIPT 10.30.5

a) Pisey was having fun with her friends when a weird object appeared in the sky.
b) The object became red while the people were watching it.
c) When the UFO disappeared it was flying fast.
d) Nobody could explain it because they were having a very weird experience.

5 (7 mins): Activity 5. Look at the picture and complete the sentences (T.10.30.6)

1. Go through the example in the student's book together:
   • Arunny was whistling.
2. In pairs – ask the students to use the words in brackets to complete the remaining sentences in a similar way.
3. Ask them to listen and check.

Answers: See (T.10.30.6)

TAPESCRIPT 10.30.6

Arunny was whistling. Vottey and Lyvann [1] were looking at a photograph. Pisey [2] wasn't talking to Sam, she [3] was sleeping. Sam [4] was sitting next to Pisey. Sam [5] wasn't drawing on the board.

3. Was Pisey crying?
   No, she wasn't.
4. What was Sam reading?
   He was reading a book.

(2 mins): Learner Assessment and Lesson Wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask students to look at the 'can do' statements.
2. Ask them to tell their partners how they feel about the 'can do' statements.
3. Use this feedback to assess the class's understanding of the language covered in the unit.

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. If instructions are all in English, students have much more time practicing their English. How many of your instructions were in English? Could have done all your instructions in English?
2. How could you do this lesson better next time?
3. Your own question(s)._____?

Chapter 11

Personal experiences

Unit 31 - What have they done?

31a What have they done? - Sam's ocean adventures

1 Find the numbered places in the story on the map.

My mum and dad have owned their sailboat for 10 years. In that time, we have sailed together a lot. We have travelled to lots of different places.

We have sailed on the [1]Pacific Ocean. We have sailed on the [2]North Atlantic Ocean. We have sailed around [3]South America. We have never sailed on the [4]Arctic Ocean. We have never sailed on the [5]Southern Ocean. We have never sailed on [6]the Indian Ocean.

We have travelled to [7]Africa. We have visited [8]Europe. We have travelled to [9]Asia. We have never visited [10]Australia. We have never travelled to [11]Antarctica. We have never visited [12]Canada. We love to sail our boat, and we want to sail around the world someday.

2 T.11.31.1 Listen and read the story.

- Does Sam like sailing on the boat?

3 Read the story again and answer the questions. Write the sentences in your notebook.

a. For how many years have Sam's family owned their sailboat?
- They have owned their boat for 10 years.

b. On which oceans have they sailed?
- They _____ on the Pacific Ocean and the North Atlantic Ocean.

c. On which oceans have they never sailed?
- They _____ sailed on the Arctic Ocean, Southern Ocean or the Indian Ocean.

d. Where have they visited?
- They _____ Africa, Europe and Asia.

e. Where have they never visited?
- They _____ visited Australia, Antarctica, or Canada.

Personal experiences: What have they done?: Sam's ocean adventures

This lesson uses recordings which can be downloaded from the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sport website. (50 mins)

(10 mins): Warmer. Sit down if …

1. Ask everyone to stand up.
2. Ask them to sit down if:
   You haven't used deodorant in a week … two days.
   You have never worn the same socks two days in a row.
   You haven't taken a shower in a week.
   You have ever eaten snails.
   You have never lied to your mother.
   You have a hole in your sock.
   You have never eaten rice.
   You have a false tooth etc.
3. This is just a fun activity so make some examples yourself.
4. If there's time, encourage students to shout out their own instructions.
5. The last students are standing wins the game.

1 (5 mins): Activity 1. Find the numbered places in the story on the map

1. In pairs – ask the students to look at the numbered places in the story e.g. [1]Pacific Ocean.
2. Ask them to find the places on the map.

2 (5 mins): Activity 2. Gist question (T.11.31.1)

1. On the board write – Does Sam like sailing on the boat?
2. Make sure everyone understands the question.
3. Ask them to read and listen to the story and answer the question.
4. Go through some of the students' answers together.
5. Encourage them to tell you why they chose their answers.

Answer: There is no correct answer. Students' opinions may be different.

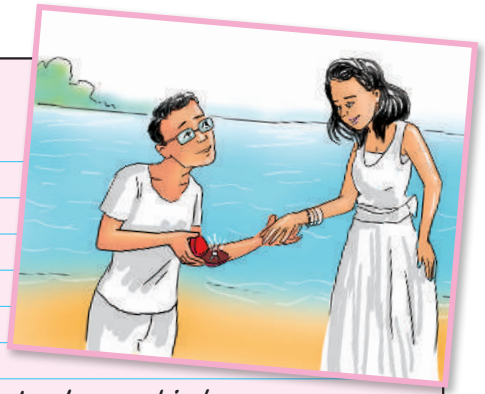
31b What have they done? - My true love

1 Read Miss Mom's letter to her friend Chetra.

◦ How does Miss Mom feel?



My Notebook

Dear Chetra,
I have met the man of my dreams. I think he is really handsome, and I have realized that he likes me too. He has brown eyes and short black hair. He has behaved like my best friend since we first met. We have spent lots of time together. He has been so kind, gentle and understanding. We have been on several trips together. I have not met his parents yet, but I will meet them very soon. I have some great news. He has proposed to me and I said yes. He has bought me a beautiful diamond ring. We have been engaged for two weeks. We have booked the wedding for next month. He has invited his best friends. Can you and Somnoup come to the wedding?
Lots of love Miss Mom xx

2 Read the letter again. Choose the correct word and write the sentences in your notebook.

a. I have / has met the man of my dreams.
b. He have / has behaved like my best friend.
c. We has / have been on several trips together.
d. He has / have proposed to me.

Chapter 11, Unit 31, Lesson B

Personal experiences: What have they done?: My true love

This lesson uses recordings which can be downloaded from the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sport website. (50 mins)

(8 mins): Warmer. Play Numbers and me!

1. Write 3 numbers on the board about you (e.g. 3 – you have 3 sisters, 2- speak 2 languages, 4 – you have 4 children).
2. Tell students about the first number. Ask: What number is this? (3). Yes, that's right. 3. I have 3 sisters.
3. Let students guess what the other numbers are about in pairs / groups.
4. You can tell them what the numbers are, or say it's a secret for now. They can ask you just before the class ends.
5. Put students into groups of 5 /6.
6. Tell students they are going to play the same game in their small groups.
7. Each student writes 5 numbers about him/her.
8. Students take turns to guess what their group mates' numbers are.
9. Students answer with yes, that's right / no, that's not right.

1 (7 mins): Activity 1. Read Miss Mom's letter to her friend Chetra

1. Tell the students they are going to read a letter that Miss Mom has sent to a friend.
2. On the board write – How does Miss Mom feel?
3. Make sure the students understand the question.
4. Ask them to read the letter and answer the question.
5. Ask them to tell their partner their answer.
6. Go through some of the students' answers together.

Answers: There is no correct answer. Students' answers may be different.

2 (8 mins): Activity 2. Choose the correct word and write the sentences in your notebook (T.11.31.3)

1. In pairs – ask the students to read the letter again.
2. Ask them to choose the correct word and write the sentences in their notebooks.
3. Ask them to listen, check their answers, and repeat what they hear.

Answers: See (T.11.31.3)

TAPESCRIPT 11.31.3

3 (12 mins): Activity 3. Unscramble the sentences and write them in your notebook (T.11.31.4)

1. Go through the example in the student's book together:
   • I that have me he too. realized likes I have realized that he likes me too.
2. Make sure the students understand the task.
3. Ask them to unscramble the remaining sentences in a similar way.
4. Ask them to write the sentences in their notebooks.
5. Ask them to listen, check their answers, and repeat what they hear.

Answers: See (T.11.31.4)

TAPESCRIPT 11.31.4

Miss Mom:
a. I have realized that he likes me too.
b. We have spent lots of time together.
c. He has been so kind, gentle and understanding.
d. I have not met his parents.
e. He has bought me a beautiful diamond ring.
f. We have booked the wedding for next month.
g. He has invited his best friends.

4 (13 mins): Activity 4. Ask and answer the questions

1. Go through the example in the student's book together:

Example: Have you ever ridden a horse?
   • Yes, I have.
   • No, I haven't.
2. Make sure everyone understands the task.
3. Ask some of the questions to the students.
4. Ask two students to ask each other questions.
5. In pairs – ask the students to use the pictures and the words in the box to ask each other questions.
6. Monitor carefully and correct any errors you hear.
7. Ask some students to role play the questions and answers for the class.

(2 mins): Learner Assessment and Lesson Wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Let some students who don't usually speak much in class ask you some questions from activity 4.
2. Ask some students some of the questions from the same activity.

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. The lesson had a lot of stages, so you had to keep students (and yourself!) on task. Did you give too much time to the grammar?
2. Kids don't really care about grammar, and knowing the "correct" words for things (ie present perfect) doesn't really help them to learn. Did you spend too much time on this?
3. Your own question(s)._____?

31c What have they done? - My cousin is the superstar

1 T.11.31.5 Listen and read the conversation.

◦ Is Pisey a good dancer?

Sam : Have you ever taken dance classes?
Pisey : Yes, I have. I've taken a lot of dance classes.
Sam : Have you ever danced in Siem Reap?
Pisey : Yes, I have. I've danced in 'The Smile of Angkor'.

(10 mins): Warmer. Play 'Word Association'

1. Show students your pen.
2. Tell them you are thinking of some words about the pen.
3. Ask some students to give you answers. Use questions to help them (e.g. What color is my pen? What shape is it)
4. Write down words as students tell them (e.g. pen – black, long, write, school)
5. Put students into groups of 4.
6. Tell students you are going to say a word. They think of words associated with the word.

Example: Apple – red, fruit, food, eat.
Ball – round, football, basketball, volleyball, white, black, orange, sports, team
School – bags, students, desks, books, teachers, etc ...

7. The group with the most number of words wins.

1 (7 mins): Activity 1. Listen and read the conversation (T.11.31.5)

1. Tell the students they are going to listen to a conversation between Sam and Pisey.
2. On the board write – Is Pisey a good dancer?
3. Make sure everyone understands the question.
4. Ask the students to listen and read the conversation.
5. Ask them to answer the question.
6. Go through some of the student's answers together.
7. Ask them to give reasons for why they chose their answers.

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Skimming is reading quickly to get a general understanding of texts. This skill is very useful for students. Students don't have to understand all the words in a text to understand it. Can your students skim texts well, or do they stop reading when they see new/difficult words?
2. Giving a short time limit when reading helps students with this. How can you help students skim texts better? Think of 2 ways. Then try them out in your next class.
3. Your own question(s)._____?

Unit 32 - What's going on?

32a What's going on? - He's a terrible driver

1 Read Mr. Sovann's story

◦ Is he a good driver?

I have had three car accidents in my life. The most recent accident happened yesterday. A woman crashed into my car in the parking lot of the grocery store. The woman got out of her car and yelled at me. She was very angry. She said, "I'm an excellent driver. I have never had an accident before. This is your fault."

When I got home, my wife was upset. She said, "It cost us $800 to repair the car after your last accident. I'm really worried that you have become a bad driver."

I told her, "It wasn't my fault. The other driver drove through a red light and then she hit me. I have always been a very careful driver. This has been the worst day of my life! I'm going to bed!"

2 Read the story again and complete the sentences. Write the sentences in your notebook.

a. I _____ three accidents in my life.
b. I _____ an accident before.
c. You _____ a bad driver.
d. I _____ a very careful driver.
e. This _____ the worst day of my life!

T.11.32.1 Listen, Check and repeat.

3 Look at the timeline for the present perfect.

I have had three accidents in my life.

Chapter 11, Unit 32, Lesson A

Personal experiences: What's going on?: He's a terrible driver

This lesson uses recordings which can be downloaded from the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sport website. (50 mins)

(7 mins): Warmer. Play 'Change the letters'

1. Write a four letter word on the board (e.g. bend).
2. Tell students that we can make some more words by changing one letter of this word, one at a time (e.g. band, bent, tend, and bind).
3. Ask students if they can make a few words by changing one of the letters, one at a time.
4. Write the words on the board as students call them out.
5. Put students into groups of 4.
6. Tell students you are going to play the same game.
7. Tell students to choose a writer and a speaker in their teams.
8. Write a three /four letter word on the board (e.g. cat, bag, tray, send).
9. The team thinks of words they can make by changing one of the letters, one at a time. The writer writes the words on a piece of paper.
10. Give a time limit of 30 seconds per word.
11. Stop students after 30 seconds. Ask the speakers in each team to read out the words. Give points for each correct word.
12. Continue playing this game with 4-5 words.

1 (5 mins): Activity 1. Read Mr. Sovann's story. Is he a good driver?

1. Tell the students they are going to read a story about Mr. Sovann.
2. On the board write –Is he a good driver?
3. Make sure students understand the question.
4. Ask them to read the story and answer the question.
5. Go through some of the students' answers together.
6. Ask them to tell you why they chose their answer.

Answer: There is no correct answer. Students' answers may be different.

2 (5 mins): Activity 2. Read the story again and complete the sentences (T.11.32.1)

1. In pairs – ask the students to read the story again and complete the sentences.
2. Ask them to write the sentences in their notebooks.
3. Ask them to listen, check their answers, and repeat what they hear.

Answers: See (T.11.32.1)

TAPESCRIPT 11.32.1

a. I have had three accidents in my life.
b. I have never had an accident before.
c. You have become a bad driver.
d. I have always been a very careful driver.
e. This has been the worst day of my life!

3 (5 mins): Activity 3. Look at the timeline for the present perfect

1. Go through the timeline together.
2. Highlight the sentence - I have had three accidents in my life.
3. Explain that this talks about Mr. Sovann's life experience; from when he was born until now.
4. Give some examples of your own:
   - I have worked at _____ schools.
   - I have lived in _____ houses.
   - I have studied at _____ schools etc.

4 Read the story again and complete the sentences. Write the sentences in your notebook.

a. The accident _____ yesterday.

3. I painted a picture.
4. I played a game.
5. I danced with my sweetheart.
6. I shopped for food.

(2 mins): Learner Assessment and Lesson Wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Review some of the sentences as a class.
2. Listen carefully. How are the students using the language?

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

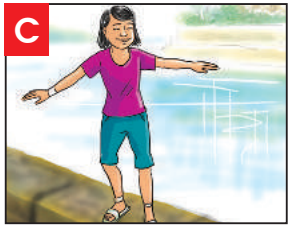
Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Working in groups has a lot of benefits. It's a good way to get students to talk more. It encourages sharing of ideas and listening to each other. However, grouping students can be difficult. Some students want to work with their friends only. How did you group students in today's lesson? Was it effective?
2. If students refuse to work with others, what do you do? How can you encourage students to work with anyone in the class? One way to do this is to group them in random (e.g. draw lots). Any ideas?
3. Your own question(s)._____?

32b What's going on? - Getting to know Vottey

1 Look at the pictures.

- Who's in the pictures?
- What are they doing?
- Where are they?



2 T.11.32.3 Listen and read the conversation between Sam and Vottey.

- Are they friends?

Sam : How long have you lived in Siem Reap, Vottey?
Vottey : I have lived in Siem Reap Province for five years, but before that I lived in Phnom Penh.
Sam : How long have you known Pisey?
Vottey : We have been friends for a long time. We joined school together.
Sam : How long have you been a Preap Sovath fan?
Vottey : Since I was seven. I have listened to all of his albums. I saw him in concert last week.
Sam : How long have you been an athlete?
Vottey : I have been an athlete for six years. I started when I was eight.

Chapter 11, Unit 33, Lesson A

Personal experiences: In the past: A Saturday night out

This lesson uses recordings which can be downloaded from the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sport website. (50 mins)

(7 mins): Warmer. Play 'Back writing'

1. Put students into groups of 3-4.
2. Students in each group take it in turns to write words on each other's back, using their point fingers.
3. The student then guesses the word.
4. If the student guesses the word correctly, it's now his/her turn to write on another student's back.
5. Tell students to open their books. They choose words learnt in previous units for this activity.

TIP: Some students might not feel comfortable with the idea of touching each other's back, so separate boys and girls groups might work better for this activity.

1 (5 mins): Activity 1. Look at the picture of Uncle Panha and Aunt Sokna

1. In pairs – ask the students to look at the picture of Uncle Panha and Aunt Sokna.
2. Ask them to tell their partner the answer to the questions:
   - Where are they?
   - What are they doing?
3. Go through some of the students' answers together.

Answer: They're at the cinema watching a movie.

2 (6 mins): Activity 2. Read the story about Uncle Panha and Aunt Sokna

1. Tell the students they are going to read about Uncle Panha and Aunt Sokna's night out.
2. On the board - What did they enjoy the most?
3. Make sure everyone understands the question.
4. Ask them to read the story and answer the question.
5. Go through some of the students' answers together.

Answer: There is no correct answer. The student's answers may be different.

3 (10mins): Activity 3. Unscramble the sentences and write them in your notebook (T.11.33.1)

1. In pairs – ask the students to unscramble the sentences and write them in their notebooks.
2. Ask them to listen, check their answers, and repeat what they hear.

Answers: See (T.11.33.1)

(2 mins): Learner Assessment and Lesson Wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Read out some of the sentences from the lesson, e.g.
   • Aunt Sokna goes to the cinema.
   • Aunt Sokna went to the cinema.
2. Ask the students to tell you which sentences are correct /incorrect.

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Encouraging students to guess the meaning of new words gives them ownership of the language and they will remember the words better. Did you provide enough opportunities for students to guess what the new vocabulary might be?
2. If you feel that new words are familiar, international or similar to Khmer, and that students are likely to know them, make them guess! What do you tell your students if they don't guess right? Do they really have to 'guess right'?
3. Your own question(s)._____?

Chapter 11, Unit 33, Lesson B

Personal experiences: In the past: An old soldier's story

This lesson uses recordings which can be downloaded from the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sport website. (50 mins)

(10 mins): Warmer. Play 'Tell me the truth!'

1. Write one sentence on the board that is true about you (e.g. I like going for a walk).
2. Students guess if this is true or not true. Ask questions (e.g. Is this right? Do I like going for a walk?).
3. Write another sentence that is not true about you (e.g. I have 10 sisters and 5 brothers).
4. Students guess if this is true or not true. Ask questions (e.g. Is this right? Do I have 10 sisters and 5 brothers?)
5. Tell students they are going to play the same game.
6. Put students into groups of 4.
7. Each group writes 3 sentences about students from the other teams. They cannot write about their group mates.
8. Students in each group take it in turns to read their sentences, one at a time.
9. The student being referred to say Yes, that's right or No, that's not right.
   e.g. Team A: Sophea can ride a horse. Sophea (from team B): Yes, that's right.
10. Tell students that the game is about telling the truth. They should tell the truth and be honest to make the game work.
11. Give points for groups that wrote correct sentences about their classmates.
12. The group with the most number of points wins.

1 (5 mins): Activity 1. Look at the picture

1. In pairs – ask the students to look at the picture and tell their partner what they see.
2. Ask them to answer the questions: Who is it? What's he doing? What's his job?
3. Go through the answers together.

Answers: It's Uncle Panha. He's driving a tank. He's a soldier.

2 (8 mins): Activity 2. Listen to the story and complete the text (T.11.33.4)

1. Tell the students they are going to listen to Uncle Panha talking about his life experiences.
2. Ask them to listen and use the words in the box to complete the text.
3. Ask them to write the answers in their notebooks.
4. Ask them to check their answers with their partner.
5. Go through the answers together.

Answers: See (T.11.33.4)

TAPESCRIPT 11.33.4

Uncle Panha:
I think I [1]have had a very interesting life. I'm 52 now and I don't work anymore. I was in the army for 30 years. I have been retired for two years. 4 (8 mins): Activity 4. Choose the correct word and write the sentences in your notebook (T.11.33.4)

1. Ask the students to listen again and choose the correct word in the sentences.
2. Ask them to write the sentences in their notebooks.
3. Go through the answers together.

Answers:

a. I think I have had a very interesting life.
b. I've been married to Sokna for 20 years.
c. I've met the Prime Minister.
d. I've also met a lot of famous people.
e. I've seen a lot of wonderful things.
f. I've eaten kangaroo steaks in Australia.

5 (10 mins): Activity 5. Ask and answer questions with your partner

1. Go through the examples in the student's book together:

Examples:

A: Have you ever swum with dolphins?
B: Yes, I have.
A: Where?
B: Thailand.
A: Have you ever swum with dolphins?
B: No, I haven't.

2. Make sure everyone understands the task.
3. In pairs – ask the students to use the pictures and the examples to ask and answer questions.
4. When finished – go through questions and answers together:
   - Have you ever visited the Pyramids?
   - Have you ever seen a ghost?
   - Have you ever sailed the Atlantic Ocean?
   - Have you ever taken a photograph of a whale?
   - Have you ever chased a tornado?
   - Have you ever surfed a wave in Hawaii?
   - Have you ever sung at the Sydney Opera House?
5. Encourage the students to correct any errors they hear.
6. Ask them to create some questions of their own to ask their partner.
7. Go through some of these questions together. Ask pairs of students to act out their new questions and answers to the class.

(2 mins): Learner Assessment and Lesson Wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Allow students to ask you some questions from activity 5.
2. Encourage them to ask other students in the class whom they don't speak with usually some of the questions.
3. Listen carefully and assess the students' understanding of the language.

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Competition can be motivating and fun, but some students might become over competitive and others might be disappointed when they lose. How is competition in your class – is it friendly or harmful?
2. Smile often. This is one good way to promote friendly competition. Smiling shows that it is just a game. When students see you relaxed, they are more likely to enjoy the activities. Also, keep the winning and the losing as light-hearted as possible. Try these out in your next lesson, and you're likely to have fun, too!
3. Can you think of 2 more ways to promote healthy and friendly competition in class? Make sure you try them out in your next lessons.
4. Your own question(s)._____?

33c In the past - Delivering the wedding glasses

1 Read the story.

◦ Was the cart heavy?

1 Yesterday, Sam and Pisey were delivering a box to Mr. Phearith. The crate was full of glasses for the wedding. They were carrying the box on a cart. They were taking the glasses to Mr. Phearith's house.

B

2 As they were passing by the school, they saw Vottey and Lyvann. Vottey and Lyvann were playing soccer. Sam and Pisey asked them for help.

3 They all pushed the cart down the street. While Sam and Pisey were pulling from the front, Vottey and Lyvann were pushing from behind. As they were walking, Sam and Pisey were guiding the cart over bumps and holes.

D

4 When they arrived at Mr. Phearith's house, he was waiting for them. While Mr. Phearith was unloading the glasses, he thanked them all for their hard work. None of the glasses were broken! They were all feeling very proud of their hard work.

2 Read the story again. Match the paragraphs to the pictures.

3 (7 mins): Activity 3. Read the story again and correct the mistakes (T.11.33.5)

1. Explain that all of the sentences have one mistake.
2. Ask the students to read the story again and correct the mistakes.
3. Ask them to write the sentences in their notebooks.
4. Ask them to listen, check their answers, and repeat what they hear.

Answers: See (T.11.33.5)

TAPESCRIPT 11.33.5

a. They were carrying the box on a cart.
b. Vottey and Lyvann were playing soccer.
c. Vottey and Lyvann were pushing from behind.
d. He was waiting for them.
e. Mr. Phearith was unloading the glasses.

4 (8 mins): Activity 4. Unscramble the sentences and write them in your notebook (T.11.33.6)

1. Explain that all of the sentences are scrambled.
2. Ask the students to read the story again and unscramble the sentences.
3. Ask them to write the sentences in their notebooks.
4. Ask them to listen, check their answers, and repeat what they hear.

Answers: See (T.11.33.6)

5 (10 mins): Activity 5. What were they doing yesterday?

1. Explain that the picture shows what was happening yesterday.
2. Go through the examples in the student's book together:

Examples:
He / she / it was … ing
He was reading.
They were … ing
They were flying.

3. Ask them to find the man reading in the picture and the birds flying in the picture.
4. Ask them to look at the picture and describe what was happening yesterday.
5. Choose a student to practise with and tell them some of the things you can see.
6. Ask the students to tell you some of the things they can see.
7. Correct any errors you hear.
8. In pairs – ask the students to look at the picture and use the form of the examples to tell their partners what was happening yesterday.
9. Monitor carefully and correct any errors you hear.

(2 mins): Learner Assessment and Lesson Wrap up

Assessing the success of the lesson. Not testing all the students!

1. Ask students to look at the 'can do' statements.
2. Ask them to share with their partner how they feel about the statements.
3. Ask some of the students to tell you how they feel. Use this to assess their understanding.

After the lesson: Thinking about the lesson (Reflection)

Reflection is important and all good teachers do it. It doesn't matter if everything went wrong. What's important is to learn from it! Remember, no lesson is ever "perfect"!

Think about the answers to these questions. You don't have to tell anyone the answers!

1. Getting students to tell you about the topic is a good teaching strategy. It maximises students' talk time and makes them confident. It also helps them use what they already know to help them learn more. This means they remember the lessons better. Do you get the students to tell you about the lesson or do you explain everything yourself? How can you make students more active in your classes? Think of 2 ways. Try them out in your next classes.
2. How do you encourage students to share their ideas with the class? Giving them positive comments such as 'great idea' and 'thank you' is one. Also giving students time to think and not criticising wrong answers helps. Any more ideas?
3. Your own question(s)._____?
